PREFATORY NOTICE.

The memorable year 1897 has, contrary to general expectation, not been marked by many new creations in the Peerage and Baronetage: the list, however, of those upon whom the Queen has conferred peerages contains names which cannot be passed without more than usual interest being awakened.

In addition to the Earldom granted to Lord Egerton of Tatton, the Viscounty to Lord Esher, and the peerages of the United Kingdom to the Earl of Glasgow and Viscount Downe, a new peerage has been conferred on Lord Burton, which, failing heirs male of his body, will descend to his only daughter.

The other Peerage creations are six in number, Holmpatrick, Inverclyde, Kinnear, Lister, Ludlow, and Strathcona and Mount Royal.

The Bishopric of Bristol has again become a separate See from that of Gloucester and thus involves an addition to the Roll of Lords.

Twenty-one baronetcies have been created: Baird, Gamble, Gilmour, Lees, MacCormac, Maple, Musgrave, Nanney, Paget, Peel, Pender, Faudel-Phillips, Powell, Quilter, Reid, Ripley, Smith, Wilks, Wills, Wilson, and Wood.

The following peers have died since the last edition of this work:—Plunket, Darnley, Normanton, Sligo, Kinnoull, Dartrey, Hardwicke, Monk Bretton, Sefton, Roden, Hindlip, Camoys, Revelstoke, Conyngham, Egmont, Northampton, Huntingfield, Rosmead, *Berwick, *Dorchester (extinct), and the Bishops of St. David's and Wakefield.

The list of deceased baronets is somewhat long:—Edwards, Davis (extinct), Milne, Halford (extinct), Preston, Grove, Leighton, Wells, Goring, Fowke, Clarke, Lawrence (extinct), Sebright, Dick-Cunyngham, Gooch, Pechell, Lake, Pringle, Holden, Morgan (extinct), Millais, Worsley, Lushington, Mordaunt, Orde, *Baynes, *Heywood, *Ramsay-Gibson-Maitland, *Cuninghame, Smythe, and *Tyler.

It is authoritatively stated that the children of Lords of Appeal in Ordinary are to have rank immediately after the children of other peers, but inasmuch as no warrant for the purpose has yet been issued, it is impossible to define the relative precedence of the former.

Much has been done this year to revise and add to the lineages contained in "BURKE'S PEERAGE."

My acknowledgments are gratefully offered to Sir Albert W. Woods, K.C.B., Garter King of Arms, for the assistance he has always so kindly rendered.

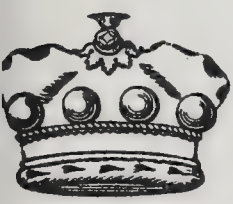
INTRODUCTION.

IE PEERAGE consists of DUKES, MARQUESSES, EARLS, VISCOUNTS, and BARONS. The first der of Nobility introduced after the Norman Conquest was that of

Baron by Tenure,



A dignity attached to the possession of certain lands held according to the Feudal system, directly under the Crown, and conditionally upon the performance of some honorary services to the Sovereign; such as attendance in the field and the council, and furnishing a stipulated quota of knights, or men-at-arms. This quota was regulated by the territorial possessions of the Baron, those possessions being divided into allotments, for each of which was required to provide a knight, armed cap-à-pie, whenever the sovereign commanded s presence in the field: hence, according to the number of Knights the Feudal Lord ovided, he was said to possess so many knights' fees. But in the reign of King JOHN, alteration of great importance took place in the rights of the Barons and Tenants in pite, for only the principal Barons, or Barones Majores, were summoned to attend rliament by particular writs from the King; and the rest, who acquired the appellation Barones Minores, were called by one general summons from the Sheriffs of their respective unties; and in the following reign, a new law is said to have been made, by which was established that no person, though possessed of a Barony, should come to parliament thout being expressly summoned by the King's writ. Barony by tenure has ceased for es. Of late years claims have been made to dignities by right of tenure; but none these claims have proved successful. There is, however, one Earldom extant—that Arundel, which the Duke of Norfolk enjoys by the feudal tenure of Arundel Castle; it this honour endures by special act of parliament passed in the 3rd year of KING HARLES I. To Barons by tenure succeeded r persons elevated to the rank of nobility by being summoned to attend the Sovereign in uncil, or parliament; which writs were of that description called brevia clausa, from ing closed with wax, and impressed with the Great Seal of England. The first of these mmonses on record appears to have been tested on the 24th of December, in the 49th ar of HENRY III.; but from that period no similar writ seems to have issued until the nd year of EDWARD I., when about sixty persons were summoned to attend the King vheresoever he might be, to advise on the affairs of the kingdom"; but it has been estioned whether that summons constituted a Peer of Parliament.

To establish an hereditary Barony by Writ, it was requisite, according to some, says Si William Blackstone, that two writs of summons should have issued, and a sitting in tw parliaments have taken place; but this is a misapprehension; for in the case of the Baron of Clifton there was but one writ and one sitting and that Barony was allowed. Baronie by Writ are heritable by heirs male or female; but in the event of the decease of th Baron without issue male, and with more daughters than one, the Barony falls into abey ance amongst them, and so continues until one of the daughters, or the sole heir of one o the daughters, only survives. The Crown can, however, at any time interfere, and terminat the abeyance in favour of any one of the co-heirs, but it cannot alienate the Barony fro the representatives of the first Baron. The mode of terminating an abeyance in favour o a co-heir is, by summoning the individual by the title of the Barony which had been i abeyance. The course observed towards a Peer of a higher dignity is the issue of Letter Patent by the Crown in confirmation of the Barony; and a similar course, that of Letter Patent, is adopted towards heiresses.

The mode of creating peers by Writ of Summons has been, however, a long time discon tinued, and the only writs now issued are those to the eldest sons of Dukes, Marquesses and Earls,* in their fathers' Baronies; but any such writ does not create a new Barony, th honour being still descendible according to the original limitation. If, however, a writ o summons issue to the eldest son of a Peer, as a Baron, under a misapprehension that th barony was vested in his father, then the writ is deemed a new creation, and the dig nity is heritable as a Barony by Writ. This was established in 1736, by the decisio regarding the Barony of Strange, in which James Stanley had been summoned in 1628 under the supposition that the barony had belonged to his father, William, 6th Earl o Derby; and again, in the similar case of the Barony of Clifford. The first writ to an elde son is stated to have issued in the 22nd year of KING EDWARD IV., when Thomas FitzAla was summoned to parliament (in his father, the Earl Arundel's barony) as Baron Ma travers. As Barons by Tenure gave place to Barons by Writ, so the latter have bee succeeded by Barons by Letters Patent.

The first instance of this new form of creation occurred in the reign of RICHARD II when John Beauchamp, of Holt, was elevated to the peerage as Baron Beauchamp o Kidderminster, by letters patent, dated the 10th of October, 1387. Lord Beauchamp neve took his seat, however, in parliament, as he died in the same year, and was succeeded b his son, with whom the dignity expired in 1420. In olden time it was deemed necessar to invest with robes the newly created Baron in open Parliament; and so lately as th beginning of the 17th century, King JAMES I., in person solemnly inducted the Barons create by patent in the 13th year of his reign, by enrobing each peer in scarlet, with a hood furre with miniver; but in the same year it was determined to discontinue those ceremonies i future, the legal advisers of the Crown having declared that the delivery of the Letters Patent constituted a sufficient creation. In the Patents of more modern times the ceremon of public investiture is expressly dispensed with.

Coronet of a Baron—On a plain circle of gold, six silver balls: cap of crimson velvet, turned u ermine, thereon a golden tassel.

Viscount.

The next grade in the British Peerage is that of Vice-Comes, or VISCOUNT, which title formerly applied to the sheriff of a county, but was not used as a designation of nobility before the reign of HENRY VI., when that monarch created John, Baron Beaumont, K.G., by letters-patent dated 12 February, 1440, Viscount Beaumont, a dignity which expired with his lordship's son and successor in 1507. A Viscounty is always created by patent, and it descends according to the specified limitation. The honour was originally conferred as an advance ment to Barons, but afterwards created frequently with the Barony; and in modern time it has been conferred without a Barony, as in the instances of Viscount Combermere, Vis count Sidmouth, Viscount Halifax, Viscount Cross, &c.

* There is an instance, in the reign of KING CHARLES I., of the son and heir of a baron who possesse two baronies having been summoned to parliament in one of them. The Hon. Conyers Darcy, son c Conyers, Baron of Darcy and Conyers (who was subsequently created Earl of Holderness) was summone to parliament in his father's barony of Conyers in 1680.

The style of a Viscount is "Right Honourable," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and well-beloved Cousin."

Coronet—On a circle of gold, chased as jewelled, a row of twelve silver balls; cap of crimson velvet, turned up ermine; thereon a golden tassel.

Earl.*

The dignity of Earl, which existed in England before the Conquest, was, according to Mr. Cruise, originally annexed to a particular tract of land; and there were three descriptions of Earldoms:

"The first was where the dignity was annexed to the seisin and possession of an entire county, with jura regalia; in which case the county became Palatine, and the person created Earl thereof acquired regal jurisdiction and royal seigniory. By reason of the royal jurisdiction, the Earl Palatine had all the high courts and offices of justice which the King had, with a civil and criminal jurisdiction; and by reason of his royal seigniory he had all the royal services and all the royal estreats which the King had; so that, in fact, a County Palatine was in every respect a Feudal Kingdom of itself, but held of a superior lord." †

The second description of Earldom was that which took its title only from a county, but had no territorial possession annexed to it within the county, nor any of the privileges of an Earl Palatine, and which derived its revenue from a participation in the profits accruing from the pleas of the county court.

The third kind of Earldom was constituted by the Crown's granting a considerable tract of land, to be held "per servitium unius comitatus."

For several centuries, Earldoms have been created by Letters Patent, and the descent of the honour regulated accordingly. The ancient ceremony of investiture, as in other dignities, has been discontinued; and, in consequence of the number of earls, the custom of adopting the title from some county or town has been extended to villages, private estates, and family surnames.

The style of an Earl is, "Right Honourable," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin."‡

He bears also, upon some occasions, the title of "Most Noble and Puissant Prince."

Coronet—A circle of gold chased as jewelled, upon which rise eight pyramidical points, gold; each point bearing a large silver ball, and between each point, close to the coronet's rim, a strawberry-leaf, also gold: cap of crimson-velvet, turned up ermine, thereon a golden tassel.

Marquess.

A Marquess (Marchio) is the next degree of nobility. "His office (says Sir William Blackstone) formerly was (for dignity and duty were never separated by our ancestors) to guard the frontiers and limits of the kingdom, which were called the marches, from the Teutonic word 'marche,' a limit; as in particular were the marches of Wales and Scotland, while each continued to be an enemy's country. The persons who had command there were called Lords Marches, or Marquesses, whose authority was abolished by statute 27th HENRY VIII., though the title had long before been made a mere ensign of honour."

The first English Marquessate was conferred by King RICHARD II., in 1386, upon Robert de Vere, who was created Marquess of Dublin, and in the next year, Duke of Ireland. His Grace was, however, banished and attainted in 1388, when his honours became forfeited. The second creation of the same dignity occurs in the same reign, when John Beaufort, Earl of Somerset (eldest legitimated natural son of John of Gaunt), was created, 29th September, 1397, Marquess of Dorset. From that period the dignity of Marquess appears to have remained unused until the reign of EDWARD VI., but thenceforward it became a regular and common grade of nobility.

* Spelman was of opinion that the title of Earl was derived from the Germans; and having been adopted from them by the French, was rendered feudal and hereditary by Hugh Capet.

‡ This mode of address is as ancient as HENRY IV., by whom it was first adopted. That Prince, being either by his wife, his mother, or his sisters, actually related or allied to every Earl in the kingdom, artfully and constantly acknowledged that connexion in all his letters and other public acts; whence the usage has descended to his successors, though the reason has long ago failed.—Blackstone.

The style of a Marquess is "Most Honourable," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and entirely beloved Cousin."

He bears also the title, upon some occasions, of "Most Noble and Puissant Prince."

Coronet—On a circle of gold, chased as jewelled, four strawberry leaves and four silver balls, alternately: a cap of crimson velvet, turned up ermine, thereon a golden tassel.

Duke.

The Dukedom, the most elevated dignity in the English Peerage, was first introduced by King EDWARD III., who, in 1337, created his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince (then Earl of Chester) Duke of Cornwall, and subsequently Prince of Wales, when the Dukedom merged in the Principality, and has ever since been vested in the heir apparent to the crown, who, at his birth becomes Duke of Cornwall. The second Dukedom was conferred on the 6th March, 1351, upon Henry Plantagenet (son and heir of the Earl of Derby) under the title of Duke of Lancaster, which dignity expired at his Grace's decease, 1360, without male issue, but was re-conferred, in 1362, upon John of Gaunt, who had married the Duke's second daughter, and eventually sole heiress, the Lady Blanche Plantagenet. In the reign of ELIZABETH, anno 1572, the whole Order, with the exceptions of Norfolk and Somerset then under attainder, became utterly extinct, but it was revived about fifty years afterwards by her successor, in the person of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham.

A Duke is styled "His Grace," and the "Most Noble," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and right entirely beloved Cousin."*

A Duke is likewise entitled, upon some occasions, "Most High, Potent, and Noble Prince."

Archbishops.

ARCHBISHOPS have the Ducal title of "Grace," and take precedence of all Dukes next to those of the Blood Royal. The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks as first lord, and the Archbishop of York as third, coming immediately after the Lord Chancellor. The Archbishop of Canterbury styles himself, "by Divine providence," while the Archbishop of York and the Bishops adopt the term "permission" instead of "providence."

Bishops.

By an act of parliament passed in the thirty-first year of HENRY VIII., it was settled that Bishops take precedence of all Barons, and immediately after Viscounts; the Bishops of London, Durham, and Winchester, preceding their Right Reverend brethren.

Bishops are styled "Lords," and "Right Reverend Fathers in God."

Note.—In the time of the Saxons, the Bishops, Abbots, and other ecclesiastical persons, held their lands free from all secular services, except the trinoda necessitas,—namely, expeditio, pontium et arcuum exiruc et refectio. But soon after the establishment of the Normans, they were charged with the same obligation of military service as laymen. In consequence of this change, the Bishops became tenants in capite by baroniam, and were, of course, bound to attend the curia regis, which at that time was considered as a burthensome office. It is therefore probable that the Bishops did not willingly acquiesce in this alteration and when the immunities of the church were so much restrained by the Constitutions of Clarendon, 10th HENRY II., it was expressly declared, that the Archbishops and Bishops should hold their lands by Baronies, and attend the King's court.

The Bishops were always exempt from doing homage for their Baronies, but were bound to take the oath of fealty.

The great Abbots were also bound to attend parliament, if summoned, when they held their land by baroniam.—CRUISE On Dignities.

See now, as to Bishops sitting in Parliament, the 10 and 11 Vic. cap. 108, a statute passed 23 June 1847.

* When a nobleman is of the Privy Council, the word Councillor is placed before his name, for instance "Our right trusty and right entirely beloved Cousin and Councillor Algernon-George Duke of Northumberland."

PEERS OF SCOTLAND.

The word Peerage cannot be very properly applied to Scottish dignities until late in the 16th century.

The Scottish Earl sprung out of the Celtic Mormaer, or Great Steward. Seven Earls are enumerated by their names, not titles, in the foundation charter of Scone in 1114; and during the 12th century there existed a body called the Seven Earls, with whose sanction the King acted. They gradually passed from the position of "comites" of the Sovereign to that of Feudal Lords, holding the lands with which their connexion had at first been judicial as an Earldom of the Crown. The creation of additional Earldoms formed part of the feudalizing system; and though the Earldoms continued to be spoken of as seven, the Earldoms enumerated were not always the same. The coronation of Alexander II. (1214) is the latest date at which the Earls are specified as seven in number; and their functions afterwards merged in those of the "Communitas."

Earldoms continued territorial much longer in Scotland than in England. From the beginning of the feudal period, nearly to the 17th century the title was usually conferred by the erection of certain lands into an Earldom, the charter but rarely making specific mention of the dignity of Earl. In 1578 the practice first became general of introducing the title of Earl into the charter, and from that date till 1600 half the charters of Earldom in the Register of the Great Seal—they are eighteen in all—make special mention of it. Patents of the dignity of Earl after the English fashion were first introduced in 1600, the oldest being that of the Earl of Winton. The older Earldoms, like lands and other heritable subjects, passed to heirs of line; and in the case of co-heirs the lands were divided and the dignity with the chief messuage went to the eldest co-heir. The husband of a Countess was often, though not always, designed by the courtesy title of Earl.

The title of a Lord of Parliament (as distinct from a minor baron) originated in the reign of James I. The Scottish Parliament was an assemblage in one chamber of the three orders of the "Communitas," Prelates, Barons, and Burgesses. The Earls belonged to the order of Barons. All Barons in the old sense, i.e., landholders holding their lands with baronial jurisdiction, had the right, or rather were under the obligation, of attending the meetings of the Estates. To the less considerable landholders this was a grievous burden, and not always strictly enforced. By a statute of 1428 the "small Barons" were excused from attending Parliament, and an attempt was made to introduce a system of representation, which proved ineffectual. About the same period began the practice of conferring the dignity of a Lord of Parliament on the more considerable Barons, a novelty brought by James I. from England.

The title of Duke was first bestowed in 1398 on the eldest son of Robert III., who was made Duke of Rothesay, and the King's brother, Robert, Earl of Fife, who was made Duke of Albany. The latter title was an empty honour unconnected with lands. Down to a late date the title of Duke was almost exclusively bestowed on near relations of the royal house.

The first Marquessate was that of Ormond, bestowed on James, Duke of Ross, second son of James III., at his christening; and the only other instances of this title before the Union of the Crowns were the Marquessates of Hamilton and Huntly. Afterwards the dignity became more frequent, and was sometimes conferred along with a Dukedom.

A Scottish Peerage could, down to the Union, be resigned into the hands of the King to be re-granted to a new series of heirs, a transaction to which the heir alioqui successurus had no right to object, and which was completed by a Crown charter of resignation.

Precedency in right of priority of creation was little thought of till far on in the 16th century. That the great Earls of Douglas, Crauford, and afterwards of Angus would take rank after Earls of older creation would have been unintelligible in the 15th century. As late as 1592 and 1604 the Earl of Angus protested for precedence before not only Earls but Dukes. After the English idea of precedency according to date of creation began to obtain, the disputes to which it gave rise led to the appointment of a Commission in 1606 to rank the nobility of Scotland; and the decreet then pronounced, with such changes as were introduced by authority of the Court of Session, was the basis of the precedence on the Union Roll.

The creation of Scottish Peers ceased at the Union of 1707. The Act of Union gave to all Peers of Scotland the privileges of Peers of England, except the right to sit in Parliament and on the trial of Peers. The Scottish Peers are represented in Parliament by sixteen of their number elected by themselves. A Scottish Peer who is not one of the sixteen is debarred from sitting in the House of Commons. A large number of Peers of Scotland have since the Union been made Peers of Great Britain, or of the United Kingdom.

PRIVILEGES OF THE PEERAGE.

Peers and Peeresses are free from all arrest in civil actions, and in such cannot b outlawed, nor can any attachment lie against their person.

Peers are exempt from serving on juries, from attending courts-leet, or sheriff's turns or, in case of riot, the posse-comitatus.

They are to be tried, in cases of treason and felony, by their Peers.

A Peer gives his judgment not on oath but on honour; but when examined as a witness, he must be sworn.

Peers are tried in courts arranged specifically for the purpose, usually in the centre o Westminster Hall, at the expense of the crown, which courts are removed as soon as the investigation terminates.

"The honour of Peers," says Sir William Blackstone (1. Comm. 402), "is so highly tended by the law, that it is much more penal to spread false reports of them, and certain other great officers of the realm, than of other men; scandal against them being called by the peculiar name of scandalum magnatum, and subject to peculiar punishments by divers ancient statutes." This proceeding, however, by writ of scandalum magnatum, which is of a civil as well as of a criminal nature, is now almost obsolete, the ordinary modes of obtaining legal redress being generally preferred. Indeed, in a criminal prosecution for scandalum magnatum the defendant would, no doubt, now be allowed the privileges and be subject only to the punishments enacted by the modern Libel Act, the 6 & 7 Vict. cap. 96. It has been held that words are actionable in the case of a peer which are not so in that of a common person: as to say of a peer: "He is an unworthy man, and acts against law and reason." Lord Townshend v. Dr. Hughes, 2 Modern Reports, 150.

Peers have the privilege of sitting covered in courts of justice during their proceedings.

The Barons of Kingsale enjoy the hereditary privilege of being covered in the royal presence, after having made their obeisance.

Peers have the privilege in parliament of wearing parliamentary robes of scarlet cloth, differenced from each other by bars of ermine, Dukes having four, Marquesses four on the right side and three on the left, Earls three, and Viscounts and Barons two rows of plain white fur only. By the curialitas regni, the eldest son in each degree of created dignity is as of the degree next to his father; and such eldest sons of Peers of the rank of Earl, Marquess, and Duke as enjoy a plurality of titles, take and use the secondary one by courtesy.

All Peers carry Supporters to their arms, as incidental to their hereditary dignity, and otherwise adorn them exteriorly with their respective coronets and mantles. Selden states that a coronet is first mentioned in the investiture of Earls in the time of Edward VI.; but that they were much more ancient appears from the will of Richard, Earl of Arundel, dated 5 December, 1375, in which he bequeathes his three coronets to his son and his two eldest daughters, a circumstance which proves that coronets were carried as ensigns of high nobility in the fourteenth century, but not according to any rule or restriction as to their descent.

Note.—Some peers of Ireland, created since the Union, and in no wise connected with Ireland, took their titles from places in England; but by a sort of fiction, the name of an English county is never introduced into the patent. Lord Rendlesham is of Rendlesham, without any county. Lord Macdonald is of Slate, in the county of Antrim, whereas Slate is in the Hebrides. Lord Newborough is of Ireland.

THE BARONETAGE.

The hereditary Order of Baronets was erected by patent in England by King James I. in 1611, extended to Ireland by the same Monarch in 1619, and first conferred in Scotland by King Charles I. in 1625.

At the institution many of the chief estated gentlemen of the kingdom were selected for the dignity. The first batch of Baronets comprised some of the principal landed proprietors, among the best descended gentlemen of the kingdom; and the list was headed by a name illustrious more than any other for the intellectual pre-eminence with which it is associated—the name of Bacon. To this first batch Lancashire contributed Molyneux, Hoghton, and Gerard; Sussex, Pelham and Shelley; Suffolk, Tollemache; Leicestershire, Shirley; Nottinghamshire, Clifton; Staffordshire, Aston; Norfolk, Hobart and Knyvett; Glamorganshire, Mansel and Stradling; Wiltshire, St. John; Cheshire, Booth; Cambridgeshire, Peyton; and Derbyshire, Leke. All these were the representatives of territorial families, which had their rise, most of them, at the Conquest, and one or two even in Saxon times.

The Order of Baronets is scarcely estimated at its proper value. A glance over the names which fill the roll of Baronet-creations will convince anyone of the distinction and nobility of the institution. For some time, the possession of territorial influence was the main qualification, and the Order was confined principally to country gentlemen of property and descent. But in more modern days, the circle has been enlarged, and made to include such men as Temple, Hans Sloane, Rodney, Humphry Davy, Herschel, Peel, Walter Scott, Lytton Bulwer, John Burgoyne, Frederick and George Pollock, Maziere Brady and Napier, Havelock and Outram, Astley Cooper, Corrigan, Brodie, Fowell-Buxton, and Rothschild, who raised their families to greatness by their pre-eminence in science, literature, commerce, or arms. It seems a pity that so important an hereditary Order should possess no designating mark of distinction. The Orders of Chivalry, the Garter, the Thistle, St. Patrick, and the Bath, have their insignia. Some forty years ago, the Baronets sought to obtain from the favour of the Crown some such distinction, and a committee was formed to press their claim upon the Sovereign. Too much, however, was asked, and nothing gained. Possibly, if the Baronets had sought only the privilege of wearing a Badge, a privilege enjoyed by the Baronets of Scotland, a Royal concession might have been made.

The order of Baronets in Scotland, instituted in 1625, was in its origin connected with Sir William Alexander's scheme for colonizing Nova Scotia. The number was not to exceed 150; the sum payable for the honour was £3,000; and the patents down to 1638 included a grant of specified lands in Nova Scotia, though that colony had before the date in question passed into the hands of the French. The latter creations by CHARLES I. included gentlemen unconnected with Scotland; and in one instance the dignity was granted to a lady, Dame Maria Bolles, of Osberton, co. Nottingham. In almost all the patents granted by CHARLES I., the limitation was to heirs male whomsoever; afterwards, though there was some occasional variety, the most usual limitation was to heirs male of the body.

PRIVILEGES OF THE BARONETAGE.

BY the constitution of the Baronetage, it is declared and provided, that Baronets and their heirs male, their wives, sons, daughters, and sons' wives, respectively, or any of them, at whatsoever time to come, in all questions concerning any place, precedence, privilege, or other matter concerning them, shall be regulated by the use and practice of custom and law, as other hereditary degrees of dignity are ordained and directed, concerning place, prerogative, and precedence.

The wives of Baronets are Ladies, and enjoy place and precedency, both during the lives, and after the decease of their husbands, according to the manner and usage of other hereditary degrees.

The daughters of Baronets have the rank and precedence of their eldest brother.

The Baronets of the several creations have assigned to them by the grant of the royal founder, as a perpetual military post of honour, place in the royal armies of the Sovereign near and about the Royal Standard for its defence.

The Baronets of England and Ireland bear, as an honourable augmentation, on a canton in their armorial ensigns, the royal arms of Ulster, viz., arg., a sinister hand, erect, gu., these senior branches of the baronetage having been erected to promote the Plantation of that province.

It was at first provided that the Baronets of Scotland should charge their coat armour with a similar augmentation,—viz., the arms of Nova Scotia. By a royal warrant of CHARLES I. in 1629, they became entitled to wear as a personal decoration, an Orange-tawny Riband and Badge,—viz., in a scutcheon, arg., a Saint Andrew's cross, az., thereon an inescutcheon of the royal arms of Scotland, with an imperial crown above the scutcheon, and encircled with the motto, "Fax mentis honestæ gloria," being the motto of HENRY, Prince of Wales, the eldest son of the royal Founder of the Order.

Note.—Since the Legislative Unions between England and Scotland, and Great Britain and Ireland, the separate Orders of Baronets have been superseded by the one general institution of BARONETS OF THE UNITED KINGDOM, who also bear on their coat armour the augmentation of the sinister hand, gu.

EDINBURGH has already given the title of Duke to members of the Royal Family. In 1726, H.R.H. FREDERICK LEWIS, eldest son of GEORGE, PRINCE OF WALES (afterwards King George II.), was created DUKE OF EDINBURGH. Subsequently, in 1729, H.R.H. was made Prince of Wales. He d. v. p. in 1751, leaving a son and successor, H.R.H. George, Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, &c., who ascended the throne as George III. in 1760, when the Dukedom of Edinburgh merged in the Crown. It was, however, called out four years after, in favour of the King's brother H.R.H. PRINCE WILLIAM-HENRY, then created DUKE OF GLOUCESTER AND EDINBURGH and Earl of Connaught. With his son the title expired in 1834, and remained unappropriated until conferred as above on Her Majesty's second son, H.R.H. PRINCE ALFRED.

KENT, rendered famous as an Earldom by the Plantagenets, Hollands, and Greys, and associated with all the varying fortunes of those gallant races, was twice conferred, as a Dukedom, viz., on Henry Grey, Marquess of Kent in 1710, and on H.R.H. Prince Edward, 4th son of King GEORGE III. in 1799. In the latter creation it was associated with the Dukedom of Strathearn. H.R.H. who d. 23 Jan. 1820, was father of Her Most Gracious Majesty.

His Royal Highness, the third son of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, was created a Peer of the United Kingdom, 24 May, 1874.

Connaught as a title of honor is historic and royal. In Celtic times, the Kings of Connaught were the O'Conors, the representative of whom, Roderick O'Conor, King of Connaught, was elected King of all Ireland in 1136. It was that monarch who signed, by his Chancellor, the Treaty of Windsor with King Henry II. After the Anglo-Norman Conquest, the designation of "Lord of Connaught," was enjoyed by Richard de Burgh, surnamed the Great, Viceroy of Ireland. His wife was Una, dau. of Hugh O'Conor, King of Connaught, and his son and heir, Walter de Burgh, Lord of Connaught. This potent subject m. Maud, dau. and heir of Hugh de Lacy, Earl of Ulster, and became in consequence Earl of Ulster. His son and heir, Richard de Burgh, Lord of Connaught and Earl of Ulster, a great soldier and statesman, was father of John de Burgh, Lord of Connaught, who married Elizabeth, dau. of Gilbert, Earl of Gloucester, and granddau. of King Edward I. and left a son and successor, William de Burgh, Earl of Ulster, Lord of Connaught, who m. Maud, dau. of Henry Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, and d. in 1333, leaving an only child, Lady Elizabeth de Burgh, who married in 1352, Prince Lionel of Antwerp, K.G. (3rd son of Edward III.), who became in consequence Earl of Ulster, Lord of Connaught, and was created Duke of Clarence, 13 Nov. 1362. By the heiress of De Burgh, he had an only child, Philippa, wife of Edmond Mortimer, 3rd Earl of March, Viceroy of Ireland in 1380, jure uxoris Earl of Ulster and "Lord of Connaught," ancestor, through his granddau. the Lady Anne Mortimer, wife of Richard Plantagenet, Earl of Cambridge, of Edward IV. King of England, and of the subsequent Sovereigns of this realm. The title of Connaught remained in the Crown until 1764, when H.R.H. Prince William-Henry, brother of King George III. was created Duke of Gloucester and Edinburgh, in the Peerage of Great Britain, and Earl of Connaught, in that of Ireland, and it became extinct at the death of his Royal Highness's son, William-Frederick, 2nd Duke of Gloucester and Edinburgh, 30 Nov. 1834.

Strathearn as an Earldom was granted by King David II. of Scotland, to his nephew, Robert Stewart, Lord High Steward of Scotland, who ascended the throne of Scotland, 22 Feb. 1370, and soon afterwards conferred the Earldom of Strathearn on his eldest son by his second wife, Prince David, who was also created Earl of Caithness, and was designated Earl Palatine of Strathearn, and Earl of Caithness, in a charter of King Robert II. He left an only child, Euphemia, Countess Palatine of Strathearn, who m. Sir Patrick Graham. Their male issue is extinct.

The Dukedom of Strathearn was associated with that of Cumberland in 1766, and in 1790 with that of Kent.

Creation—24 May, 1874. Arms—The royal arms, differenced by a label of three points, arg., the centre point charged with St. George's Cross, and each of the other points with a fleur-de-lis, az.; in the centre of the said royal arms, an escutcheon of the august house of Saxony, viz., barry of ten, or and sa., a crown of rue, in bend, vert. Crest—On a coronet composed of crosses-patée, and fleurs-de-lis, a lion statant, guardant, or, crowned with the like coronet, and differenced with a label of three points, arg., charged as in the arms. Supporters—The royal supporters, differenced with the like coronet and label. Residences—Government House, Aldershot, Bagshot Park, Surrey, and Buckingham Palace. Clubs—United Service; Army and Navy; Junior United Service; Junior Army and Navy; Guards'; White's; Naval and Military; Travellers'; Marlborough.

Princess Victoria-Alexandra-Alice-Mary, b. at The Cottage, Sandringham, 25 April, 1897.

His Royal Highness, the only surviving son of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, K.G., w created Baron Killarney, Earl of Inverness, and Duke of York, by Letters Patent, dated 24 May, 1892.

The Dukedom of York has like that of Clarence always been a Royal title. King Richard II. created his uncle Edmu Plantagenet (surnamed Langley), 5th son of King Edward III., Duke of York in 1385, and his descendant, the 4th Duke York, eventually succeeded in establishing himself on the throne as Edward IV. Henry Tudor, afterwards Henry VIII., w created Duke of York, 1494, and thus this title merged once more in the Crown. In 1605 Prince Charles Stuart was creat Duke of York, but this prince at the decease of his eldest brother became Prince of Wales and eventually King Charles I., 2nd son, Prince James, being declared Duke of York at his birth, and created such by letters patent in 1643. The title of Yo was afterwards called out in 1716, George I. creating his brother Ernest, Bishop of Osnaburg, Duke of York and Alban This creation ended at the Duke's death in 1728, and the dignity was not revived until 1760. In that year George III. creat his brother, Prince Edward, Duke of York and Albany. His Royal Highness dying unm. seven years after, his honou became extinct. York next appears as a peerage dignity in 1784, when the same sovereign gave it to his 2nd son, Prin Frederick, as Duke of York and Albany. On the Duke's death, however, s.p., in 1827, the dukedom of York once more expir and remained unappropriated until the creation of H.R.H. Prince George of Wales in 1892.

Creation—24 May, 1892.

THE DUKE OF ALBANY.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE LEOPOLD-CHARLES-EDWARD-GEORGE-ALBERT, DUKE OF ALBANY, EARL OF CLARENCE, AND BARON ARKLOW, Prince of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, b. at Claremont, 19 July, 1884; s. as 2nd Duke at his birth.

The DUKEDOM OF ALBANY was first conferred, according to Fordun, in a solemn Council held at Scone, 28 April, 1398, upon ROBERT, 3rd son of ROBERT II., King of Scotland. This was the celebrated Regent during the minority and captivity of JAMES I. of that kingdom. With the attainder of his son, MURDOCH, 2nd DUKE OF ALBANY, the dukedom was forfeited, and remained in the Crown until conferred on ALEXANDER, 2nd son of King JAMES II. This prince d. in 1485, and was s. by his son, John, Duke of Albany, who d. without issue. The third creation was in 1565, when HENRY, LORD DARNLEY, was created Duke of Albany nine days before his nuptials with MARY, Queen of Scots, and the dignity vested in the Crown upon the accession of his son as JAMES VI. of Scotland. The next occasion when this royal title was granted was in 1600, when King JAMES conferred it on his second son, Prince CHARLES, at whose accession to the throne it again vested in the Crown. In the following reign it was assigned to another Prince of the Blood, viz., James, Duke of York, eventually King as JAMES II. This title in conjunction with that of York was granted once by King GEORGE I., and twice by King GEORGE III., to members of the Royal House, and was not dis-associated from the latter title until the death of the last Duke of York and Albany in 1827.

ARKLOW, as a peerage title of honor, first appears in the present century, when GEORGE III. created his sixth son, Prince AUGUSTUS, Duke of Sussex, Earl of Inverness, and Baron Arklow in 1801. The Duke of Sussex d. in 1843, when all the honors became extinct.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE LEOPOLD-GEORGE-DUNCAN-ALBERT, 4th son of Her Majesty the Queen, was created a Peer of the United Kingdom by Letters Patent dated 24 May, 1881, as Duke of Albany, Earl of Clarence, and Baron Arklow. His Royal Highness, who was K.G., K.T., G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., P.C., D.C.L. (Oxon), Colonel in the Army, Hon. Colonel 3rd Batt. Seaforth Highlanders, Ross-shire Buffs (The Duke of Albany's), an Elder Brother of the Trinity House, President Royal Society of Literature, a Bencher of Lincoln's Inn, b. 7 April, 1853; m. 27 April, 1882, Her Serene Highness the Princess Hélène-Frederica-Augusta (b. 17 Feb. 1861), dau. of His Serene Highness the late George-Victor, reigning Prince of Waldeck and Pyrmont, and had issue,

PRINCESS ALICE-MARY-VICTORIA-AUGUSTA-PAULINE, b. at Windsor Castle, 25 Feb. 1883; Baptized at Windsor, 26 March, 1883.

His Royal Highness d. at Cannes, in France, 28 March, 1884.

THE DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK-CHARLES, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, EARL OF TIPPERARY, AND BARON CULLODEN, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Prince of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, K.G., K.T., K.P., G.C.B., G.C.S.I., G.C.H., G.C.I.E., and Grand Master of St. Michael and St. George, G.C.V.O.; Grand Cordon of the Legion of Honour; a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council; Field-Marshal; Chief Personal Aide-de-Camp to the Queen; Hon. Colonel-in-Chief to the Forces; Colonel-in-Chief of the Royal Regiment of Artillery and of the Corps of Royal Engineers, Colonel of the Grenadier-Guards, and Colonel-in-Chief of the 17th Lancers and 60th Foot; Hon. Colonel 20th (Punjab) Regiment of Bengal Native Infantry, of Royal Malta Artillery, of 4th batt. Suffolk Regiment, and Middlesex R.V., has Volunteer Officers' Decoration, Ranger of St. James's, the Green, Hyde, and Richmond Parks; President of the Royal Military College, of the Royal Military Asylum, and of Christ's Hospital; Governor of King's College, London; was Commanding in Chief of Her Majesty's Armies 1856-87, and Commander in Chief 1887-95; b. at Hanover, 26 March, 1819; s. his father as 2nd Duke 8 July, 1850.

CAMBRIDGE, although nine times made a peerage title, may be said to have always been royal, for Hamilton was no exception. James, Duke of Châtellerault, Earl of Arran, having been declared heir presumptive to the crown of Scotland. As an Earldom, Cambridge was first conferred by Edward III. on his brother-in-law, William, Duc de Juliers, and subsequently by the same monarch on his 5th son, Edmond of Langley. After the Plantagenets the Scotch Marquesses of Hamilton enjoyed the title; but, in the time of Charles II., it again became unquestionably royal, Henry of Oaklands, brother of the King, when made Duke of Gloucester, had the Earldom of Cambridge as his second honour. As a dukedom it was first conferred in succession on the four infant children of James, Duke of York, afterwards James II., but they all died in infancy, and the title remained unappropriated until conferred by Queen Anne on George-Augustus, Prince Electoral of Hanover, and the heirs male of his body. H.R.H. ascended the throne as GEORGE II., 11 June, 1727, when the Dukedom of Cambridge merged in the Crown, and so remained vested until 27 Nov. 1801, when it was conferred on

H.R.H. PRINCE ADOLPHUS-FREDERICK, 7th son of King GEORGE III., who was b. 24 Feb. 1774, m. 1 June, 1818 (a marriage having been previously celebrated between them at Cassel in the Palace of H.R.H. the Elector of Hesse, 7 May, 1818), Her Serene Highness, AUGUSTA-WILHELMINA-LOUISA, Princess of Hesse, youngest dau. of FREDERICK, Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, by whom (who was b. 25 July, 1797, and d. 6 April, 1889) he had issue,

GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK-CHARLES, present Duke of Cambridge.

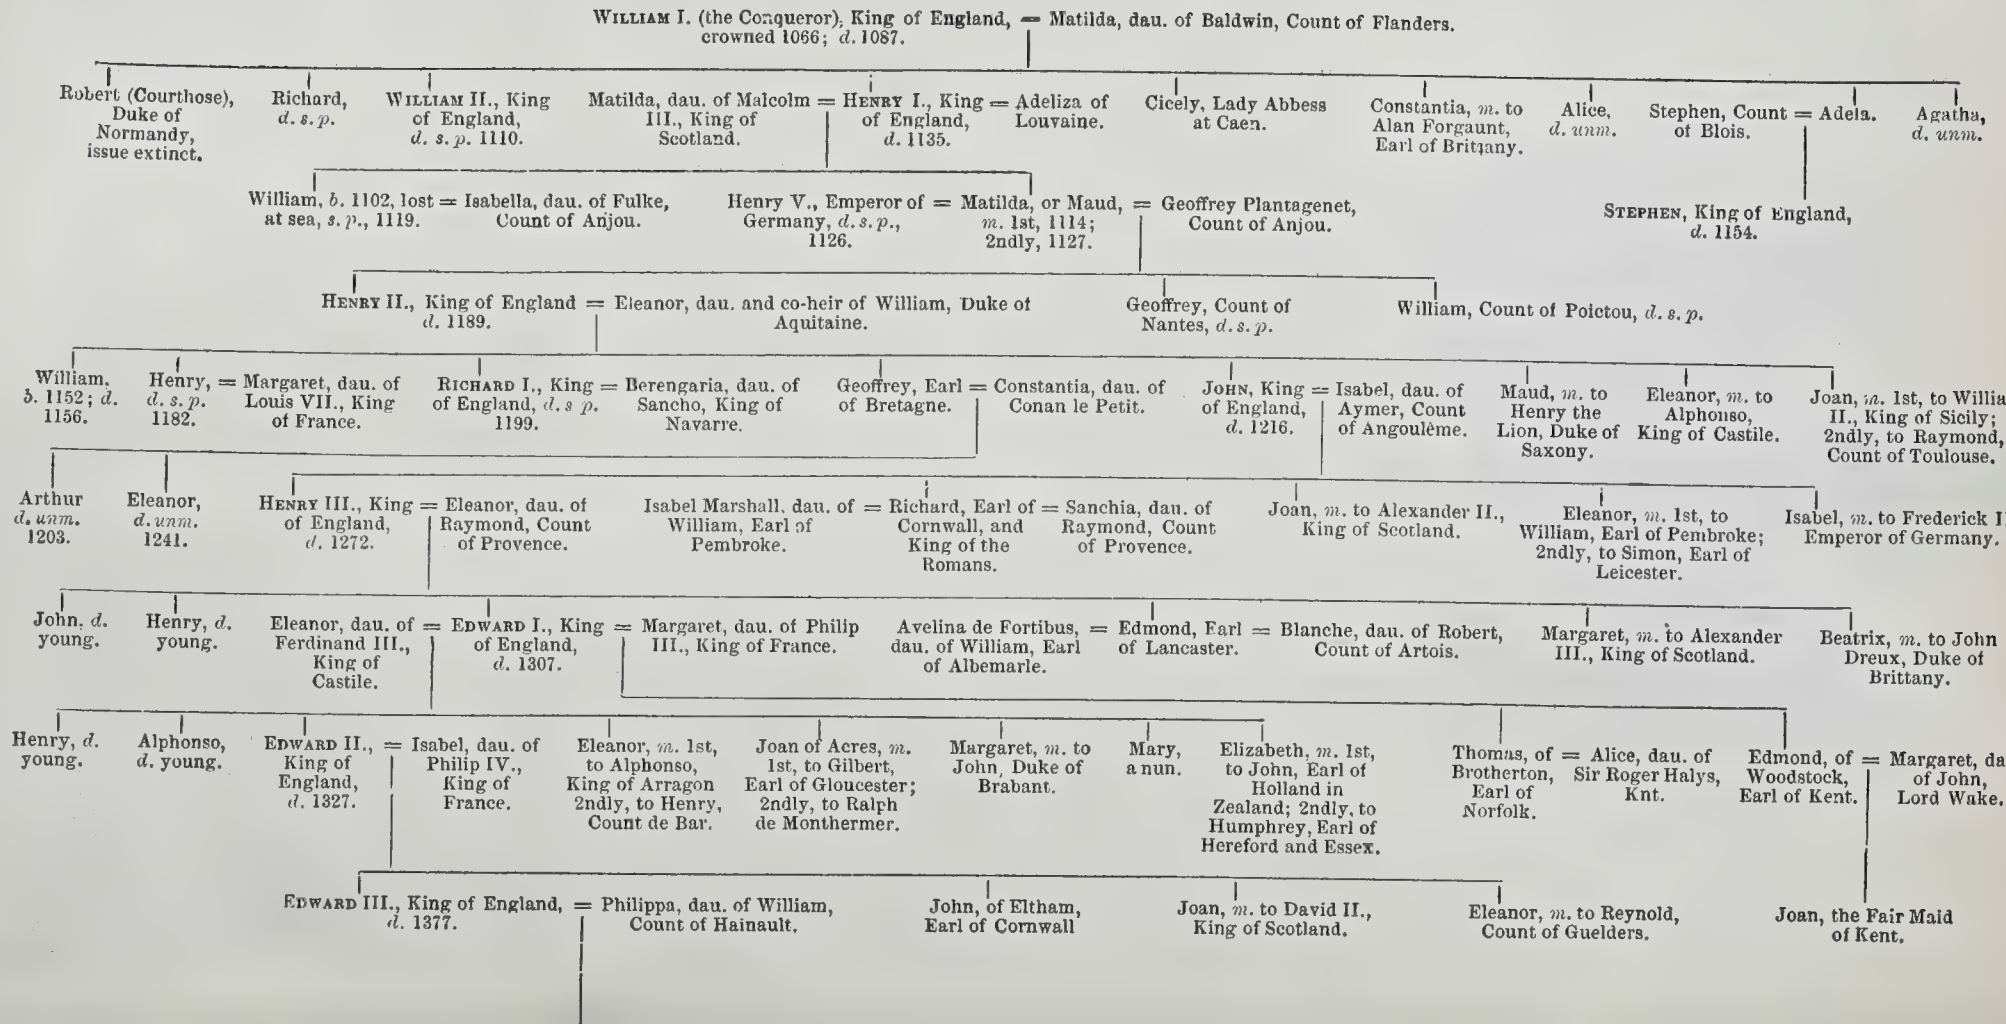
The Royal Pedigree.



WILLIAM, DUKE OF NORMANDY, styled "Willielmus Rex Anglorum," b. at Falaise, in 1025, surnamed The Conqueror, from his triumph over Harold at Hastings, on the 14th Oct. 1066, crowned King of England by Aldred, Archbishop of York, at Westminster Abbey, on the 25th of December, in the same year; m. Maud, or Matilda, dau. of Baldwin V., Count of Flanders, fifth in descent from Ethelwida, dau. of Alfred the Great, and 10th in descent from Charlemagne. William the Conqueror had by Matilda, his wife (with other children who d. in infancy),

I. Robert, surnamed Courthose, successor to the Duchy of Normandy, m. Sybilla, dau. of Geoffrey of Conversana, or according to Glover, Roger of Conversaria, and d. in Cardiff Castle, 10 Feb. 1134, having had a son William, Earl of Flanders, who was slain at the battle of Alost, 1128, d. s. p.

II. Richard, killed by a stag in the New Forest, and d. a youth.

III. WILLIAM RUFUS, successor to the crown of England.

IV. HENRY, successor to the crown of England after his brother.

I. Cicelie, who took the veil at the monastery of Fécamp, and was the first nun, and afterwards the second Abbess, of the Holy Trinity, founded at Caen by her royal mother, the church of which (where Queen Matilda was interred) still exists. The Lady Abbess Cicelie d. at the Holy Trinity, 13 July, 1126.

II. Constance, m. to Alan Fergaunt, Earl of Brittany; and d. s. p. in 1126.

III. Alice, contracted to Harold, she d. young, unm.

IV. Adela, known as "the friend of the poor," m. to Stephen, Count of Blois, and d. 1137, having had four sons and a dau. viz.,

1 William (an imbecile) m. and had issue.
2 Theobald, who s. as Count of Blois.
3 STEPHEN, who s. his uncle Henry upon the English throne.
4 Henry, Bishop of Winchester, d. 6 Aug. 1171.
1 Maud, m. Richard, Earl of Chester; and was drowned with her husband 25 Nov. 1120.

V. Agatha, d. unm., betrothed to Alphonso VI., King of Leon, and afterwards of Castile,

Some genealogists add another dau., viz., Gundreda, m. to William de Warrenne, Count of Warrenne in Normandy, and Earl of Surrey in England, but the paternity of this lady is a very doubtful point, several historians maintaining that the assertion of Ordericus Vitalis that she was sister of Gherbod, the Fleming, Earl of Chester, is sustainable by authentic evidence.

WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR died 9 Sept. 1087, at Hermentrude, a suburb of Rouen, and was interred in the Church of St. Stephen, at Caen; he was s. in his English dominions by his 2nd son,

WILLIAM THE SECOND, surnamed Rufus, styled "Dei Gratiâ Rex Anglorum," b. in Normandy, 1056; crowned 26 Sept. 1087. This monarch was accidentally slain while hunting in the New Forest, 2nd Aug. 1100, and was buried at Winchester: as he died unmarried, the crown devolved upon his next brother,

HENRY THE FIRST, styled the same as WILLIAM II., and surnamed Beauclerc, b. at Selby, co. York, in 1070; crowned 5 Aug. 1100. He m. 1st, 11 Nov. 1100, Matilda (Editha), dau. of MALCOLM III., Caenmor, King of Scotland, by Margaret, his wife, sister and heir of EDGAR ATHELING, and dau. of EDWARD the Exile, son of EDMUND IRONSIDES, King of England, the last of the Saxon Princes in succession to the throne. Through this Princess, the Royal Family of England is directly descended from ALFRED THE GREAT, King of England.* By Matilda, his wife, who d. 1118, and was buried at Winchester, Henry I. had issue,

William, b. 1102; m. 1119, Isabella, dau. of Fulke, Count of Anjou, but was lost at sea 25 Nov. 1120, and left no issue.

MATILDA, or MAUD, styled "Matildis Imperatrix Henrici Regis filia et Anglorum Domina," b. in 1103-4; m. in 1114, the EMPEROR HENRY V. of Germany, who d. s. p. 23 May, 1125. The Empress m. 2ndly, 3 April, 1127, GEOFFREY PLANTAGENET, Count of Anjou, and d. 10 Sept. 1167, having had by him (who d. 7 Sept. 1150), HENRY, who s. to the English throne, as 2nd of that name.

Geoffrey, Count of Nantes, d. s. p. 1157.
William, Count of Poictou, d. s. p. 1163.

HENRY I. m. 2ndly, 2 Feb. 1121, Adeliza, dau. of Godfrey, Duke of Louvaine, but by her (who m. 2ndly, William de Albini) he had no issue. The King died at St. Denis, in Normandy, 1 Dec. 1135, and was interred in Reading Abbey: he was s. by (the third son of his sister, Adela, Countess of Blois) his nephew,

STEPHEN, styled the same as HENRY I., b. at Blois, 1104; crowned 26 Dec. 1135; m. Matilda, dau. and heir of Eustace, Count of Boulogne, by Mary, his wife, dau. of MALCOLM III., Caenmor, and by her (who d. 1151) had issue,

EUSTACE, Count of Boulogne, who m. Constance, sister of LOUIS VII. of France, but d. s. p. in 1152. His widow m. 2ndly, Raymond, Count of Toulouse.

William, Count of Mortaigne and Boulogne, d. s. p. in 1159.

Mary, Countess of Boulogne and Mortaigne, m. Matthew, younger son of Theodore, Count of Flanders, and had issue.

The pretensions of this monarch to the throne were opposed by his cousin, the Empress MAUD, and the contest finally terminated in a compromise, by which STEPHEN was to sway the sceptre during his life, on condition of its passing at his decease to HENRY PLANTAGENET, the son of the Empress. STEPHEN died at Dover, 25 Oct. 1154, and was buried near his wife, in Faversham Abbey, Kent; he was s. by

* The descent from ALFRED is thus traced:—Alfred the Great was father of Edward the Elder, King of England, father of Edmund the Elder, father of Edgar, father of Ethelred, father of Edmund Ironside, father of Edward the Exile, father of Margaret, Queen of Malcolm III., of Scotland, mother of Matilda, Queen of Henry I.

HENRY THE SECOND,* styled "Rex Angliæ, Dux Normaniæ et Aquitaniæ, &c.," b. at Le Mans in 1133; crowned 19 Dec. 1154; m. in 1151, Eleanor (the divorced wife of LOUIS VII. of France), dau. and one of the co-heiresses of William the Fifth, Duke of Aquitaine, by whom (who d. 26 June, 1202, and was buried by her husband's side, at Fontevraud) he had issue,

William, b. in 1152: d. in 1156.

Henry, b. in 1155; crowned, by command of his father, King of England, as "Rex Filius," 14 July, 1170; m. 1173, Margaret, dau. of LOUIS VII. of France, and was again crowned, with his consort, at Winchester. He d. s. p. in 1183.

RICHARD, successor to the crown.

Geoffrey, Earl of Bretagne, b. 1158, who was accidentally slain 1186, in a tournament at Paris, leaving by his wife. Constance, dau. of Conan le Petit, Earl of Richmond and Duke of Brittany, a dau., Eleanor, who d. unm. in 1241, and a son, ARTHUR, b. posthumous 1186, on whom, at the decease of his uncle, RICHARD I., the right to the crown devolved, but who was killed 3 April, 1203, in his 17th year.

JOHN, successor to his brother RICHARD.

Maud, m. to HENRY V., Duke of Saxony (surnamed The Lion. See HOUSE OF GUELPH), and d. 1189.

Eleanor, m. to ALFONSO VIII., King of Castile, and d. 1214.

Joan, m. 1st, to WILLIAM II., King of Sicily; and 2ndly, to Raymond, Count of Toulouse, and d. 4 Sept. 1195.

The King d. 6 July, 1189, at Chinon, near Tours, in France, and was interred at Fontevraud, in Anjou; he was s. by his eldest surviving son,

RICHARD THE FIRST, styled the same as HENRY II., and surnamed Cœurde Lion, b. at Oxford, in Sept. 1157, so celebrated as a soldier of the Cross. This monarch, also King of Cyprus and Jerusalem, was crowned 3 Sept. 1189. He m. 12 May, 1191, Berengaria (who d. without ever coming to England), dau. of SANCHO THE WISE, King of Navarre; Richard d. s. p. 6 April, 1199, being slain by an arrow from the Castle of Chalus, in Limosin, which he had invested; he was buried at Fontevraud; when the sovereignty was assumed by his brother,

JOHN, styled "Joannes Rex Angliæ et Dominus Hiberniæ, &c.," and surnamed Lackland, b. at Oxford, 24 Dec. 1166; crowned 27 May, 1199; betrothed when young, in 1173, to Alice, elder dau. and co-heir of Humbert, Count of Maurien, now Savoy, which Princess d. before the nuptials. King John m. 1st, Isabel, dau. and heiress of William, Earl of Gloucester, from whom he was divorced;† and 2ndly, Isabella, dau. and heiress of Aymer Taillefer, Count of Angoulême, by whom (who m. 2ndly. Hugh, Lord of Lusignan and Valence, in Poictou, and dying 1246, was buried at Fontevraud), he left at his decease at Newark Castle, Notts, 19 Oct. 1216,

HENRY, his successor.

Richard, b. 1209, created Earl of Cornwall,‡ and elected in 1256, King of the Romans and of Almaine; m. 1st, in 1230, Isaoel, 3rd dau. of William Marshall, Earl of Pembroke, and co-heiress of her brothers, by whom he had a son, Henry, b. 1235, a stout partisan of Prince Edward, and one of the principal commanders at the battle of Lewes; murdered at Viterbo in Italy, by Guy de Montfort, and immortalized by Dante. The King of the Romans m. 2ndly, Sanchia, 3rd dau. and co-heiress of Raymond Berenger, Count of Provence, by whom he had, Edmond, who s. to the Earldom of Cornwall, but d. without issue; and Richard, slain at the siege of Berwick, d unm. 1296. The King of the Romans m. 3rdly, Beatrice, niece of Conrad, Elector of Cologne, but had no other issue. He d. 2 April, 1272.

Joan, m. 1221, to ALEXANDER II., King of Scotland.

KINGS OF SCOTLAND.

WITH all the light that the researches of Celtic scholars and historical antiquaries have lately thrown on the early history of Scotland, some obscurity still hangs over the succession of the kings of the Picts and Daldriadic Scots; our sketch of the Royal Line will, therefore, begin with the union of Picts and Scots, under a King of Scottish race in 850. By the Celtic principle of "tanistry," which prevailed in Scotland nearly to the end of the eleventh century, the succession, hereditary in a particular family, was elective among the members of that family, a preference being given to the oldest and worthiest.

KENNETH I. (called MacAlpin) reigned from 850 to 860.

DONALD, his brother, reigned from 860 to 864.

CONSTANTINE I., son of KENNETH I., reigned from 864 to 877. He fell in a battle with the Danes, and was s. by his brother,

AEDH, who reigned but one year, and is said to have been "slain by his people." His successor was

EOCHA, son of RUN, KING OF STRATHCLYDE, whose mother was CONSTANTINE'S sister; CIRIC or GIRIG, son of DUNGAIL, being associated with him. They together reigned from 878 to 889.

DONALD, son of CONSTANTINE I., reigned from 889 to 900. He was slain in a Danish invasion, and was s. by CONSTANTINE II., son of AEDH, who reigned 42 years, and, harassed by the ravages of the Northmen, retired, in 942, to the Monastery of St. Andrews.

MALCOLM I., son of DONALD, reigned from 942 to 954.

INDULPH, son of CONSTANTINE II., reigned from 954 to 962.

DUBH, son of MALCOLM I., reigned from 962 to 967.

CUILEAN son of INDULPH, reigned from 967 to 971.

KENNETH II., son of MALCOLM I., reigned from 971 to 995.

CONSTANTINE III., son of CUILEAN, reigned from 995 to 997.

KENNETH III., son of DUBH, reigned from 997 to 1004, and was slain at Monzievaird by

MALCOLM II., son of KENNETH II., who reigned 1005 to 1034. He had two daus., BETHOC, who m. Crinan, Abbot of Dunkeld, and who was mother of his successor; and ——, who m. Sigurd, Earl of Orkney, and was ancestress of the Sinclairs, Earls of Orkney. His successor was

DUNCAN I., son of CRINAN, Abbot of Dunkeld, and grandson of MALCOLM II. He had three sons, MALCOLM, DONALD BANE, and MELMARE, the last named being ancestor of the Earls of Atholl. In his reign the north and west of Scotland were conquered by the Northmen, under Thorfinn; a

MACBETH, Mormaer of Moray, joining his fortunes to those of the invader, put DUNCAN to death in 104

MACBETH reigned from 1040 to 1051; his wife, GRUACH, was dau. of BODE, son of KENNETH II
His kingdom seems to have been confined to the country south and west of the Tay, Thorfinn ruling ov the rest. In 1057 he was slain by MALCOLM, son of DUNCAN I., at Lumphanan.

LULACH, son of GILCOMGAR, Mormaer of Moray, and descended, through his mother, from BOD son of KENNETH III., was made king by MACBETH'S party, and after reigning seven months, was slain Essie, in Strathbogie. He had a son, MALSNECHTAN, and also a dau., whose son, ANGUS, succeeding the Earldom of Moray, was associated with Malcolm, natural son of ALEXANDER I., in an insurrecti against DAVID I., but was defeated and slain in 1130. A real or alleged son of ANGUS, known
MALCOLM MCETH, headed another insurrection and was defeated in 1137; and two sons of MALCOI
MACETH, were conjoined with SOMERLED in the later insurrection of 1154.

MALCOLM III., known as Ceanmor, or Great Head, ascended the throne in 1058. Under hi the provinces acquired by Thorfinn, fell again under native rule. He m. 1st, Ingebiorge, widow Thorfinn, Earl of Orkney, by whom he had had two sons, DUNCAN, afterwards king, and DONALD, wh predeceased him; 2ndly, in 1070, Margaret, sister of EDGAR ATHELING, by whom he had six sons a two daus., viz.:

EDWARD, slain with his father at Alnwick.
EDMUND.
ETHELRED, Abbot of Dunkeld and Earl of Fife.
EDGAR, ALEXANDER, DAVID, } successively Kings of Scotland.
EDITH, otherwise MATILDA, who was m. 1100 to HENRY I. of England.
MARY, m. to Eustace, Count of Boulogne.

MALCOLM was slain at Alnwick, in 1093, and buried at Tynemouth.

DONALD BANE, brother of MALCOLM III., after reigning six months, was deposed by

DUNCAN II., son of MALCOLM, by his first wife. He m. Ethreda, dau. of Gospatrick, Earl Northumberland, and had by her a son, WILLIAM, who m. Alice de Rumeli, and had a son, William Egremont, who d. under age. WILLIAM FITZDUNCAN had also, either by a previous marriage illegitimately, a son, DONALD BANE MACWILLIAM, who, in 1181, headed an insurrection against WILLIA
THE LION. GUTHRED MCWILLIAM, another of the same line, headed an insurrection in 121
DUNCAN II., after reigning six months, was slain by Malfrida MacLoen, Earl of Mearns, when

DONALD BANE resumed the throne, his nephew, EDMUND, son of MALCOLM and MARGARE being conjoined with him. In 1097, through means of EDGAR ATHELING, DONALD was defeated an expelled from Scotland, EDMUND imprisoned, and the throne assumed by EDGAR, son of MALCOLM an MARGARET. DONALD BANE'S granddau. and heiress, HEXTILDA, m. Richard Comyn, and their descendan
John Comyn, known as the Black Comyn, was one of the competitors for the Scottish crown in 1291.

EDGAR, son of MALCOLM, reigned from 1097 to 1107, and was s. by his brother,

ALEXANDER I. While Alexander reigned over Scotland, north of the Forth and Clyde, h brother DAVID, who had been trained in England, and was Earl of Northumberland, ruled with the tit

II. SIR JOHN, ancestor of various important branches of the family, m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir John Bonkyl fell at the battle of Falkirk, 1298, having had,

Alexander, of Bonkyl, a quo the Stewarts, Earls of Angus.
Sir Alan, of Dreghorn, a quo the Earls of Darnley and Lennox.
Sir Walter, of Dalswinton, a quo, by female descent, the Earls of Galloway and Lords Blantyre.
Sir John, of Jedworth, a quo the Earls of Galloway, by male descent.
Sir James, of Pierston, a quo the Earls of Athole, Buchan, and Traquair.
Isabel, m. Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray.

I. Elizabeth, m. Sir William Douglas, Lord of Lugton.

JAMES, 5th High Steward, was one of the six Regents of Scotland after the death of ALEXANDER III., and associated wit Wallace in his struggle against English dominion. By his wife, Egidia, dau. of Walter de Burgh, Earl of Ulster, he had Andrew, who predeceased him s. p.; Walter, his successor; and Sir James, of Durrisdeer.

WALTER, 6th High Steward, was conspicuous among Bruce's companions in arms. When a youth he did good service a Bannockburn, and in 1319 successfully defended Berwick against EDWARD. In 1315, he m. MARJORY BRUCE, and had issu King ROBERT II., as above; and by a later marriage (said to be with Isabel, sister of Sir John Graham, of Abercorn) he had,

I. Sir John, of Ralston, in Ayrshire, who d. 1416, and had Sir Walter, of Ralston, and three daus., 1 Marjory, wife, 1st o Sir Alexander Lindsay, of Glenesk; 2ndly, of Sir Henry Douglas, of Lochleven; 2 Egidia, 2nd wife of Sir Patric Graham, of Dundaff; 3 Margaret, m. Sir John Hay, of Boyne.

JAMES I.

ANCESTRY OF THE ROYAL HOUSE OF GUELPH.

THE obscurity in which antiquity has involved the early history of nations can only be, in a slight degree, cleared up by tracing the origin of the families that maintained the continued rule over them. By the combined efforts and researches of Muratori and Leibnitz, the ancestry of the Guelphs has been derived from the princely race of Este; and Gibbon continues the line from that illustrious house, through the dark ages, up to Charlemagne. "The genuine masculine descent of the Princes of Brunswick," says that brilliant writer, "must be explored beyond the Alps; the venerable tree which has since overshadowed Germany and Britain, was planted in the Italian soil. As far as our sight can reach, we discern the first founders of the race in the Marquesses of Este, of Luguria, and, perhaps, of Tuscany. In the eleventh century, the primitive stem was divided into two branches; the elder migrated to the Banks of the Danube and the Elbe; the younger more humbly adhered to the neighbourhood of the Adriatic; the Dukes of Brunswick and the Kings of Great Britain are the descendants of the first; the Dukes of Ferrara and Modena were the offspring of the second."

In the 11th century, CUNIGUNDA, sister and heiress of Guelph, Duke of Lower Bavaria, Count of Altdorf, m. 1040, AZO, MARQUESS OF ESTE, representative of his illustrious house, a nobleman, whose character shines conspicuously through the gloom of the age in which he lived. This alliance was productive of a son, who received at his baptism the name of GUELPH, to revive and perpetuate the memory of his uncle, his grandfather and his first progenitors on the maternal side. After the death of Cunigunda, Azo m. Garzenda, dau. and heir of Hugh, Count of Maine, and was, by her, father of a son, Fulke, the acknowledged parent of the Dukes of Ferrara and Modena. The Marquess of Este d. in 1097, aged upwards of one hundred years. His son, by Cunigunda, GUELPH, Count of Altdorf and Duke of Upper and Lower Bavaria, engaged in the first Crusade, and d. on his return from Palestine, at Paphos in Cyprus, A.D. 1101. He had m. Judith, dau. of Baldwin, Count of Flanders, and sister of Matilda, Queen of William the Conqueror, and left three sons and a dau., of whom HENRY III., surnamed the Black, had the title of Duke of Saxony, and d. in 1125. He was father, by his wife, Wulphilda, dau. of Magnus Billing, Duke of Saxony, of HENRY IV. the Proud, who acquired by marriage with Gertrude, dau. and heir of the Emperor Lothaire, new and extensive dominions on the banks of the Elbe and the Weser, including the Dukedom of Brunswick and the county of Northeim. He d. 1139, and was succeeded by his son, HENRY V. the Lion, Duke of Saxony. This celebrated warrior, the most renowned of his time, became, by the great extent of his hereditary and acquired property, too powerful to escape the jealousy and fears of the Emperor and Princes of Germany, by whom he was despoiled of his Saxon and Bavarian dominions. He still, however, retained Brunswick and Luneburg, and made the former city the capital of his States.

Henry the Lion was twice married. By his first wife he left no family, but by his second wife, who was Maud, dau. of HENRY II. of England, he had issue,

I. HENRY, Longus, of Zelle, who became Count Palatine of the Rhine, from 1195, to 1215. This prince partitioned his father's dominions with his brother Otto, and d. in 1227, leaving two daus., the elder m. to Otto, the Illustrious, Duke of Bavaria, and the younger m. to Herman IV. Margrave of Baden.
II. OTTO, Duke of Brunswick, elected Emperor in 1198, d. in 1218.
III. WILLIAM, surnamed of Winchester, from the place of his birth.
IV. LUTHER, who d. in 1191.
I. Maud, who m. Henry Burewin I., Prince of Wenden, and from this marriage derived the House of Mecklenburg and Queen Charlotte, consort of George III. of England.

Henry the Lion, d. 1195: his third son,

WILLIAM of Winchester, b. in 1184, was one of the hostages for the payment of the ransom of his uncle RICHARD CŒUR DE LION. He m. Helen, dau. of Waldemar I., King of Denmark, and left at his decease in 1213, an only son,

OTHO, surnamed Puer, who at the death of his uncle Henry, of Zelle, laid claim to Brunswick as heir male, in opposition to that prince's daughters, and establishing his right by the sword, was created by the Emperor Frederick II., DUKE OF BRUNSWICK-LUNEBURG. He m. Matilda, dau. of Albert II., Elector of Brandenburg, and dying in 1252, was succeeded by his eldest son,

ALBERT the Great, Duke of Brunswick, a renowned soldier, who, at the head of the Bohemians and Brunswickers, defeated a powerful army of Hungarians, and captured their king. In 1258, he took the fortress of Asseburg after three years' siege, and also acquired, by conquest, the lordship of WOLFENBUTTEL. His successful career terminated in 1279. By Adelheid, his second wife, dau. of Boniface III., Marquess of Montferrat, he left a dau. Matilda, m. to Eric VI., King of Denmark, and six sons, of whom, Luther and Conrad, were knights of St. John the Baptist, and Otto, a distinguished member of the chivalrous Order of the Temple. Among the other three sons, Henry, ALBERT, and William, their father divided his dominions. Of these,

ALBERT the Fat, succeeded to Gottingen, Northeim, Minden, &c. He m. Richenza, dau. of Henry, Prince of Wenden, and was father of

MAGNUS the Pious, whose youngest son (by Sophia, his wife, dau. of Henry, Margrave of Brandenburg),

MAGNUS, Torquatus, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, continued the line, and was slain in a war against the Count of Schaumburgh, in 1373. He m. Catherine, dau. of Waldimar I., Elector of Brandenburg, and left, with five daus., four sons, of whom the eldest, the Emperor Frederick, joined Wolfenbuttel to Brunswick, but d. s. p. in 1400, and the third,

BERNARD, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, continued the succession. He was father, by Margaret, his wife, dau. of Otho, Duke of Saxony, of a son,

FREDERICK the Pious, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, who retired in 1459, to a monastery at Zelle, leaving the cares of government to his eldest son,

BERNARD, at whose decease s. p., in 1464, the dominions devolved on his brother,

OTHO, the Magnanimous, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, a distinguished soldier, who m. in 1467, Ann, Countess of Nassau, Vianden, and Dietz, had a son and successor,

HENRY VI., the younger, Duke of Brunswick, who engaged in a war with his cousins, Henry, senior, and Eric I., Dukes of Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel, and gained a decisive victory over them in 1519. His wife was Margaret, dau. of Ernest, Elector of Saxony, and by her he had five sons and three daus. Of the former, the fourth,

ERNEST the Pious, b. 16 Jan. 1497, succeeded to Zelle, upon the abdication of his father. He m. Sophia, dau. of Henry, Duke of Mecklenburg, and d. 11 Jan. 1546, leaving, with other issue, two sons,

I. HENRY, Duke of Danneberg, from whom derived, third in descent,

FERDINAND ALBERT, Duke of Brunswick-Bevern, b. 1680; m. 1712, Antoinetta-Amelia, dau. of Lewis Rodolph, Prince of Blankenberg, and had issue,

1 CHARLES, his heir.
2 Anthony-Ulric, father of IVAN IV., Emperor of Russia.
3 Lewis-Ernest, tutor to the Prince of Orange.
4 Augustus.
5 FERDINAND, the famous General in the Seven Years' war, so celebrated for his victory of Minden.
6 Albert.
7 Frederick-William.
8 Frederic-Francis, fell at the Battle of Bautzen.
1 Elizabeth-Christina, Queen consort of Frederick the Great, of Prussia.
2 Louisa-Amelia, m. to William-Augustus, of Prussia.
3 Sophia-Antoinetta, who m. Ernest-Frederick, Duke of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld, and was great-grandmother of H.R.H. the late PRINCE CONSORT.
4 Juliana-Maria, m. to Frederick V., King of Denmark.

Ferdinand-Albert d. in 1735, and was succeeded by his son,

CHARLES, Duke of Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel, who m. Philippina-Charlotte, dau. of Frederick-William, King of Prussia, and dying in 1780, was succeeded by his eldest son,

CHARLES-WILLIAM-FERDINAND, Duke of Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel, b. 1735, a distinguished commander in the war with France, who received his death wound at the battle of Auerstadt, in 1806. He m. Augusta, dau. of Frederick-Lewis, Prince of Wales (father of GEORGE III., of England), and left (with two daus., Augusta, m. to Frederick-William, Duke of Wurtemberg, and CAROLINE, Queen of GEORGE IV. of England), two sons, the elder d. s. p.; the younger,

FREDERICK-WILLIAM, Duke of Brunswick, who succeeded, fell at Quatre Bras, 16 June, 1815, leaving by Mary-Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of Charles-Louis, hereditary Prince of Baden, two sons,

CHARLES-FREDERICK, Duke of Brunswick, b. 30 Oct. 1804; d. 19 Aug. 1873.
WILLIAM-MAXIMILIAN-FREDERICK, Duke of Brunswick, K.G., b. 25 April, 1806.

II. WILLIAM, of whose line we treat.

This

WILLIAM, founder of the new House of Luneburg, was b. 4 July, 1535, and succeeded to the government in 1559. He m. Dorothy, dau. of Christian III., King of Denmark, and had fifteen children. The sons having agreed amongst themselves not to divide the dukedom, determined that one only should marry, and decided by lot the individual; at the same time they agreed to reign primogeniturely, and those engagements they adhered to inviolably, to the admiration of all Europe. The matrimonial chance fell to the sixth son,

GEORGE, a great military commander, who learned the art of war under Prince Maurice, of Nassau. He m. in 1617, Anne-Eleanor, dau of Lewis V., Landgrave, of Hesse Darmstadt, and dying in 1641, from the effects of poison, left, besides four daus., four sons, viz.:

CHRISTIAN-LEWIS, Duke of Zelle, a great general, distinguished by his victory over Marshal Crequi. He d. s. p. 1665.
GEORGE-WILLIAM, of Calenburg and Gottingen, d. in 1675. He left an only dau. Sophia-Dorothea, the ill-fated consort of GEORGE I. of England.
JOHN-FREDERICK, who succeeded to Calenburg and Gottingen (the Hanoverian Dominions), at the death of his brother. He became a Catholic, and d. in Italy in 1679, leaving daus. only, one of whom Amelia, m. the Emperor Joseph I.
ERNEST-AUGUSTUS, Bishop of Osnaburg.

The three eldest sons dying without male issue, the principalities were reunited in the person of the youngest,

ERNEST-AUGUSTUS, Bishop of Osnaburg, who thus became Duke of Brunswick. This prince, who inherited the military talents of his family, was made 9th Elector of the Empire, in 1692, under the title of Elector of Hanover, and Arch Standard Bearer of the Empire. His Serene Highness m. SOPHIA, dau. of Frederick, Elector Palatine, and King of Bohemia, by ELIZABETH, his wife, dau. of JAMES I. of England, and had issue,

GEORGE-LEWIS, his successor.
Frederic-Augustus, an Imperial General, killed in the war against the Turks.
Maximilian-William, General of the Venetians, who d. in 1726.
Charles-Philip, colonel in the Imperial army, slain in the Turkish war in 1690.
Christian, drowned in an engagement with the French.
Ernest-Augustus, Bishop of Osnaburg, Duke of York and Albany, K.G., d. unm. 1728.
Sophia-Charlotte, m. to Frederick I., King of Prussia.

The Elector d. in 1698, and was succeeded by his eldest son,

GEORGE-LEWIS, Elector of Hanover, b. 28 May, 1660, who, under the Act of Settlement, and in right of his mother, Sophia, ascended the British throne as GEORGE I., and was crowned 20 Oct. 1714.

THE ROYAL HOUSE OF SAXE COBURG AND GOTHA.

THE FAMILY OF SAXE COBURG is one of the most ancient and illustrious of the sovereign houses of Europe. Its Princes, who frequently commanded armies and acquired great military renown, were as eminent in peace, as the munificent patrons of art, science, and literature. Originally Counts of Wettin, they became, by inheritance, Margraves of Meissen and Landgraves of Thuringia; and of the latter potent race, sole representatives at the decease of HERMANN, Landgrave of Thuringia and Emperor of Germany.

The reigning Duke of Saxe Coburg Gotha is chief of the Saalfeld branch of the ERNESTINE line of the House of Saxony. In that line the electorate vested at the decease of ALBERT III., in 1422, and remained until JOHN-FREDERICK, the Magnanimous, was deprived of his dominions by the Emperor CHARLES V., who conferred them, with the dignity of Elector of Saxony, on Duke Maurice of Meissen, representative of the Albertine branch, and direct ancestor of the present King of Saxony. Thus, but for the misfortunes of the Elector John-Frederick (the immediate progenitor of H.R.H. the PRINCE CONSORT), the chief of his house, the Grand Duke of Saxe Weimar would now be invested with the Sovereignty of Saxony.

CONRAD the Great, Count de Wettin, Margrave of Meissen, and Margrave of Lower Lusatia, son of Thimo, Margrave of Meissen, and grandson of Theodric II., Count de Wettin, representative of that distinguished line, joined the Crusade and d. in 1156. He had three sons, OTTO, the Rich; Dietrich, Margrave of Lusatia; and Henry, who m. Sophia, dau. of Leopold IV. of Austria. The eldest son,

OTTO the Rich, so named from the silver mine discovered at Freyburg, in 1170; m. Hedwige, dau. of Albert, Margrave of Brandenburg; and d. 1189, leaving two sons, Albert the Proud (who d. 1195) and THEODRIC, Margrave of Meissen. The 2nd son,

THEODRIC, Margrave of Meissen, m. Jutta, dau. of Herman, Landgrave of Thuringia, and dying in 1222, was s. by his son,

HENRY the Illustrious, Margrave of Meissen and Thuringia, one of the most powerful princes of his time, descended, through his mother, from Louis the Bearded, son of Charles, Duke of Lorraine, and grandson of Louis IV. of France. He m. Constance, dau. of Leopold VI., Duke of Austria, d. in 1288, and was s. by his son,

ALBERT the Froward, Landgrave of Thuringia, who d. in 1314, leaving, by Margaret, his first wife, dau. of the Emperor Frederick II., and grand-dau. of JOHN, King of England, two sons, FREDERICK, Margrave of Meissen and Thuringia; and Diezman, a distinguished soldier, killed in 1307. The elder son,

FREDERICK, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Otho von Arnshang; and d. in 1324, leaving a son,

FREDERICK the Grave, who aided John, King of France, in his war with Edward III. of England. He m. in 1329, Mechtild, dau. of the Emperor Louis VI., and was s. at his death, in 1349, by his son,

FREDERICK the Severe, who acquired Coburg by his marriage with Catherine, dau. of Count Henri de Henneberg. He d. in 1380, and was s. by his son,

FREDERICK I., the Warlike, who purchased the town and castle of Saalfeld, and became possessed, by the gift of the Emperor Sigismund in 1422, of the Duchy of Upper Saxony, and the dignity of Elector and Arch-Marshal of the Roman Empire. He m. Catherine, dau. of Henry, Duke of Brunswick, and d. in 1428, leaving FREDERICK, his heir, and William, Duke of Thuringia, who refused the Crown of Bohemia, and d. without male issue, in 1483. The elder son,

FREDERICK II., the Gentle, Elector of Saxony, d. in 1464, leaving two sons, ERNEST and ALBERT. These princes, after governing their country conjointly, according to their father's will, for more than twenty years, finally determined on a partition of their dominions, by which Ernest obtained the greater part of Thuringia, with the Electoral dignity, and Albert, who was one of the most distinguished warriors of his time, acquired Meissen. In this partition originated the distinction of the ERNESTINE and ALBERTINE Lines, which still subsists in the House of Saxony. From ALBERT, the second son, descends the ROYAL HOUSE OF SAXONY; from the elder son, ERNEST, the illustrious House of SAXE-WEIMAR AND SAXE COBURG. This

ERNEST, Elector of Saxony, d. 26 Aug. 1486, leaving, by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of Albert III., Duke of Munich, two sons, FREDERICK the Wise, Elector of Saxony, the patron of Luther, who d. unm. in 1525: and JOHN the Constant, Elector of Saxony. At the decease of the Emperor Maximilian, in 1519, Charles, King of Spain, and Francis I., King of France, offeredthemselves as candidates for the Imperial diadem. The Electors, however, objecting to both as foreigners, wished to place the Crown on the head of Frederick the Wise, but that prince, then far advanced in years, declined the dignity, and gave his support to the King of Spain. The 2nd son,

JOHN the Constant, Elector of Saxony, d. in 1532. He m. Sophia, dau. of Magnus, Duke of Mecklenburg, and was s. by his son,

JOHN-FREDERICK the Magnanimous, distinguished for his unbending integrity and many vicissitudes, who suffered much from the hostility of the Emperor Charles V., by whom he was taken prisoner at the Battle of Muhlberg, and deprived of the Electoral dignity and a great part of his dominions. These were conferred on his cousin, Duke Maurice of Meissen, who gave up Weimar, with some other towns and districts, to the children of the deposed Prince. John-Frederick the Magnanimous formed the plan of the celebrated Seminary, at Jena, which was afterwards completed by his son. He m. Sibylla, dau. of John, Duke of Cleve, and sister of Anne of Cleve, Queen of Henry VIII., and had two sons, JOHN-FREDERICK II., who d. in 1595, leaving two sons, who d. without issue; and JOHN-WILLIAM, who founded the House of SAXE WEIMAR and SAXE COBURG. The 2nd son,

JOHN-WILLIAM, Duke of Saxe Weimar, m. Dorothea-Susanna, dau. of FREDERICK III., Elector Palatine, and d. 1573, leaving two sons, viz., FREDERICK-WILLIAM, Duke of Saxe Altenburg, whose male line became extinct, 1672; and

JOHN, Duke of Saxe Weimar and Gotha, who m. Dorothea-Maria, dau. of Joachim Ernest, Prince of Anhalt, and had several sons, of whom

I. William, Duke of Saxe Weimar, d. 1662, leaving John-Ernest, Duke of Saxe Weimar, ancestor of the reigning DUKE OF SAXE-WEIMAR.
II. Albert, of Eisenach, d. s. p. 1644.
III. Bernard, a celebrated military commander, distinguished at Lützen, one of the heroes of the "Thirty Years War," known in German history as "the brave Duke of Weimar" and "the successor of the great Gustavus Adolphus"; d. 1639.
IV. ERNEST the Pious, ancestor of the House of SAXE COBURG GOTHA.

The Duke of Saxe Weimar d. 1605, in his thirty-sixth year; his youngest son,

ERNEST, the Pious, Duke of Saxe Gotha Coburg, partitioned his inheritance amongst his sons; to the eldest, Frederick, were assigned the Duchies of Saxe Gotha Altenburg, while the Duchy of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld was given to the youngest, JOHN ERNEST, the immediate ancestor of the late Prince Consort. Ernest the Pious m. Elizabeth-Sophia, only dau. of John-Philip, Duke of Saxe Altenburg, and had seven sons,

I. FREDERICK, Duke of Saxe Gotha Altenburg, d. 1691, whose line became extinct in 1825.
II. Albert, d. s. p. 1697.
III. Henry, d. s. p. 1710.
IV. Bernard, Duke of Saxe Meiningen, ancestor of the REIGNING DUKE OF SAXE MEININGEN, and of ADELAIDE, Queen Consort of William IV.
V. Christian, of Eisenberg, d. 1707.
VI. Ernest, ancestor of the present DUKE OF SAXE ALTENBURG.
VII. JOHN-ERNEST, ancestor of the House of SAXE COBURG GOTHA.

Ernest, Duke of Saxe Gotha Coburg, d. 1675. His youngest son,

JOHN-ERNEST, Duke of Saxe Saalfeld, had by Charlotte-Jane, his second wife, dau. of Josias, Count of Waldeck, two sons, viz., Christian-Ernest, Duke of Saxe Saalfeld, who d. unm. 1757, and

FRANCIS-JOSIAS, Duke of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld, b. in 1697, who m. 1723, Anne-Sophia, dau. of Lewis-Frederick, Prince of Schwartzbourg Polstadt, and had four sons and two daus.,

I. ERNEST-FREDERICK, his successor.
II. Christian.
III. Adolphus, killed when young in the seven years' war.
IV. Francis-Josias, who commanded the allied armies in the Netherlands at the opening of the French revolutionary war, and achieved the victory of Neerivinden; he had previously gained great distinction in the Turkish campaign, where he defeated the Grand Vizier, and conquered the principalities of Moldavia and Wallachia; for this brilliant achievement he received the bâton of Field Marshal and the Grand Cordon of Maria Theresa. This great soldier d. in 1815.
I. Sophia, m. the Duke of Mecklenburg Schwerin.
II. Amelia, m. the Margrave of Brandenburg Anspach.

Francis-Josias, Duke of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld, d. 1764, and was s. by his eldest son,

ERNEST-FREDERICK, Duke of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld, b. in 1724, who m. 1749, Sophia-Antoinette, dau. of Ferdinand-Albert, Duke of Brunswick Wolfenbuttel, and d. 1800, leaving a son,

FREDERICK-FRANCIS-ANTHONY, Duke of Saxe Coburg Saalfeld, b. 15 July, 1750; m. 1st, 6 March, 1776, Princess Frederica-Ernestine-Sophia (b. 22 Feb. 1760), dau. of Ernest-Frederick-Charles, Duke of Saxe Hildburghausen, but by her (who d. 28 Oct. 1776) had no issue; and 2ndly, 13 June, 1777, Augusta-Caroline-Sophia (b. 19 Jan. 1757), eldest dau. of Henry XXIV., Count of Reuss-Ebersdorff, and by her (who d. 16 Nov. 1832), His Serene Highness had issue,

I. ERNEST-FREDERICK-ANTHONY-CHARLES-LOUIS, Duke of Saxe Coburg and Gotha, his successor.
II. Ferdinand-George-Augustus (Duke), b. 28 March, 1785; m. 2 Jan. 1816, Princess Maria-Antoinette-Gabriella, only child of Francis-Joseph, Prince of Kohary; and d. 27 Aug. 1851, leaving by her (who d. 25 Sept. 1862) issue,
  1 Prince Ferdinand-Augustus-Francis-Anthony, Duke of Saxony, b. 29 Oct. 1816; m. 9 April, 1836, Donna Maria da Gloria, Queen of Portugal, and by her (who d. 15 Nov. 1853) left, Don Pedro, King of Portugal (who d. 11 Nov. 1861); Louis, present King of Portugal, and other issue.
  2 Prince Augustus-Louis-Victor, Major-General in the Austrian service, b. 13 June, 1818; m. 20 April, 1843, Princess Clementine, 3rd dau. of Louis-Philippe, King of the French, and d. 26 July, 1881, leaving issue.
  3 Prince Leopold-Francis-Julius, Major-General (retired) Austrian Service, b. 31 Jan. 1824.
  1 Princess Victoria-Augusta-Antoinetta, b. 14 Feb. 1822; m. 27 April, 1840, Louis, Duc de Nemours; and d. 10 Nov. 1857, leaving issue.
III. LEOPOLD (Prince), K.G., eventually King of the Belgians, b. 16 Dec. 1790; m. 1st, 2 May, 1816, H.R.H. the PRINCESS CHARLOTTE OF WALES, who d. s. p. 6 Nov. 1817; and 2ndly, 9 Aug. 1832, the Princess Louise of Orleans, eldest dau. of Louis-Philippe, King of the French, by whom (who d. 11 Oct. 1850) he left a son, Leopold II., King of the Belgians, and other issue. Prince Leopold was chosen King of the Belgians in 1831, and d. 10 Sept. 1865.

* Dukedom of Chatellerault.

The title of DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT was granted by Letters Patent, dated 5 Feb. 1548, to JAMES HAMILTON, 2ND EARL OF ARRAN, Regent of Scotland, and to his heirs, successors, and tenants cause" for ever.

The exact meaning of this limitation is explained by the 4th Article of the Royal Edict of Marly, of 1711, issued by LOUIS XIV.:—

"Par les termes d'hoirs et successeurs et par les termes tenants cause tant insérés dans les lettres d'érection ci-devant accordées, qu'à insérer dans celles qui pourraient être accordées à l'avenir, ne seront et ne pourront être entendus que les enfants mâles descendus de celui en faveur duquel l'érection aura été faite, et que les mâles qui en seront descendus de mâles en mâles, en quelque ligne et degré que ce soit."

The title of Duke of Chatellerault at the decease of JAMES, 2ND EARL OF ARRAN, AND 1ST DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, in 1575, became the inheritance of his eldest son JAMES, 3RD EARL OF ARRAN, who died unmarried. His brother, LORD JOHN HAMILTON, 1ST MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, had an only son, JAMES, 2ND MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, AND 3RD DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, who died 2 March, 1624–25, leaving three sons, and no other male issue. The youngest of these sons, Lord John Hamilton, died young and unmarried. The other two were—JAMES, 3RD MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, AND 4TH DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, and Lord William Hamilton, who eventually succeeded his brother,

JAMES, the 3RD MARQUIS OF HAMILTON (created Duke of Hamilton with special limitations), died 9 March, 1648–49,

Lineage.

Genealogical writers, Sir Robert Douglas and others, affirm that the Hamiltons derive their origin from the magnificent Norman race of De Bellomonts, Earls of Leicester, through the Lords of the Manor of Hamilton, in the co. of Leicester, who flourished there previous to the extinction of the De Bellomonts, and who are considered to have been a branch of that family. They carried the same arms as those of the Earls of Leicester, with the difference of THREE cinquefoils instead of ONE, as a mark of cadency; the ancient lords of the manor of Hamilton and the Hamiltons of Scotland bearing for their arms THREE cinquefoils ermine, on a field gules, whereas the De Bellomonts, Earls of Leicester, and their ancestors, the Counts of Mellent, bore ONE cinquefoil ermine, on a field gules. Without attempting, however, to trace the exact line of descent of the illustrious Scottish house of Hamilton from the great and powerful stock of the ancient De Bellomonts, Earls of Leicester, we commence with

SIR GILBERT DE HAMILTON, the immediate ancestor of the great family of Hamilton. He lived in the reign of ALEXANDER II., King of Scotland, and he is said to have m. Isabella Randolph, sister of Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray. He had issue two sons, I. Walter; II. John. The latter, Sir John FitzGilbert Hamilton, of Rossaven and Preston, was ancestor of a very distinguished branch of the Hamilton family, the Hamiltons, Baronets of Preston. Sir Gilbert de Hamilton's eldest son,

SIR WALTER FITZ GILBERT HAMILTON swore fealty to King EDWARD I. in 1292, 1294. Attaching himself to King ROBERT BRUCE, he had grants of Kenel (Kinniel), of Cadzow (Hamilton), which became the chief lordship and seat of the Hamilton family. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir Adam Gordon, Lord of Gordon, by whom he had issue, I. DAVID; II. JOHN. The younger son, John Hamilton, was father of Sir Alexander Hamilton, of Innerwick, who, before 1389, m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Stewart, Earl of Angus. His great-grandson, Hugh, of Innerwick, had two sons, I. JAMES, ancestor of the Hamiltons, of Innerwick; II. THOMAS, ancestor of the Earls of Haddington. The elder son was

SIR DAVID HAMILTON, 2nd Lord of Cadzow. In 1346 he was made prisoner at the battle of Durham. In 1361, he was a benefactor to the see of Glasgow, and was one of the Magnates Scotiæ who consented to the settlement of the crown in 1371. He d. 1374. He m. Margaret, dau. of William, 7th Earl of Ross, by whom he had two sons, I. DAVID; II. WALTER. The latter, Walter Hamilton, was ancestor of the family of Hamilton, of Cambuskeith, in the co. of Ayr. The elder son,

SIR DAVID HAMILTON, 3rd Lord of Cadzow, had grants of land from King ROBERT II. in 1377. He d. before 1392. He m. Jonetta Keith, dau. of Sir William Keith, of Galston, by whom he had issue, I. JOHN; II. GEORGE, ancestor of Hamilton, of Boreland, in the co. of Ayr, and its cadets Hamilton, of Blantyrefarme, and Hamilton, of Olivestob; III. WILLIAM, ancestor of Hamilton, of Bathgate, in the co. of Linlithgow; IV. ANDREW, ancestor of Hamilton, of Udston, in the co. of Lanark, and Hamilton of Barncluith, in the same county. Both families ended in heiresses who m. into the family of Hamilton of Neilsland, a leaving one only child, a daughter, ANNE, DUCHESS OF HAMILTON, of whom the EARL OF DERBY is heir-general, and the Duke of Hamilton a descendant. At the death of this James, 3rd Marquess and 1st Duke of Hamilton, his only surviving brother,

LORD WILLIAM HAMILTON, became 2ND DUKE OF HAMILTON, AND 5TH DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, and died 1651, without leaving any heir male of his body, whereupon the male succession—that is, the male representation of James, 2nd Earl of Arran, 1st Duke of Chatellerault—devolved upon his kinsman, JAMES HAMILTON, 2ND EARL OF ABERCORN, who then became the heir designated by the limitation in the patent conferring the Dukedom of Chatellerault. This James, 2nd Earl of Abercorn, was heir male of the house of Hamilton, heir male of the Earls of Arran, and lineal descendant and heir male of the 1st Duke of Chatellerault. His direct descendant, "de mâles en mâles," and representative in blood is JAMES, present DUKE OF ABERCORN.

SIR JOHN HAMILTON, 4th Lord of Cadzow, s. his father before 1392. He m. Janet Douglas, dau. of Sir James Douglas, of Dalkeith, ancestor to the Earl of Morton, by the Lady Agnes Dunbar, dau. of Patrick, 9th Earl of March and Dunbar, and descended paternally and maternally from the royal family of Scotland, through the sister and aunt of King ROBERT BRUCE. He had issue,

I. JAMES.
II. DAVID, ancestor of the family of Hamilton, of Dalserf.
III. Thomas, of Darngaber, who was ancestor of the Hamiltons, of Raploch, of whom were the 2nd and subsequent Lords Belhaven and the Earl of Clanbrassill.

Sir John Hamilton, 4th Lord of Cadzow, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JAMES HAMILTON, 5th Lord of Cadzow, who, being one of the principal nobles of Scotland, was a hostage for the ransom of King JAMES I. from England in 1424. He m. Janet Livingstone, dau. of Sir Alexander Livingstone, of Callendar, ancestor of the Earl of Linlithgow, the great justiciary of Scotland, and the most powerful man in the kingdom during a portion of the minority of King JAMES II., and by her had issue,

I. JAMES, his heir.
II. Alexander, ancestor of the families of Hamilton, of Silvertonhill, and Hamilton, of Newton.
III. GAVIN, a churchman, provost of the collegiate church of Bothwell, 1453; previous to entering into holy orders he m. and was ancestor of the Hamiltons, of Orbieston, now represented by LORD HAMILTON, of Dalzell. (See that title.)

Sir James Hamilton, 5th Lord of Cadzow, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JAMES HAMILTON, 6th Lord of Cadzow, who was created a lord of parliament by royal charter, 28 June, 1445, as LORD HAMILTON. He at first joined in the Douglas revolt of 1455, but coming over to the King's side, gave valuable assistance in suppressing it. This nobleman obtained a grant, dated 1 July, 1455, of the office of sheriff of the county of Lanark; and subsequently, grants of extensive territorial possessions. He m. 1st, Lady Euphemia Graham, eldest dau. of Patrick, Earl of Strathern, Dowager of Archibald, 5th Earl of Douglas, by whom he had an only dau., Elizabeth, m. to David, 5th Earl of Crauford, Duke of Montrose. Lord Hamilton m. 2ndly, in 1474, the Princess Mary, eldest dau. of JAMES II., and relict of Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran; and dying in 1479, was s. by his only son,

JAMES, 2nd lord, who obtained a charter of the lands and Earldom of Arran, dated 10 Aug. 1503, to himself and his heirs male, in failure of which, to revert to the crown. This nobleman, who took a prominent part in the affairs of Scotland, was constituted lieut.-gen. of the kingdom, warden of the marches, and one of the Lords of the Regency, in 1517; and on the forfeiture of the Earl of Angus he obtained the lordship of Bothwell. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Lord Hume, Chancellor of Scotland, divorced 1509; 2ndly, Beatrix, dau. of John, Lord Drummond, by whom he had an only dau.,

The earl d. in 1530, and was s. by his son,

JAMES, 2nd earl. This nobleman, upon the death of JAMES V., in 1542, was unanimously chosen Regent of Scotland by the nobles assembled for that purpose, the public voice applauding their choice; the next year he was declared by parliament HEIR PRESUMPTIVE to the crown, appointed guardian to Queen MARY, and governor of the realm during her majesty's minority. In 1548, his lordship was invested with the French order of St. Michael, and made, in 1549, by HENRY II. of France, DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, *in Poictou. He m. Lady Margaret Douglas, eldest dau. of James, 3rd Earl of Morton, and had, with three daus., Barbara, m. 1st, to James, Lord Fleming, 2ndly, to Alexander, Lord Gordon; Anne, m. to George, Earl of Huntly; and Jane, m. to Hugh, Earl of Eglinton, four sons, viz.,

I. JAMES, his successor.
II. JOHN, Marquess of Hamilton.
III. David, d. unm. 1611.
IV. CLAUD, ancestor of the Duke of Abercorn now heir male of the House of Hamilton. Lord Claud, b. 1543, was amongst the most zealous partisans of MARY Queen of Scots, and was a very gallant and distinguished personage. He commanded the vanguard for Queen MARY at the battle of Langside, in 1568; he was consequently outlawed, and his estate forfeited by the Regent Moray; but in 1573, King JAMES VI., in consideration of the loyalty and devotion of the Hamiltons to his royal mother, restored them all to their rank and fortune. Lord Claud further obtained from King JAMES, 29 July, 1587, a grant of the whole barony of Paisley, with the dignity of BARON PAISLEY. He m. Margaret, only dau. of George, 5th Lord Seton, and d. 1621, having had issue, s lordship d. 22 Jan. 1575, and was s. by his eldest son, JAMES, 3rd earl. This nobleman, upon the arrival of een MARY, in 1561, openly aspired to her hand, but opsing the Queen's free exercise of her religion, and entering rotestation against it, his lordship entirely forfeited her vour. His love, however, inflamed by disappointment, d his impatience exasperated by neglect, gradually preyed on his reason, and after many extravagances, broke out last in ungovernable frenzy. He was, in consequence clared to be in a state of insanity by the cognition of an quest passed on a brief directed out of the Court of Chan-cy, and the estates of his deceased father devolved upon s brother,

LORD JOHN HAMILTON, who, with his younger brother, aud, was banished from Scotland in 1579; but returned 1585, the act of forfeiture which had been passed being nulled; and was elevated to the peerage, 17 April, 1599, Marquess of Hamilton. This nobleman remained fast in s allegiance to MARY, Queen of Scots; and so con-ous was the unfortunate princess of his fidelity, that one her latest acts was to transmit to him a ring (which is ll treasured in the family) through the medium of an at-ndant. His lordship m. Margaret, only dau. of John, 8th rd Glamis, and dying 12 April, 1604, was s. by his only son,

JAMES, 2nd marquess, K.G., b. 1586; who, upon the demise his uncle James (already mentioned as insane), Earl of rran, in 1609, inherited that nobleman's honours. His rdship obtained an English peerage, 16 June, 1619, by the les of Baron of nnerdale, in Cumberland, and Earl of mbridge, and was installed a Knight of the Garter, at indsor, 7 July, 1623. This nobleman, attending King JAMES II., after the Revolution, from France, was sworn of the privy council upon his arrival in Dublin. His lordship on the discomfiture of his royal master at the Boyne, having embarked for France, lost his life in the voyage, 1690. After his death he was outlawed, 11 May, 1691, and forfeited the estates and title of Strabane; but the earldom of Abercorn devolved upon his brother,

CHARLES, 5th earl, who, the late lord's attainder having been reversed, succeeded likewise to the restored title and estate of Strabane; but left no issue at his decease in 1701, when the honours and estates devolved on his kinsman (revert to Sir George Hamilton, Baronet, of Donalong, 4th son of James, 1st Earl of Abercorn),

JAMES, 6th earl, who had declined assuming the title of baronet at the decease of his grandfather, 1679, but was known as Captain Hamilton. This gentleman was in the military service and confidence of JAMES II., but espousing the cause of WILLIAM, took a distinguished part at the siege of Londonderry against his royal master. Succeeding to the Earldom of Abercorn, his lordship, in virtue thereof, took his seat, in 1706, as a member of the Scottish Parliament. Ireland was, however, the usual place of his residence; and of that realm, 2 Sept. 1701, he was created Baron Mountcastle and Viscount Strabane. The earl m. in 1686, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Sir Robert Reading, Bart. of Dublin, by whom he had issue nine sons and four daus. ABERCROMBY.

Abercromby, Sir George-William, Bart. of Birkenbog, co. Banff, b. 18 March, 1886; s. his father as 8th bart. in 1895.

Lineage.

The lands of Abercromby, in Fife, gave name to a family of Abercromby of that ilk, whose direct line ended in the 17th century, and since then the Abercrombys of Birkenbog, co. Banff, have considered themselves the chief family of the name. The ancestors of the latter were, in the 14th century, possessors of Pitmedden, Ardune, Harthill &c., in Aberdeenshire. A charter by Thomas, Earl of Mar, confirmed to Alexander Abercromby, a grant by the Bishop of Aberdeen, of the lands of the park of Galcross (now called Birkenbog), Aberdeen, 1 Nov. 1362. Humphrey Abercromby, of Pitmedden (1457) was s. by his son, Alexander (1488), father of another Alexander, who m. Marjory Mowat, and had,

George Abercromby, of Pitmedden, served to his father, 1505, whose various lands were by charter dated 18 Feb. 1512-13, united into the barony of Pitmedden. He m. 1st, Christian Barclay; 2ndly, Margaret Gordon, and by his first marriage had a son and heir,

James Abercromby, of Pitmedden, put in possession in his father's lifetime (1527), m. 1st, Marjory Hay; 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Gilbert Gray, of Scheves, and had two sons, I. William, who as heir apparent had charter of Westhall, 1544; II. Alexander, who s. his father,

Alexander Abercromby, of Pitmedden, served to his father, 1549, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Lesly, of Pitcaple. His son, Alexander Abercromby, of Pitmedden, murdered at the moss of Cokstown, 12 March, 1593, m. Margaret, dau. of William Lesly, of Balquhain, and had,

I. James, of Birkenbog, of whom below.

II. Hector, of Fetternear, co. Aberdeen, whose son, Alexander, of Fetternear, m. Jean, dau. of John Seton, of Newark, and had three sons, I. Francis, who having m. Anne, Baroness Sempill, was created Lord Glassfoord for life, 3 July, 1685; II. John; III. Patrick, M.D., author of "The Martial Achievements of the Scottish Nation."

James Abercromby, of Birkenbog, the elder son, was father of Alexander Abercromby, of Birkenbog, who was grand falconer in Scotland to King Charles I., and who m. in 1602, Elizabeth, dau. of Bethune (or Beaton) of Balfour, and had three sons, I. Alexander (Sir), of Birkenbog; II. John of Glassaugh; and III. Walter, of Brakenhills; and two daus., Lucretia, m. 1632, George Leslie, of Kincragie; and Elizabeth, m. George Nicholson, of Kemnay and Balcaskie. The eldest son,

I. Alexander Abercromby, of Birkenbog, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1636, M.P. for Banffshire. Sir Alexander took so active a part against King Charles that an historian of the period characterizes him as "a main covenanter." In May, 1645, he joined Major Urry and was at the battle of Auldearn; but Montrose retaliated by quartering himself and some of his troops at Birkenbog. Sir Alexander m. 1st, Jean, dau. of Sir Thomas Urquhart of Cromarty, s.p.; 2ndly, Jean, dau. of Sutherland, of Kinminity, s. p.; 3rdly, 22 Aug. 1668, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir James Baird, of Auchmedden (afterwards wife of Col. Patrick Ogilvie, of Inchmartine), by whom he had two sons, James, his heir; and Alexander, ancestor of Lord Abercromby. Sir Alexander was s. by his eldest son,

Lineage.

The Gordons, Earls of Aberdeen, derive in the male line from the family from whom the Dukes of Gordon and Marquesses of Huntly come by female descent.

JAMES GORDON, younger son of John Gordon, of Scudargue (see HUNTLY, MARQUESS OF), was father of Patrick Gordon, of Methlick, who fell under the Earl of Huntly at Arbroath in 1445, and who had (with younger issue, including Alexander Gordon, Bishop of Aberdeen, 1516-18), a son and heir,

PATRICK GORDON, of Methlic and Haddo, who obtained charters under the great seal, from JAMES III., in 1481, from JAMES IV. in 1505, and from JAMES V. in 1514. Mr. Gordon lived to a great age, and dying in 1531, was s. by his grandson (the only son of George Gordon, who d. v. p.).

JAMES GORDON, of Methlic and Haddo, whose property grants from JAMES V. considerably enlarged. In the beginning of MARY'S troubles this gentleman was one of those who signed the association, in 1567, for the defence of the young Prince JAMES; but upon ascertaining that the queen had been imposed upon, he joined the Earl of Huntly, her majesty's lieutenant in the north, adhered faithfully and firmly to her interests ever after, and obtained royal charters of several other lands and baronies. He m. Marjory, dau. of Sir Thomas Menzies, of Pitfoddels, comptroller of Scotland; and dying in 1582, was s. by his grandson,

JAMES GORDON, of Methlic and Haddo (only son of Patrick Gordon, by Agnes, dau. of Alexander Frazer, of Muchal). This gentleman m. Jean, dau. of William, Lord Keith, and was s. in 1624, by (the only son of John Gordon, by Margaret, dau. of Sir Alexander Baunerman, of Elsick) his grandson,

SIR JOHN GORDON, of Haddo, who was second in command to the Marquess of Huntly, over the forces raised against the Covenanters in 1630, and created a BARONET OF NOVA SCOTIA, by CHARLES I., in 1642, for his distinguished conduct at the battle of Turreff. In the following year Sir John defended the house of Kellie against the Covenanters, but, being obliged to capitulate, he was sent to Edinburgh, and imprisoned in a church there, which afterwards bore the name of Haddo's Hole. He was subsequently tried, condemned, and executed at the cross of Edinburgh, in 1644, the first Royalist who suffered death by a judicial sentence. His estates were forfeited, and they remained under sequestration until the restoration of CHARLES II., when they were inherited by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN GORDON, of Haddo, who m. Mary, only dau. of Alexander, 1st Lord Forbes, of Pitsligo, by whom he had an only child, Jean, m. to Sir James Gordon, of Lesmoir, bart. He d. in 1665, and was s. by his brother,

Lineage.

The noble, ancient, and illustrious family of Nevill, "to mediæval England what the Douglas was to Scotland," was founded in England by Gilbert de Nevil, a Norman, one of the companions in arms of the Conqueror. The senior line of his descendants, the famous family of Nevill of Raby, afterwards Earls of Westmorland, is fully given in Burke's Extinct and Dormont Peerage, which see.

Sir Edward Nevill, K.G., 4th son of Ralph, 1st Earl of Westmorland, by his 2nd wife, Joane, dau. of John of Gaunt, and uncle of Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick and Salisbury, commonly called the King Maker. He m. Lady Elizabeth Beauchamp, only child of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Worcester, by Isabel Le Despencer his wife, and granddau. of William Beauchamp, K.G., 4th son of Thomas, Earl of Warwick, who was summoned to parliament from 23 Nov. 1392, to 26 Aug. 1408, as "Willielm Beauchamp, de Bergavenny," and d. 1419. Sir Edward thus becoming possessed of the castle and lands of Bergavenny, was summoned to parliament as Baron Bergavenny, from Sept. 1450 (29 Hen. VI.), to 19 Aug. 1472, (12 Edw. IV). His lordship was a Yorkist, and high in the confidence of Edward IV. He had issue by the heiress of the Beauchamps, Richard, who predeceased him; George, his successor; Alice, m. to Sir Thomas Grey, Knt.; and Katherine, m. to — Iwarby, Esq. His lordship m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir Robert Howard, Knt., and sister of John, Duke of Norfolk, by whom he had three daus., Margaret, m. to John Brooke, Lord Cobham; Catharine, m. to Robert Tanfield; Anne, m. to Lord Strange. He d. 18 Oct. 1476, and was s. by his son,

Sir George Nevill (who had been knighted at the celebrated battle of Tewkesbury, 9 May, 1471), as 2nd Lord Bergavenny of this family. His lordship m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Hugh Feune, Knt., Treasurer of the Household to Henry VI., and had by that lady, who d. 28 Sept. 1485, with other issue,

I. George, his successor.
II. Edward (Sir), of Aldington Park, in Kent, a military man of high reputation, and a knight-banneret in the time of Henry VIII. He was eventually, however, attainted and beheaded, on the charge "of devising to maintain, promote, and advance, one Reginald Pole, late Dean of Exeter, enemy of the king, beyond the sea, and to deprive the king." Sir Edward Neville had m. Eleanor, dau. of Andrew, Lord Windsor, and widow of Ralph, Lord Scrope, of Upsal, by whom he left,

1 Edward, who s. as 5th Baron Bergavenny.
2 Henry, of Billingbeer, co. Berks, from whom descended the Nevilles of that co., ancestors of the Lords Braybrooke.
1 Catherine, m. to Clement Throckmorton, Esq. of Haseley, co. Warwick.
2 Frances, m. 1st, Sir Edward Waldegrave; and 2ndly, Lord Chedioc Paulet, 3rd son of William, 1st Marquess of Winchester.
3 Elizabeth, m. to Thomas Haynes.
4 Mary, m. Edward Dynely.

His lordship m. a second time. He d. 20 Sept. 1492, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir George Nevill, 3rd Lord Bergavenny. This nobleman was created a knight of the Bath in the reign of Edward V.; was distinguished against the Cornish rebels temp. Henry VII.; and became the companion in arms of Henry VIII. in his French wars. From the last monarch he obtained the Garter, with many high and important commands, and was summoned to parliament in the 21st of the king's reign, as "George Nevyle de Bergavenny, Chivaler." At the coronation of Queen Anne Boleyn, his lordship claimed successfully the office of chief larderer. He d. 27th of Henry VIII., and was s. by his eldest son (by Mary, his 3rd wife, dau. of Edward Stafford, Duke of Buckingham),

Henry, who was summoned to parliament as 4th Lord Bergavenny, in the 3rd and 4th of Edward VI. This nobleman was committed to ward, for striking the Earl of Oxford in the chamber of presence, but obtained, within a month, special pardon for the offence. His lordship was one of the peers who sat in judgment upon Queen Mary of Scotland. He m. 1st, Frances, dau. of Thomas Manners, Earl of Rutland; 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Stephen Darrell, of Spelmonden, in Horsmonden, Kent, (she m. 2ndly, Sir William Sidley, Bart.). By his first wife he left at his decease, 10 Feb. 1586-7, an only dau., Elizabeth, the wife of Sir Thos. Fane, Knt., who then claimed the barony of Bergavenny; but, after a long investigation, the House of Lords decided that the said barony belonged to the heir male; whereupon the crown, to give some satisfaction to the heir female, granted, by letters patent, the barony of Le Despencer to her ladyship and her heirs; and her cousin (revert to Sir Edward Neville, 2nd son of George, 2nd baron),

Edward Neville, was confirmed in the barony of Bergavenny, as 5th baron. His lordship m. 1st, Catherine, dau. of Sir John Brome, of Halton, in Oxfordshire, by whom he had four sons. He m. 2ndly, Grisold, dau. of Thomas Hughes, Esq. of Uxbridge, but by that lady (who m. 2ndly, Francis, 4th Earl of Cumberland) had no issue. He d. in 1589, and was s. by his eldest son,

Edward, as 6th Baron Bergavenny, summoned to parliament from 19 March, 1604, to 14 Nov. 1621. This nobleman claimed (2nd James I.), the Earldom of Westmorland, but unsuccessfully. He m. Rachael, dau. of John Lennard, Esq. of Knoll, in Kent, and had, with other issue,

Henry, his successor.
Christopher (Sir), of Newton St. Looe, Somersetshire, K.B., who m. Mary, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Darcy, Esq. of Tolleshunt Darcy, in Essex, and was s. by his son, Richard, Neville, who m. Sophia, dau. of Sir George Carew, was s. 1643, by his son, George Neville, Esq. of Sheffield, co. Sussex, who m. Mary, dau. of Sir Bulstrode Whitelocke, Knt., and left two sons, 1 George, who inherited as 11th Baron of Abergavenny; and 2 Edward, commodore R.N., m. Hannah, dau. of Mr. Jervoise Thorp, and dying 1701, left a son and dau., viz., William, who s. as 14th Lord Abergavenny; and Mary, m. to Charles Chamberlain Rebow, Esq. of Smallfield Place, Surrey.

His lordship d. 1 Dec. 1622, and was s. by his eldest son,

Henry, 7th Baron Abergavenny, who m. 1st, Lady Mary Sackville, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Dorset, lord-treasurer of England, by whom he had an only son, Sir Thomas Neville, K.B., who predeceased him, leaving several children, of whom daus. alone survived. His lordship m. 2ndly, Katherine, sister of Edward, Lord Vaux of Harrowden, and dying 1641, was s. by the eldest son of this marriage,

John, 8th Baron Abergavenny, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Chamberlaine, of Sherborne Castle, co. Oxford, but d. s. p. 23 Oct. 1662, and was s. by his only brother,

George, 9th Baron Abergavenny, who m. Mary, sister of Sir Henry Gifford, bart., and dau. of Thomas Gifford, M.D., of Dunton Waylet, in Essex, and dying 1666, was s. by his only son,

George, 10th Baron Abergavenny, who m. Honora, dau. of John, Lord Belasyse of Worlaby, but d. s. p. 26 March, 1694-5, when the barony passed to his kinsman (revert to descendants of Sir Christopher Neville, son of Edward, 6th lord),

George, 11th baron, who m. Anne, dau. of Nehemiah Walker, co. Middlesex (she m. 2ndly, John, 1st Earl De la Warr), and dying 11 March, 1720-1, was s. by his elder son,

George, 12th baron, b. 16 May, 1702; m, 19 March, 1722-3, Elizabeth, eldest sister and co-heir of Gideon Thornicroft, of Dodington and Linstead, Kent, but d. s. p. 15 Nov. 1723, and was s. by his brother,

Lineage.

The family of Acland is one of great antiquity. The pedigree recorded in the Visitation of Devon, A.D. 1620, commences with BALDWIN ECCELIN, whose son, BALDWIN ACALEN, of Acalen, in the parish of Land Key, Devon, was living temp. HENRY III., but the antiquity of the family is also shown by a deed in Pole's MS. Deeds and Charters, in which mention is made of HUGH DE ACALEN, temp. HENRY II. The Visitation pedigree carries down the family link by link to HUGH ACLAND, of Acland, living at the time the Visitation was made. He was eldest son of JOHN AKELAND, of Akeland, by Margaret, his wife, dau. and co-heiress of Hugh Radcliffe, of Stepney, and elder brother of Sir John Acland, Knt. of Columb John, High Sheriff of Devon in 1608. ii. Violet-Louisa-Marjory, b. 1 March, 1880.

Lineage.

SIR EDWARD BRUCE, of Kinloss (see ELGIN, E.), was created a peer of Scotland, as Baron Kinloss, 2 Feb. 1601; d. 14 Jan. 1611, and was s. by his eldest son,

EDWARD, 2nd Lord Kinloss, K.B., who d. 1613, and was s. by his brother,

THOMAS BRUCE, 3rd Lord Kinloss, who had previously (18 July, 1633) been elevated to the Scottish Earldom of Elgin, and the Scottish Barony of Bruce of Kinloss. His lordship m. 1st, 1622, Anne, dau. of Sir Robert Chichester, Knt. of Raleigh, co Devon, by whom (who d in 1627) he had an only son, ROBERT, his successor. He m. 2ndly, Anne, dau., and co-heir of William, Lord Burghley, and widow of Henry de Vere, Earl of Oxford, but had no other issue. He d. in Dec. 1663, and was s. by his son,

ROBERT, 2nd Earl of Elgin, Lord Kinloss, Lord Bruce of Kinloss, and Lord Bruce of Whorlton, who, for the very essential services rendered to CHARLES I., and his lordship's active exertions in promoting the Restoration, was created in the English peerage, 18 March, 1663-4, Baron Bruce of Skelton, co. York; Viscount Bruce of Ampthill, co. Bedford; and Earl of Ailesbury, co. Bucks. He m. 16 Feb. 1645-6, Diana, dau. of Henry Grey, 1st Earl of Stamford, by whom he had eight sons and nine daus. At the coronation of JAMES II. 23 April, 1685, the Earl of Ailesbury was one of the lords who bore St. Edward's staff, and he was appointed, 30 July following, LORD CHAMBERLAIN OF THE HOUSEHOLD. He d. 20 Oct. in the same year, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

THOMAS, 3rd Earl of Elgin, and 2nd Earl of Ailesbury, who m. 1st, 31 Aug. 1676, Elizabeth, only surviving dau. of Henry, Lord Beauchamp, son of William, Marquess of Hertford (afterwards 2nd Duke of Somerset), and at the death of her brother, William, 3rd Duke of Somerset, 26 Sept 1671, sole heir to Tottenham Park, and Savernake Forest, in Wiltshire, besides divers estates in that and other counties. By this great heiress his lordship had issue,

Robert, b. 6 Aug. 1679; d. young.
CHARLES, his successor, who was summoned to parliament in the lifetime of his father, as Lord Bruce.
Elizabeth, m. to George Brudenell, 3rd Earl of Cardigan, by whom she had four sons; the youngest of whom

THOMAS BRUDENELL, s. his uncle, the Earl of Aylesbury in the Barony of Bruce of Tottenham.

The Earl of Ailesbury, although amongst the first to invite the Prince of Orange into England, as a mediator between the crown and the people, peremptorily refused to sanction his advancement to the throne, or to swear allegiance to the government of the Revolution, and having raised the suspicion of the Court of WILLIAM III., he was committed to the Tower, which so affected the countess that she died in childbed, 12 Jan. 1696-7. His lordship subsequently obtained leave from the King to reside at Brussels, where, in 1700, he m. Charlotte, d'Argentau, Countess d'Esseneux in Flanders, and by her (who d. 23 July, 1710) had an only dau.,

Charlotte-Maria, who m. in 1722, Maximilian-Emanuel, Prince of Hornes, and d. in 1736, leaving several children.

His lordship d. in Nov. 1741, and was s. by his only surviving son,

CHARLES, 4th Earl of Elgin, and 3rd Earl of Ailesbury, who m. 1st, Lady Anne Saville, eldest dau. and co-heir of William, Marquess of Halifax, and by her (who d. 18 July, 1717) had,

ROBERT, Lord Bruce, who m. Frances, dau. of Sir William Blacket, Bart., and d. s. p. in the lifetime of his father.
Mary, m. in 1728, to Henry Bridges, Duke of Chandos, and was mother of James, Duke of Chandos, de jure 7th Lord Kinloss, whose dau. and heiress, Lady Anna-Eliza Brydges, de jure Baroness Kinloss, m. Richard, Duke of Buckingham, K.G., and their grandson, Richard-Plantagenet-Campbell, 3rd Duke of Buckingham, established his right to be Lord Kinloss (see KINLOSS, BARONS).
Elizabeth, m. to the Hon. B. Bathurst; d. s. p.

His lordship m. 2ndly, 16 Jan. 1720, Lady Juliana Boyle, 2nd dau. of Charles, Earl of Burlington, but by that lady (who d. 26 March, 1739) had no issue. He m. 3rdly, 18 June, 1739, Caroline, only dau. of Gen. John Campbell, of Mamore, afterwards Duke of Argyll, and by her (who re-m. Field-Marshall H.-S. Conway) had

In consequence of the failure of male issue, his lordship obtained, 17 April, 1746, by patent, the Barony of Bruce of Tottenham, co. Wilts, with remainder to his nephew, the Hon. Thomas Brudenell. At his death, 10 Feb. 1747, the earldom of Ailesbury, &c., became extinct: the Scottish title of Kinloss descended de jure to James, Duke of Chandos; the Scottish earldom and the barony of Bruce of Kinloss devolved upon Charles, 9th Earl of Kincardine, and the barony of Bruce, created as above, descended to his nephew,

THE HON. THOMAS BRUDENELL, 2nd baron, K.T., who thereupon assumed the additional name and arms of Bruce. His lordship, b. 13 April, 1739; m. 1st, 17 Feb. 1761, Susanna, dau. of Henry Hoare, Esq. of Stourhead, co. Wilts, and relict of Viscount Dungarvan, by whom (who d. 4 Feb. 1783) he had,

CHARLES, 1st marquess.
Caroline-Anne, d. unm. in 1824.
Frances-Elizabeth, m. in 1799, to Sir Henry Wright-Wilson, Knt. of Chelsea Park, co. Middlesex, who d. in 1832. Lady Wilson d. in 1836.

He m. 2ndly, 14 Feb. 1788, Anne, 3rd dau. of John, 1st Earl of Moira, who d. 8 Jan. 1813, s. p. Lord Bruce was created, 10 June, 1776, EARL OF AILESBURY. His lordship d. 19 April, 1814, and was s. by his son.

CHARLES, 2nd earl, K.T., b. 12 Feb. 1773, who was created, 17 July, 1821, Viscount Savernake, Earl Bruce, and MARQUESS OF AILESBURY. He m. 1st, 10 April, 1793, Henrietta-Maria, dau. of Noel, 1st Lord Berwick, and by her (who d. 2 Jan. 1831) had issue,

I. GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK, 2nd marquess.
II. ERNEST-AUGUSTUS-CHARLES, 3rd marquess.
I. Maria-Caroline-Anne, m. 17 July, 1819, Comte de Mondreville, col. of the late royal garde-du-corps and knight of St. Louis, &c.; and d. in 1835.
II. Augusta-Frederica-Louisa, m. 1826, to Thomas-Frederick Vernon-Wentworth, Esq. of Wentworth Castle, co. York, who d. 13 Sept. 1885.
III. Mary-Anne-Jemima, d. in July, 1841.
IV. Elizabeth, m. in 1833, to Count Christian Danneskiold-Samsoe, of Denmark, and d. in 1848, leaving issue: their eldest dau. Henrietta was m. 15 Oct. 1863, to Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Henry Byng, and d. 11 Jan. 1880; Count Samsoe, d. 4 April, 1886.

His lordship m. 2ndly, 20 Aug. 1833, Maria, youngest dau. of the Hon. Charles Tollemache, and by her (who d. 7 May, 1893) had issue,

III. Charles-William (Rt. Hon.), P.C., capt. 1st life guards, and hon. major royal Wilts yeomanry, M.P. for North Wilts, 1865 to 1874, and for Marlborough, 1878 to 1885, Vice-Chamberlain to the Queen 1880-1885, b. 18 June, 1834; m. 2 Feb. 1860, Augusta-Georgiana-Sophia, 3rd dau. of Frederick-Charles-William Seymour, Esq., and great-granddau. of Francis, 1st Marquess of Hertford. He d. 16 April, 1897.

The marquess d. 4 Jan. 1856, and was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK, K.G., 2nd marquess, b. 20 Nov. 1804, who was summoned to the House of Lords in his father's barony, 1838; made a Knight of the Garter 24 May, 1864; s. his father as 2nd marquess, in his marquisate and earldom and minor honours, 4 Jan. 1856; and his kinsman as 8th Earl of Cardigan, in his earldom, barony, and baronetcy, 27 March, 1868; m. 11 May, 1837, Lady Mary-Caroline Herbert (who d. 20 Jan. 1892) dau. of George-Augustus, 11th Earl of Pembroke, and d. 6 Jan. 1878, when he was s. by his next brother,

ERNEST-AUGUSTUS-CHARLES, 3rd marquess, lord-lieut. co. Berks; b. 8 Jan. 1811; Vice-Chamberlain to the Queen from 1841 to 1846, and again from 1852 to 1858; m. 25 Nov. 1834, the Hon. Louisa-Elizabeth, 2nd dau. of John, 2nd Lord Decies, and by her (who d. 14 Oct. 1891) had issue,

Lineage.

The first of the family mentioned in any charter, Nisbet informs us, is DUNCAN DE CARRICK, and from the document it appears that he lived in the reign of MALCOLM IV., which began about 1150. The grandson of Duncan, ROLAND, of Carrick, had a grant of the country of Carrick from Neil, Earl of Carrick, and was declared chief of his name. This grant was confirmed by ALEXANDER III. The 6th in lineal descent from this Roland was,

SIR JOHN KENNEDY, designated son of Sir Gilbert de Carrick in many authenticated writs, who had a confirmatory charter from DAVID II. of the lands of CASTLYS, co. Ayr, with other lands which he had acquired with his wife, Mary, dau. of Sir Neil Montgomery. He was s. by his son,

SIR GILBERT KENNEDY, one of the hostages delivered to the English, in 1357, for the liberation of DAVID II. He m. Agnes, dau. of John Maxwell of Pollok, and had, James, his heir-apparent; Alexander; John, of Blairquhan; Thomas, of Bargany; and David.

JAMES KENNEDY, younger, of Dunure, m. Mary, dau. of King ROBERT III., widow of George, Earl of Angus, and d. v. p., leaving Gilbert, heir to his grandfather; and James, Bishop of Dunkeld, afterwards of St. Andrews, one of the greatest of Scottish statesmen and prelates, founder of St. Andrew's University.

GILBERT KENNEDY, of Dunure, son of the last, and successor to his grandfather, was made a lord of parliament, circa 1458; and in 1460 was appointed one of the six regents of the kingdom during the minority of JAMES III. His lordship m. Catherine, dau. of Herbert, Lord Maxwell, by whom he had three sons, John, James, Walter, and two daus., Catherine, wife of Alexander, 2nd Lord Montgomery; and Marion, wife of Sir John Wallace, of Craigie.

JOHN, 2nd lord, his son and successor, m. 1st, Jean, dau. of Alexander, Lord Montgomery, by whom he had a son, DAVID, his heir, and a dau., Egidia, who m. Sir John Grierson, of Lag, Dumfries, and had issue. His lordship m. 2ndly, Lady Elizabeth Gordon, dau. of George, Earl of Huntly, and widow of Nicholas, 2nd Earl of Erroll, and by her had a son, Alexander, ancestor of the Kennedies of Girvanmains, and Barquhanny. He was s. in 1508, by his eldest son,

DAVID, 3rd lord. This nobleman, being of the privy council of JAMES IV., was created by that monarch, in 1509 or 1510, EARL OF CASSILLIS. His lordship m. 1st, Agnes, dau. of William, Lord Borthwick, by whom he had three sons, Gilbert, his heir, James, and Thomas, of Coif. He m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran, relict of Alexander, Lord Forbes, s. p. The earl fell at the battle of Flodden, and was s. by his son,

GILBERT, 2nd earl, who m. Isabel, dau. of Archibald, Earl of Argyll, and had, with other sons, Gilbert, who succeeded him, and Quintin, abbot of Crossraguel. He was slain, Dec. 1527, in endeavouring to rescue JAMES V. from the Earl of Angus.

GILBERT, 3rd earl, filled the high office of lord treasurer of Scotland, and assisted, as a deputed Scottish peer, in 1558, at the marriage of the ill-fated Mary Stuart with Francis, dauphin of France. The ceremony was celebrated with great pomp, but when the crown-matrimonial was demanded, the Scotch deputies, in a respectful but firm manner, discovered a fixed resolution of consenting to nothing that tended to introduce any alteration in the order of succession to the crown. This opposition to the views of the French court gave great offence, and occasioned a report that poison was administered to the deputies, of whom Lord Fleming d. at Paris, and the Earls of Cassillis and Rothes, and Bishop Reid, president of the Court of Session, at Dieppe, all three in one night, 28 Nov. 1558. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Alexander Kennedy, of Bargany, and had, with two daus.,

I. GILBERT, his successor.
II. Thomas, of Cullean, who received the honour of knighthood at the coronation of JAMES VI. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of David Macgill, of Cranston-riddel, and had three sons, Thomas and James, who both d. s. p., and Sir Alexander, who carried on the line of the family. Sir Thomas fell a victim to revenge, being assassinated in 1605, by Kennedy, of Drummurchie. His youngest son,

SIR ALEXANDER KENNEDY, of Cullean, m. Anne, dau. of Thomas Kennedy, of Ardmillan, and had two sons, JOHN, and Alexander. The younger,

ALEXANDER, of Craigoch and Kilhenzie, had five sons, of whom the eldest, John, of Kilhenzie, d. 1748 (having had a son, Alexander, of Kilhenzie, who d. s. p. 1766; and a dau. Helen, who m. John Shaw, of Dalton), and the second, Archibald, was collector of customs in New York, and d. there in 1763, having by, — Mussam, his wife, had a son Archibald, Captain R.N., who inherited as 11th Earl of Cassillis.

Sir Alexander was s. by his elder son,

JOHN KENNEDY, of Cullean, who m. the Hon. Margaret Hamilton, eldest dau. of John, 1st Lord Bargany, afterwards wife of Sir David Ogilvy, of Clova, and was s. by his son,

SIR ARCHIBALD KENNEDY, who was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 16 Dec. 1682. He m. the Hon. Elizabeth Leslie, dau. of David, 1st Lord Newark, by whom he had three sons, James, an eminent advocate, d. 1754; Lewis, d. 1724, leaving a son who d. s. p.; and two daus., Jean, m. to Sir Gilbert Kennedy, of Girvanmains; and Susan, m. to Alexander, 9th Earl of Eglinton. Dying in 1710, he was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN, 2nd baronet, who m. Jane Douglas, of the family of Mains, by whom he had three sons, John, Thomas, and David, of whom below, and three daus., Elizabeth, m. to Sir John Cathcart, of Carleton; Jane, m. to John Blair, of Dunskey; and Clementina, m. to George Watson, of Bilton Park. He d. 1742, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN, 3rd baronet, who d. s. p. in 1744, and was s. by his brother,

SIR THOMAS, 4th bart., 9th EARL OF CASSILLIS.

Gilbert, 3rd earl, was s. by his elder son,

GILBERT, 4th earl, who m. Margaret, dau. of John, 9th Lord Glamis, afterwards wife of John, 1st Marquess of Hamilton, and had, JOHN, his successor; Hugh, who d. s. p.; and Gilbert, who m. Margaret, dau. of Uchtred Macdowal, of Garthland (afterwards wife of James, Lord Ochiltree), and was father of John, 6th Earl of Cassillis; and dying 1576, was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 5th earl, lord-treasurer of Scotland, m. Nov. 1597, Jean, dau. and heir of 4th Lord Fleming, widow of Lord Chancellor Maitland, but dying s. p. in 1615, was s. by his nephew,

JOHN, 6th earl, who m. 1st, Lady Jean Hamilton, dau. Thomas, 1st Earl of Haddington, by whom he had,

Margaret, m. Gilbert Burnet, Bishop of Salisbury.
Catherine, m. William, Lord Cochrane, son of the 1st Earl of Dundonald, who d. before his father, leaving issue.

His lordship m. 2ndly, 15 March, 1644, Margaret, dau. of William, Earl of Erroll, widow of Henry, Lord Kerr, and by her had a son and two daus. He d. 1668, and was s. by his son,

JOHN, 7th earl, m. 1668, Lady Susan Hamilton, dau. of James, 1st Duke of Hamilton, by whom he had John, Lord Kennedy, and Lady Anne, who m. 1694, John, Earl of Selkirk and Ruglen, and was mother of William, Lord Daer, who d. unm. 1742; Anne, Countess of Ruglen, who m. William, 2nd Earl of March, and was father of William Earl of March and Ruglen, afterwards 4th Duke of Queensbury (an unsuccessful claimant of the Cassillis title on the death of the 8th earl), and Lady Susan Hamilton, who m. John, 8th Earl of Cassillis, s. p. He m. 2ndly, 27 Feb. 1698, Mary, dau. of John Fox, and by her (who d. 12 Sept. 1746) had a son James, and a dau. His lordship d. 1701. His son, John, Lord Kennedy, who predeceased him in 1700, m. 1697, Elizabeth, dau. of Charles Hutchinson, of Owthorpe, M.P. for Nottingham (afterwards wife of John, Earl of Selkirk and Ruglen) and left a son,

JOHN, 8th earl, governor of Dumbarton Castle, who m. 1738, Lady Susan Hamilton, dau. of John, Earl of Selkirk and Ruglen, as above, and d. s. p. 1759.

A competition then arose, both for the estates and for the title of Earl of Cassillis, between William, Earl of March and Ruglen, heir of line, and Sir Thomas Kennedy, of Cullean, 4th bart., the heir male. The Court of Session and House of Lords found the right to the estates to be in the latter; and the same was found with regard to the title on a reference to the House of Lords in 1762.

SIR THOMAS KENNEDY, the successful claimant, and 9th EARL OF CASSILLIS, d. unm. 13 Nov. 1775, and was s. by his brother,

DAVID, 10th earl, at whose decease, unm. 8 Dec. 1792, this branch became also extinct, and the honour, passed to his kinsman (revert to descendants of Hon. Thomas Kennedy, 2nd son of 3rd earl),

ARCHIBALD KENNEDY, capt. R.N., as 11th Earl of Cassillis. His lordship, who was a distinguished officer, m. 1st, Miss Schuyler, of New Jersey, s.p.; 2ndly, Anne (who d. in 1793), dau. of John Watts, Esq. of New York, by whom he had,

I. ARCHIBALD, his successor.

II. John, m. in 1800, Charlotte, dau. of Lawrence Gill, Esq., which lady d. in 1846: he d. 7 Aug. 1859, aged 88.

III. Robert, b. in 1773; m. Jane, sister of Gen. Alex. Macomb, commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States of America; and dying 5 Nov. 1843, left issue by her (who d. 20 May, 1867),

1 John, secretary of legation at Naples and in the United States of America, m. 25 Aug. 1834, Amelia-Maria, only dau. of Samuel Briggs, Esq., and d. 14 March, 1845, leaving issue, 1 John-Gordon, H.B.M., envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to H.M. the King of Roumania, 1836, m. 1877, Evelyn-Adela, dau. of Hon. Lineage.

The family of Ogilvy derives its pedigree from the Mormaers of Angus, one of the seven great hereditary chiefs of Scotland, who in the 11th century exchanged that designation for the title of earl.

Gilibride, Earl of Angus, in the time of David I., had with other issue three sons, Angus, his successor in that earldom; Magnus, who through his mother s. to the earldom of Caithness; and Gilbert. The 3rd son.

Gilbert, assumed the surname of Ogilvy from lands so called in his possession, of which, with Powrie and Kyneithein in Angus, he had a charter in 1172. From him descended,

Sir Patrick Ogilvy, of Wester Powrie, who had from Robert I. a charter of Kettins in Forfarshire. He had two sons, 1 Alexander, his heir, à quo the family of Ogilvy of Ogilvy, extinct; 2 Patrick.

Patrick Ogilvy, of Wester Powrie, the 2nd son, obtained from his nephew, Sir Patrick Ogilvy of Ogilvy, to him and Marjory, his wife, the lands of Wester Powrie. By marriage with this Marjory, dau. and eventually heiress of Robert Ramsay, of Auchterhouse, he had a son,

Walter Ogilvy, of Wester Powrie and Auchterhouse, hereditary sheriff of Forfar, to which estate and office he succeeded on the death of his uncle, Sir Malcolm Ramsay circa 1365. He had two sons, Alexander, who d. unm., and Walter.

Sir Walter Ogilvy, of Auchterhouse, sheriff of Forfar, his 2nd son, was a man of great worth and merit, and lost his life in the following manner:—Duncan Stewart, natural son of Alexander, Earl of Buchan, having entered the shire of Angus, at the head of a lawless gang of robbers, in order to plunder the country, the sheriff accompanied by his uterine brother, Walter Lighton, ancestor of that family, and a numerous posse of country people, overtook the robbers at a place called Glenbrerith, in Angus, where, after a smart skirmish, Sir Walter with his brother, and about sixty of his followers, were killed on the spot, 1391. With a dau., Marjory, m. to David, 3rd Earl of Crawford, he left three sons,

I. Alexander, of Auchterhouse, sheriff of Forfar 1403-23, who had issue, 1 Sir Patrick, of Auchterhouse, sheriff of Forfar and justiciary, father of Alexander, of Auchterhouse, whose dau. and heir Margaret, m. James Stewart, Earl of Buchan, brother uterine of James II.; 2 Sir Andrew, of Inchmartin, ancestor in the male line of the 2nd and subsequent Earls of Findlater, from whom the Earl of Seafield comes by female descent.
II. Sir Walter, of Lintrathen, of whom below.
III. John, of Inverquharity, of whom Ogilvy, of Inverquharity, Bart., q. v.

Sir Walter Ogilvy, of Lintrathen, the 2nd son, was high treasurer of Scotland under James I. His first wife, by whom he acquired Lintrathen in Forfarshire, is said to have been an heiress of the Durward family. He afterwards m. Isabel, dau. of Sir John Glen, of Inchmartin. By the first marriage he had John, his heir, and James; and by the second, Walter (for whose descendants see Seafield, Earl), David, Alexander, Patrick, and George. He d. 1440.

Sir John Ogilvy, of Lintrathen, his successor, had a charter of the lands and castle of Eroly (Airlie) in 1459, and had his lands erected into the Barony of Lintrathen in 1483. He is said to have m. Marian, dau. of Sir William Seton, of Seton; but was certainly married before 1447 to Margaret, widow of James Dunbar, Earl of Moray.

Sir James Ogilvy, of Airlie, son of the last, was in 1491 made a lord of parliament, as Lord Ogilvy of Airlie. He was the same year ambassador to Denmark. He m. 1st, Elizabeth Kennedy, by whom he had a son and successor, John; 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Archibald, 5th Earl of Angus, by whom he had a son Walter, ancestor of the Ogilvys, of Balfour. Dying c. 1504, he was s. by his son,

Lineage.

In the time of Richard II, two brothers were settled, one at Honington, co. Warwick (whose descendants continued there through many generations) and the other, John Gibbe, on an estate called Venton, or Fenton, in the parish of Dartington, co. Devon, which passed in the time of Elizabeth, to the families of Drewe, of Hayne, and Wootton of Inglebourne, in the same co., by the marriages of Elizabeth and Silvestra, only children and co-heirs of William Gibbs, of Fenton.

In the 15th century, a family of the name, and claiming a descent from the Venton family had planted itself in Exeter, and, early in the reign of Henry VIII, members of it are found in the neighbouring parishes of Woodbury and Clyst St. George, in which latter village John Gibbe, on 1 May, 1560, purchased from Thomas, Lord Wentworth, a small estate called Pytt, which is now in the possession of Antony Gibbs, Esq. (see Burke's Landed Gentry, Gibbs of Tyntesfield).

George Gibbs, of Clyst St. George, bapt. 3 Nov. 1604, eldest son of John Gibbe, the elder, who d. July, 1652, and grandson of George Gybbes, of Clyst St. George, and Welthean (Gwenllian), his wife, left, by Alice, his wife (besides three daus.), five sons. The 4th son,

His Lordship was raised to the Peerage, 26 Aug. 1892.

Lineage.

The name of Amherst, or, as it was variously spelled in ancient documents, Amherst, Hamherst, Hemeherst, or Emherst, is taken from a place called Amherst or Hamherst, which lyeth in Pembury Parish, near Tunbridge, in the co. of Kent.

The first that appears on record is "Gilbert de Hemmehurst," who is placed on the Pipe Roll of the 15th Henry III., A.D. 1230.

The next is Roger de Hemehurst, who is mentioned in a deed of which a copy is preserved in the College of Arms, London, and placed upon the pedigree of the family of Amherst, attested by Camden.

His descendant, Walter, who is mentioned in the above deed, appears upon the Subsidy Roll, 1st Edward III., 1327, as Walterus de Emherst, also on the roll of 12th Edward III., 1338. Again in the 14th Edward III., as Walterus de Hanherst; 15th Edward III., as Walter de Hamherst; again in the 21st Edward III., 1347, as Walterus de Emherst, and in the 2nd moiety of the roll as Walterus de Hemherst; in the next year, 22nd Edward III., 1348, the name of Johanna Hammherst, most probably his widow, appears, as his name does not occur upon that or any subsequent roll.

In the 25th Edward III., 1351, appears the name of Johannes de Amherst. In the roll also appear Galfridus Judd and Robertus Bouregge. With these families it appears the Amhersts afterwards intermarried; and the lands called Juddy's Lands are handed down by many of the early wills, and descended to the East Farleigh branch.

In the next year, 1352, appear John Amherst and William Amherst in connection with the heirs of Galfridus Judd and Robert Bowregge.

In the 46th EDWARD III., 1372, appears Isabell Amherst, most probably widow of John and mother of William Amherst. The names of the payers of the subsidies are not entered upon the subsequent rolls, the amount for each district only being given. The pedigree above alluded to as attested by Camden, begins with John Amherst, of Amherst, in the parish of Pembury, near Tunbridge, Kent (most probably the son of William and grandson of John), who was living in the 22nd RICHARD II., 1399, and left a son and heir, Thomas, whose son and heir, Thomas, appears upon record in 1433 as one of the chief persons in the district; he d. 1460, possessed, as appears by his will dated 1459, of much land in Pembury, Capell, and Hadlo, and of Juddy's Lands in Tudeley. (Amhersty's Lane, which is still a road in Pembury parish, is mentioned in the will of Thomas Rayne, of Capell, 30 April, 1449.) By Sarah, his wife, who survived him, he left with three daus., Isabel, Julian, and Agnes, a son and successor, THOMAS, whose will is dated 1489, and who, by Isabel his wife, left two sons, William, who appears to have d. s. p., and

THOMAS AMHERST, who s. to the estates, and m. the sister of Thomas Bouregge the elder, of Capell; by her he had four sons,

NICHOLAS, of whom presently.
William (will dated 1560), who, by Julyan his wife, left issue.
John, of Pepingbery, d. 1578, ancestor of the EARLS AMHERST.
Richard, of Hedcorn, will dated 1590, m. and left issue.

NICHOLAS AMHERST s. to the property of Judd's in Tudeley, and d. there a very aged man (will dated 1599, proved 1600). He left by Johanna, his wife, with other issue, a son, GEORGE AMHURST (name so spelled), B.A. of Queen's Coll. Oxford, 1580, Vicar of Yalding, Kent, 1586. He d. in the lifetime of his father, and left by Margaret, née Eagles, his wife, with other issue, a son and successor,

NICHOLAS AMHERST, who purchased East Farleigh in 1615, and d. 1662, leaving by Elizabeth his wife, dau. of Stephen Norton, of the ancient family of Norton of Chart-by-Sutton, with other issue, a son and heir,

NICHOLAS AMHERST, bapt. 1617, who d. 1679. By Jane Fletcher his wife, he left, with other issue, a son and heir, JOHN AMHERST, who was High Sheriff of Kent in 1698, but d. s. p., and

NICHOLAS AMHERST, who became his heir, a Captain in the Army. He m. Susannah, only child and heir of Robert Evering, jun., of Evering, Kent, the last of the male line of the family of Evering or Averenches, a younger branch of the family of Averenches, Lords of Folkestone and Vicomtes of Averenches in Normandy; in right of his wife he became lord of the manor of Evering, which had descended lineally since its creation by WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, as a knight's fee held of the barony of Folkestone by castle guard service of Dover Castle, whereof the Averenches of Evering Tower in Dover Castle, now existing, testifieth. He d. 1715, having had issue, by his said wife, sixteen children, whereof JOHN AMHURST, the eldest, m. and left issue, now extinct; and GEORGE AMHURST, Esq. of Court Lodge in East Farleigh, the 2nd son, m. Susannah Wood, and left JOHN AMHURST, Esq., a Captain in the Royal Navy, bapt. 8 June 1724, who d. 1788, leaving by Ruth Ward, his first wife, a son and heir, JOHN-THOMAS AMHURST, who d. s. p.; and by MARY TYSSEN, his 2nd wife (through whom his descendants became possessed of the manors of Hackney, Middlesex, and Foulden, Norfolk), an only surviving dau. and sole heiress.

AMELIA AMHURST, bapt. 1 May, 1775; who m. 21 June, 1794, WILLIAM-GEORGE DANIEL,* Esq., of Foley House, Kent; Hackney, Middlesex; Foulden Hall, Norfolk; and Westbroke House, Dorset, High Sheriff of Kent in 1825. This gentleman, who was of the family of DANIEL or MACDANIEL, co. Mayo, was lord of the manor of Hackney, in right of his wife, and by royal sign manual, dated 14 March, 1814, took the surname and arms of TYSSEN, in addition to those of DANIEL. By his wife (who survived him and was buried at East Farleigh, 13 Aug. 1851) he had issue, VI. Mary-Adelaide, b. 25 April, 1878.

His lordship s. his father as 2nd Lord Aveland, 6 Sept. 1867, and his mother, as 22nd Lord Willoughby de Eresby, 13 Nov. 1888, and was created Earl of Ancaster, 23 Aug. 1892. Before his accession to the Peerage, he was M.P. for Boston 1852 to 1856, and for Rutland 1856 to 1867.

Lineage.

This is one of the ancient baronies created by writ of summons, which pass, being heritable by heirs male or female, at different periods into different families, and sometimes remain for centuries in abeyance; for in the instance of there being no direct male heir, but several heirs female, the barony does not devolve upon the eldest dau., but upon all conjointly, and cannot, without the especial interference of the crown, be inherited until there be a single heir to the whole.

The lordship of Eresby, which constituted the head of this barony, was settled by WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, with other manors, upon

Walter de Bec, one of his companions in arms, who m. Agnes, dau. and heiress of Hugh, son of Pinco, Lord of Tatsball, in the co. Lincoln, and was s. by his eldest son,

Henry de Bec, of Eresby, in the co. Lincoln, whose son and heir,

Walter Beke, m. Eva, niece and heiress of Walter de Grey, archbishop of York, and was s. by his eldest son,

Henry Beke, who m. Hawise, sister of Thomas de Muleton, and was s. by his son,

Walter Beke, who left three sons,

John, of whom presently.
Anthony, bishop of Durham, and patriarch of Jerusalem (for a more detailed narrative of this celebrated prelate and the family of Bec, see Burke's Extinct and Dormant Peerage).
Thomas, lord bishop of St. David's.

The eldest son and heir,

John Beke, had licence of King Edward I., in the 4th year of that monarch's reign, to make a castle of his manor-house at Eresby, and was summoned to parliament amongst the barons of the realm, in the 23rd and 24th of the same reign; dying in seven years afterwards, his lordship left issue by his wife, Sarah, dau. of Thomas, Lord Furnival,

Walter, his son and heir, Lord of Eresby, who survived his father but a few years, and d. issueless; when the barony of Bec of Eresby fell into abeyance, as it still continues.
Alice.
Margaret, m. to Richard de Harcourt.

Alice Beke, the eldest dau. and one of the co-heiresses of her brother, m.

Sir William de Willoughby, Knt., great-grandson of Ralph de Willoughby, lord of the manor of Willoughby, in the co. Lincoln; which Sir William de Willoughby, 54 Henry III., was signed with the cross, together with many other persons of the first rank, who accompanied that monarch's son, Prince Edward, into the Holy Land. He d. in 1306, and was s. by his eldest son,

Robert Willoughby, who, upon the decease of Anthony Beke, bishop of Durham, s. as next heir to that prelate. This Robert Willoughby, being actively engaged in the French and Scottish wars of King Edward I., was summoned to parliament among the barons of the realm, 7 Edward II. (26 July, 1313), as Lord Willoughby de Eresby, and dying in three years afterwards, was s. by his son (by Margaret, dau. of Edmund, Lord Deincourt),

John Willoughby, then a minor, who was committed to the wardship of William, Lord Zouch, of Harringworth, for which that nobleman paid a thousand marks to the king. In 20 Edward II., this John Willoughby received the honour of knighthood, by bathing, &c., having all the necessary appendages out of the king's wardrobe, and in 1 Edward III., making proof of his age, had livery of his lands, and was summoned to parliament from 27 Jan. 1332, to 10 March, 1349. His lordship subsequently distinguished himself in the Scottish wars, and was one of the principal commanders at the battle of Crécy. He m. Joan, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Rosceline, Knt., and was s. by his eldest son,

John, 3rd Lord Willoughby de Eresby. This nobleman was engaged in the wars of Gascony, 29 Edward III., and in the next year participated in the glory of Poictiers. His lordship m. Cicely, dau. of Robert de Ufford, Earl of Suffolk, and dying 46 Edward III., was s. by his son,

Robert, 4th baron, who inherited, as nephew and one of the co-heirs of William de Ufford, Earl of Suffolk, upon the decease of that nobleman, 5 Richard II.; and in four years afterwards, his lordship accompanied John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, into Spain, for the recovery of the inheritance of Constance, his duchess, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Peter, King of Castile. Lord Willoughby m. 1st, Alice, elder dau. of Sir William Skipwith Knt., lord chief-baron of the Exchequer, temp. Edward III., by whom he had,

i. William, his successor.
ii. Robert.
iii. Thomas, ancestor of the Lords Willoughby de Broke (see that dignity).
iv. John, ancestor of the Willoughbys, Baronets, of Baldon House, Oxon.
v. Bryan.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Margery, dau. of William, Lord Zouch, of Harringworth, but had no issue; and 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of William, Lord Latimer, and widow of John Nevil, Lord Raby, but it does not appear that he had any other issue. He d. 13 Richard II., and was s. by his eldest son,

William, 5th baron. This nobleman was one of the peers in the parliament of 22 Richard II., when that monarch made a formal resignation of his royal dignity. His lordship m. 1st, Lucy, dau. of Roger, Lord Strange of Knockyn, by whom he had (with four daus.),

Robert, his successor.
Thomas (Sir), a celebrated warrior, who received the honour of knighthood for his valour in the field. He m. Joan, dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Arundell, Knt., and was s. by his elder son, Robert (Sir), who was also found to be next heir male to his uncle, Robert, Lord Willoughby, 30 Henry VI. He m. Cicely, 2nd dau. of Leo, Lord Welles, and dying 5 Edward IV., was s. by his elder son, Robert (Sir), who d. in two years afterwards, and was s. by his brother, Christopher (Sir), who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Jenney, of Knottshall, Suffolk, and had issue, William, his successor, of whom hereafter, as 9th Lord Willoughby; Christopher, from whom the Lords Willoughby of Parham derived; and Thomas, ancestor of Lord Middleton.

Lord Willoughby m. 2ndly, Joan, dau. of Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent (by Joan, surnamed the Fair Maid of Kent, only dau. of Edmund of Woodstock, Earl of Kent, son of King Edward II.), and widow of Edmund of Langley, Duke of York, son of King Edward III. (Her ladyship, after Lord Willoughby's decease, m. a 3rd husband, Henry, Lord Scrope; and a 4th, Henry Bromflete, Lord Vesey.) Lord Willoughby de Eresby d. in the 11th of Henry IV., and was s. by his elder son, Robert, 6th baron. This nobleman took a distinguished part in the French wars of Henry V., and participated in the triumph of Agincourt. He was subsequently at the storming of the castle of Caen, and at the protracted siege of Rouen. In the reign of Henry VI., he shared the laurels of Vernoil; and with Sir John Fastolf, soon afterwards gallantly defeated a projected surprise of Charles de Villiers. For all these eminent services his lordship was created Lord Willoughby of Monblay and Beaumesguil and Earl of Vendosme and Beaumont, and installed a knight of the most noble order of the Garter. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, youngest dau. of John Montacute, Earl of Salisbury, by whom he had an only dau., Joan. He m. 2ndly, Maud, dau. of Sir Richard Stanhope, Knt., and cousin and co-heiress of Ralph, Lord Cromwell of Tatshall, but had no other issue. His lordship dying in the 30th of Henry VI., the honours acquired by himself expired, while the barony devolved upon his only dau. and heiress,

Joan Willoughby, who m.

Sir Richard Welles, Knt., who bore in her right the title of Lord Willoughby de Eresby, and was summoned to parliament as 7th baron, in 1455. His lordship was son of Leo, 6th baron Welles, who fell in one of the conflicts between the houses of York and Lancaster, and was attainted in 1461. Lord Willoughby obtained a full restoration, however, in blood and honours in 1468; but fell a victim afterwards himself to the vibrations of fortune between the Red and White Roses, and was beheaded in 1469, when he was s. by his only son,

Robert, 8th Lord Welles and 8th Lord Willoughby; who coming into immediate conflict with the Yorkists, under King Edward IV., at Stamford, and suffering a signal defeat, was taken prisoner and beheaded (refer to Burke's Extinct Peerage). The baronies then devolved upon the last lord's only sister and heiress, Joane Welles, who m.

Richard Hastings, and he was summoned to parliament as Baron Welles; but dying without issue, in 1503, and his lady in three years afterwards, the ancient Barony of Willoughby reverted to her ladyship's kinsman (refer to Sir Thomas Willoughby, younger son of William, 5th baron),

William Willoughby, as 9th baron. This nobleman d. in 1525, and was s. by his only dau. (by his 2nd wife, the Lady Mary Salines),

Katherine, Baroness Willoughby de Eresby. Her ladyship m. twice; 1st, Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, brother-in-law of King Henry VIII., by whom she had two sons, Henry and Charles, who both d. in minority. She m. 2ndly, Richard Bertie, Esq., by whom she had a son and heir Peregrine. Her grace the Duchess of Suffolk d. in 1580, when her son, Peregrine Bertie, claimed the ancient barony, and was summoned to parliament as 10th Lord Willoughby de Eresby, 16 Jan. 1581. His lordship m. Lady Mary Vere, dau. of John, 16th Earl of Oxford, and sister and heiress of Edward, 17th Earl of Oxford, lord-high-chamberlain of England, by whom he had five sons and a dau., Catherine, who m. Sir Lewis Watson, of Rockingham Castle, co. Northampton, subsequently created Lord Rockingham. Lord Willoughby d. in 1601, and was s. by his eldest son.

Robert, 11th baron, who claimed the Earldom of Oxford and the great chamberlainship of England in right of his mother

it succeeded in establishing his pretensions to the chamberlainship only; he was, however, created Earl of Lindsey, 22 Nov. 1626. In 1630, his lordship was installed a knight of the Garter; and at the breaking out of the civil war was nominated Commander-in-chief of the king's forces. The Barony of Willoughby de Eresby merged in this Earldom of Lindsey and the Dukedom of Ancaster, to which honour the 4th earl was elevated, until the demise of Robert, 4th duke, without issue, in 1779 (for intermediate descent refer to LINDSEY, E.), when the Dukedom of Ancaster and marquessate and earldom of Lindsey reverted to his grace's uncle, the Hon. Brownlow Bertie; and at that nobleman's decease, in 1809, the dukedom and marquessate became extinct, while the earldom of Lindsey devolved on his kinsman, Gen. Albemarle Bertie (see LINDSEY, E.); and the ancient Barony of Willoughby de Eresby fell into abeyance between his grace's sisters and heiresses,*

PRISCILLA BARBARA-ELIZABETH, the wife of Sir Peter Burrell, Bart, 1st Baron Gwydyr; and

and it so remained until the abeyance was terminated by the Crown, 18 March, 1780, in favour of the elder co-heir,

PRISCILLA-BARBARA-ELIZABETH, who thus became Baroness Willoughby de Eresby. Her ladyship was b. 16 Feb. 1761; she m. as stated above, 23 Feb. 1779, Sir Peter Burrell, Bart., 1st Lord Gwydir, by whom (who d. 29 June, 1820) she had issue,

I. PETER-ROBERT, 2nd Lord Gwydir, and 19th LORD WILLOUGHBY DE ERESBY.

II. Lindsey-Merrik-Peter, b. 20 June, 1786; m. 13 July, 1807, Frances, youngest dau. of James Daniel, Esq., and by her (who d. in Aug. 1846) had issue,

1 Albemarle-Brownlow-Peter, b. 1808; d. unm.
2 PETER-ROBERT, who s. his cousin as 4th Lord GWYDIR.
3 Lindsey-Peter, b. 1813; deceased.
4 Willoughby-James-Peter, in holy orders, b. 1814; m. 7 Dec. 1838, Frances, dau. of William-Jones Burdett, Esq. of Copt Hall, Twickenham, Middlesex, and d. 14 Dec. 1849, leaving by her (who d. 18 Feb. 1885), Peter-Willoughby-Burdett, capt. 52nd foot, b. 1840, m. 1868, Kathleen, dau. of Robert McMurray, Esq., and d. 4 Nov. 1873, leaving a son, Willoughby-Robert-Burdett, b. 5 Nov. 1869. His widow m 1878, Henry Fenning, Esq.
1 Georgiana-Charlotte, m. 6 Dec. 1838, to Jas.-Hamilton-H.-Lloyd Anstruther, Esq. of Hintlesham Hall, Suffolk; and d. 17 Sept. 1843. 2 Emma, d. 1 May, 1865.
3 Susan-Anne, m. 29 July, 1839, William Talbot Crosbie, Esq. of Ardfert Abbey, co. Kerry; and d. 16 Aug. 1850.
4 Emily-Aurora, d. unm.
5 Marcia-Sarah, m. 1st, 1851, to Rev. C. Cameron, M.A.; and 2ndly, 1868, Walter Whittington, Esq.
6 Charlotte-Anne, m. 9 Oct. 1851, to Charles-Wilmot Smith, Esq. of Ballynanty House, co. Limerick.

The Hon. Lindsey-Merrik Burrell d. 1 Jan. 1848.

III. William-Peregrine-Peter, b. 1 Oct. 1788; d. 27 July, 1852.

I. Elizabeth-Julia-Georgiana, m. 1826, to John, 2nd Earl of Clare, and d. 30 April, 1879.

Her ladyship, who was joint Hereditary Great-Chamberlain of England, d. 29 Dec. 1828, and was s. by her eldest son,

PETER-ROBERT, P.C., as 19th Baron Willoughby de Eresby, who had already s. his father, 29 June, 1820, as 2nd Lord Gwydir. He was b. 19 March, 1782; m. 19 Oct. 1807, Clementina-Sarah, dau. and sole heiress of James Drummond, 1st Lord Perth (a dignity now extinct), by whom (who d. 26 Jan. 1865) he had issue,

ALBERIC, 20th Lord WILLOUGHBY DE ERESBY.
CLEMENTINA-ELIZABETH, Dowager Lady Aveland, late BARONESS WILLOUGHBY DE ERESBY.
Elizabeth-Susan, b. 21 Sept. 1810; d. unm. 10 Oct. 1853.
CHARLOTTE-AUGUSTA-ANNABELLA, b. 3 Nov. 1815; m. 10 Aug. 1840, to Robert-John, 2nd Lord Carrington, and d. 26 July, 1879.

In consequence of his alliance with the heiress of Lord Perth, his lordship assumed by sign-manual, 5 Nov. succeeding his marriage, the additional surname and arms of DRUMMOND. He d. 22 Feb. 1865, and was s. by his only son,

ALBERIC, 20th Lord Willoughby de Eresby, 3rd Baron Gwydyr, of Gwydyr, co. Carnarvon, and a baronet; b. 25 Dec. 1821, Joint Hereditary Great Chamberlain of England. He d. 26 Aug. 1870, when he was s. in the Barony of Gwydir by his cousin, Peter-Robert, 4th Lord Gwydyr (see that title), but the Barony of Willoughby de Eresby fell into abeyance between his lordship's surviving sisters, in favour of the elder of whom, the DOWAGER LADY AVELAND, the abeyance has been terminated. That lady

CLEMENTINA-ELIZABETH DRUMMOND, Baroness Willoughby de Eresby, b. 2 Sept. 1809; m. 8 Oct. 1827, SIR GILBERT-JOHN HEATHCOTE, Bart., Lord Lieutenant of Lincolnshire, who was b. 16 Jan. 1795, and was created BARON AVELAND, 26 Feb. 1856. By him (who d. 6 Sept. 1867) her ladyship had issue,

I. GILBERT-HENRY, Lord Aveland, now BARON WILLOUGHBY DE ERESBY and EARL OF ANCASTER.
I. Clementina-Charlotte, m. 5 April, 1869, to Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon, K.C.B., A.D.C. to the Queen, who d. 22 June, 1893. II. Elizabeth-Sophia.

At the death, 13 Nov. 1888, of Lady Willoughby de Eresby, her ancient Barony devolved on her son, Gilbert-Henry, Lord Aveland, now 22nd LORD WILLOUGHBY DE ERESBY and 1st EARL OF ANCASTER.

Family of Heathcote.

I. GILBERT HEATHCOTE, Esq. (eldest son of Gilbert Heathcote, Esq., an alderman of Chesterfield, by Anne, dau. of Thomas Dickens, Esq.), having been one of the projectors of the Bank of England, an alderman, representative in parliament, and lord-mayor of the city of London, received the honour of knighthood from Queen ANNE, and was created a Baronet, 17 Jan. 1732-3. Sir Gilbert m. Hester, dau. of Christopher Rayner, Esq., by whom he had a son, JOHN, and two daus., Anne, m. to Sir Jacob Jacobson, Knt.; and Elizabeth, m. to Sir Sigismund Trafford, Knt. of Dunstons Hall. He d. 24 Jan. 1732-3, and was s. by his son,

II. SIR JOHN, M.P., who m. 5 Aug. 1720, Bridget, dau. of Thomas White, Esq. of Wallingwells, M.P., by whom he had, ANSTRUTHER.

Carmichael-Anstruther, Sir Windham-Charles-James, of Carmichael House, Lanarkshire, a Baronet of Nova Scotia and of Great Britain, Heritable Carver of the Royal Household in Scotland, Vice-Lieutenant and D.L. for Lanarkshire, Convener of Lanark 1894; M.P. for South Lanarkshire 1874 to 1880, b. 1824; m. 4 Sept. 1872, Janetta, only dau. of Robert Barbour, Esq. of Bolesworth Castle, Cheshire, and by her (who d. 11 Sept. 1891) has issue, Windham-Robert, b. 26 March, 1877.

Lineage.

This great family has ranked among the barons of Scotland during upwards of seven centuries. In the year 1100 William de Candela was Lord of Anstruther. As, at that early period, it was customary for nobles to adopt their surnames from their lands, it was rare to find a Scottish baron who possessed a family name besides his territorial designation. One of the few who had this distinction was William, Lord of Anstruther. He had already a noble name, and in 1100 he was one of the most considerable of the barons in Fife. Thus, the nobility of this family is ascertained during the last eight centuries.

William de Candela, Lord of Anstruther, lived through the reign of King David I., and did not die until the commencement of that of Malcolm IV., who ascended the Scottish throne in 1153. William's son,

William de Candela, Lord of Anstruther, was a pious benefactor to the Abbey of Balmerino, and d. in the reign of King William the Lion, which commenced in 1165. His son,

Henry, in compliance with the usage of Scotland, assumed he name of his lands as his surname, and disused that of De Candela. He is styled Henricus de Anstruther Dominus de Anstruther in a charter wherein he confirm his father's pious donations to the Abbey of Balmerino in 1221, in the reign of King Alexander II. He was a benefactor to the monastery of Dryburgh. His son,

Henry de Anstruther, Lord of Anstruther, was also a pious benefactor to the religious houses of Balmerino and Dryburgh in charters granted during the reign of King Alexander II. He was a crusader, and accompanied St. Louis to the East. He assumed for his arms the three nails of the cross, now represented by three sable piles on a silver shield. In his old age he was compelled to swear fealty for his Barony of Anstruther to Edward I. of England in 1292 and 1296. His son,

William de Anstruther, Lord of Anstruther, lived in the reign of King Robert I. He confirmed the donations of his ancestors to the abbey of Dryburgh. He was father of

Henry de Anstruther, of Anstruther, who was father of Richard de Anstruther, of Anstruther, who lived to a great age, and d. in the reign of King James I. of Scotland. He was father of Robert de Anstruther, of Anstruther, who d. in the reign of King James III. He m. Elizabeth Balfour, a dau. of the ancient Fifeshire house of Balfour, since raised to the peerage by the title of Lord Burleigh. By her he had issue, I. Andrew, his successor; II. Robert, an officer in the Scots guard of Louis XII., King of France; III. David, an officer in the Scots guard of Louis XII., King of France. He m. a French lady of rank, and was ancestor of a long line of Barons d'Anstrude, Seigneurs de Barry. He was s. by his eldest son,

Andrew Anstruther, of Anstruther. He got a charter of his Barony of Anstruther in 1483. He fell with King James IV. at Flodden in 1513. He m. Christina, widow of David Hepburn, Esq. of Waughton, and dau. of Sir James Sandilands, of Calder, descended from Sir James Sandilands, and Princess Joanna of Scotland, dau. of King Robert II., and ancestor of Lord Torphichen. He was s. by his son,

John Anstruther, of Anstruther. He had charters dated 1527 and 1542. He m. Margaret Douglas, dau. of Thomas Douglas, of Lochleven, ancestor to the Earls of Morton. He had a son, Andrew Anstruther, who was killed during his father's lifetime at the battle of Pinkie in 1547, and who, by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Thomas Abercrombie, of Abercrombie, had a son,

John Anstruther, of Anstruther, who s. his grandfather in 1548. By Margaret, dau. of George Clephane, of Carslogie (a family now represented by the Marquess of Northampton), he had issue a son,

Sir James Anstruther, a special favourite of King James VI., who in 1585, appointed him his Hereditary Grand Carver, an office which is still held by the head of the Anstruther family; in 1592 he was appointed by that monarch master of the royal household, and d. in 1606. He m. Jean, dau. of Sir Thomas Scott, of Abbotshall, by whom he had issue,

I. William, his successor.
II. Sir Robert, of Wheatley, co. York, (jure uxoris), gentleman of the bedchamber to James I., privy councillor to Charles I., ambassador to Denmark in 1620, to Germany in 1627, 1629, and 1630. He m. Katherine, dau. of Sir Robert Swift, by whom he had,
Robert, who inherited the Yorkshire estates, m. Anne, dau. of Sir John Corbet, of Stoke, co. Salop, Bart., and had a dau. Philip, his uncle's successor.
I. Jean, m. James Douglas, commendator of Melrose, 2nd son of William, 6th Lord Morton.
II. Agnes, m. James Tweedie, of Deynios.

His eldest son,

Sir William Anstruther, of Anstruther, was retoured to his father in 1606 in the barony of Anstruther; was gentleman of the bedchamber to James I.; was made Knight of the Bath, 25 July, 1603; m. 1601, Euphemia, dau. of Sir William Wemyss, of Myrecairnie, co. Fife, a Lord of Session, and d. s. p. 1649, when he was s. by his nephew,

Sir Philip Anstruther, of Anstruther (son of Sir Robert of Wheatley). He was a zealous and devoted Royalist, had a high command in the King's army, and was taken prisoner at the battle of Worcester. He was severely fined by Cromwell, and his estates were sequestered until the Restoration. He m. Christian, dau. of General Sir James Lumsden, of Innergelly, a distinguished general in the service of Gustavus Adolphus, King of Sweden, by whom he had five sons, two of whom he lived to see baronets and the three others knights,

I. Sir William, his heir.

ARBUTHNOTT.

ARBUTHNOTT, VISCOUNT (David Arbuthnott), and Baron Inverbervie, in Scotland, b. 29 Jan. 1845, s. his brother in 1895, as 11th viscount.

Lineage.

Arbuthnott, or Aberbuthnot, was one of the old Scottish thanages, and the Viscounts of Arbuthnot are representatives of the thanes. Osbert Olifard, the crusader, had a grant of the thanage of Aberbuthnot from William, the Lion. Walter Olifard, his successor, was father of Duncan, who about the close of the 12th century adopted the surname of Aberbuthnot from the lands of the thanage, the tenure of which was soon afterwards changed to barony. Hugh Arbuthnott granted a charter to the monastery of Arbroath, in 1282; and Robert, of Arbuthnott, "dominus ejusdem," made a donation in 1355 to the Carmelite Friars of Aberdeen. Fourth in descent from this Philip was

ROBERT ARBUTHNOTT, of that ilk, who in 1505 founded a chaplaincy in the church of St. Ternan, at Arbuthnott, for his soul, and that of Mariot Scrymgeour his 2nd wife, and died soon afterwards.

JAMES ARBUTHNOTT, of that ilk, eldest son of the last, was father of ARDILAUN.

ARDILAUN, BARON (Sir Arthur-Edward Guinness), of Ashford, co. Galway, in the United Kingdom, and a Baronet, M.A., J.P., D.L.; b. 1 Nov. 1840; educated at Eton and Trin. Coll. Dublin; hon. LL.D. 1891; m. 16 Feb. 1871, Lady Olivia-Charlotte, dau. of the 3rd Earl of Bantry. His lordship, who sat in Parliament for the city of Dublin from 1868 to 1869, and from 1874 to 1880, succeeded his father as 2nd bart., 19 May, 1868, and was elevated to the peerage 1 May, 1880.

Lineage.

The family of GUINNESS claims descent from the ancient and eminent house of Magennis, in which formerly vested the Viscounty of Magennis of Iveagh. Several members of the Magennis family lie interred in the churchyard of St. Catherine's, Dublin, and in the parish register, the transition of the name from Magennis to McGuinness, or Guinness, is clearly traceable.

RICHARD GUINNESS, Esq. of Celbridge, in the co. of Kildare, b. about the year 1680; m. Elizabeth, dau. of Wm. Read, Esq. of Hutton Read, co. Kildare, and by her (who was b. in 1698, and d. 28 Aug. 1742) had, with other issue, an eldest son and heir,

ARTHUR GUINNESS, Esq. of Beaumont, co. Dublin, b. 1725, who m. 1761, Olivia, dau. and co-heir of William Whitmore, Esq. of Dublin, by Mary, his wife, dau. of John Grattan, Esq. of Clonmeen, co. Kildare, and Martha Mason, his wife, who was descended through the families of Harris, Petley, Grent, Davers, Penshurst, and Bolney, from the marriage of John Beke, of Micheldever with Agnes Archemer, whose mother was one of the co-heirs of WILLIAM OF WYKEHAM, BISHOP OF WINCHESTER, FOUNDER OF THE COLLEGE OF WINCHESTER, AND OF NEW COLLEGE, OXFORD. By this descent Lord Ardilaun is of Founder's kin at Winchester and New College. The pedigree is duly registered in Ulster's office. He d. 1803. The second son of Arthur Guinness, of Beaumont, by Olivia Whitmore, his wife,

ARTHUR GUINNESS, Esq. of Beaumont, co. Dublin, J.P. and D.L., b. 12 March, 1768, held for many years, honoured and respected by all classes of his fellow-citizens, the foremost place amongst the merchants of his native city of Dublin. His connection with the mercantile community extended over more than sixty years, and his public services during that long period may be estimated by the universal regret of the whole country at his decease. He m. Anne, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Benjamin Lee, Esq. of Merrion, co. Dublin (of a branch of the English family of Lee, Earls of Lichfield), by Susanna, his wife, niece of Charles Smyth, Esq., M.P., father of the 1st Viscount Gort, and dau. of the Rev. John Smyth, chancellor of the diocese of Connor, who d. 1781, son of Thomas Smyth, Bishop of Limerick, who d. 1725, by Dorothea Burgh, his wife, who was dau. of Rev. Ulysses Burgh, Bishop of Ardagh, who d. 1692, by Mary, his wife, dau. of Colonel William Kingsmill, of Ballyowen, M.P. for Mallow, son of Wm. Kingsmill, Esq., by his marriage with Dorothy St. Leger, dau. of Sir Warham St. Leger, M.P., President of Munster, by the Hon. Ursula Nevill, his wife, dau. of George, 3rd Lord Abergavenny. By this marriage Lord Ardilaun is descended, through the noble houses of Stafford, Percy, and Mortimer, from EDWARD III., King of England. The pedigree is duly registered in Ulster's office. Mr. Guinness had issue,

I. Rev. WILLIAM-SMYTH LEE-GRATTAN-GUINNESS, of Beaumont and Park Annesley, m. 9 March, 1826, Susan-Jane, only child of Benjamin Guinness, Esq. of Dublin, and d. 21 March, 1864, leaving issue.
II. Arthur-Lee, of Stillorgan House, co. Dublin, d. unm. 1862.
III. BENJAMIN-LEE, created a Baronet.
I. Susan, m. in June, 1832, to the Rev. John Darley, Fellow of Trinity College, who d. Dec. 1836, leaving issue.
II. Mary-Jane, m. in Oct. 1845, to the Rev. David Pitcairn, of Torquay.
III. Louisa, d. unm. 18 Jan. 1856.
IV. Elizabeth, m. in April, 1849, to the Rev. William Jameson, of Hollybank, co. Dublin.
V. Rebecca, m. 13 June, 1844, to Sir Edmund Waller, Bart. of Newport, co. Tipperary, who d. 9 March, 1851; she d. 22 Nov. 1870.

Mr. Guinness d. 9 June, 1855: his only surviving son was

I. Sir BENJAMIN-LEE GUINNESS, Bart., M.P., LL.D., J.P. and D.L., one of the ecclesiastical commissioners of Ireland, who was b. 1 Nov. 1798, m. 24 Feb. 1837, Elizabeth, 3rd dau. of Edward Guinness, Esq. of Dublin, and by her (who d. 22 Sept. 1865) had issue,

I. ARTHUR-EDWARD, 2nd bart., created BARON ARDILAUN.
II. BENJAMIN-LEE, late capt. Royal Horse Guards (Blue), D.L., b. 4 Aug. 1842, m. 11 Sept. 1881, Lady Henrietta-Eliza-St. Lawrence, dau. of Thomas, 3rd Earl of Howth, K.P., and has,

Arthur-St.-Lawrence-Lee, b. 11 May, 1883.
Kenelm-Edward-Lee, b. 14 Aug. 1887.
Nigel-Digby-Lee, b. 27 May, 1892.

III. EDWARD-CECIL (Sir), created a Bart. 27 May, 1885, and raised to the Peerage 19 Jan. 1891, as LORD IVEAGH (see that title).
I. Anne-Lee, m. 11 June, 1863, to Lord Plunket, Archbishop of Dublin (who d. 1 April, 1897), and d. 8 Nov. 1889, leaving issue (see PLUNKET, B.).

He was elected M.P. for the city of Dublin in 1865, and created a Baronet of the United Kingdom by patent dated 15 April, 1867. To the munificence and energetic and patriotic spirit of this gentleman his native city of Dublin owes much; especially the restoration of the venerable Cathedral of St. Patrick, which was almost in ruins when he commenced the great work—a work carried out at his own sole cost, and under his own personal direction. In commemoration of this patriotic act, Her Majesty granted to the Baronet and his successors the right to bear supporters. He d. 19 May, 1868, and was s. by his eldest son, Sir ARTHUR-EDWARD GUINNESS, 2nd bart., raised to the peerage of the United Kingdom as Baron Ardilaun in 1880.

His Grace m. 3rdly, 26 July, 1895, the Hon. Ina Erskine McNeill, Extra Woman of the Bedchamber to the Queen, youngest dau. of the late Archibald McNeill, Esq. of Colonsay, co. Argyll. He s. his father in 1847 as 8th duke, and was made Lord Privy Seal, 4 Jan. 1853; appointed Post-Master-General, 1855, and retired in 1858. He became again Lord Privy Seal from June, 1859 to 1866, returned to office as Secretary of State for India in 1868, retired in 1874, was for the third time Lord Privy Seal, 1880 to 1881.

Lineage.

Eight centuries ago, Gillespic Campbell acquired, by marriage with an heiress, the lordship of Lochow, in Argyllshire, and from him descended,

Sir Colin Campbell, of Lochow, who, distinguished as well by the great acquisitions he had made to his estate, as his achievements in war, obtained the surname of More, or Great; and from him the chief of the house is in the Gaelic styled, to this day, Mac Calain More. He was knighted by Alexander III., 1280, and was one of the nominees, 1291, on the part of Robert Bruce, in the contest for the crown of Scotland. This renowned and gallant chieftain was slain in a conflict with his powerful neighbour, the Lord of Lorn, at a place called the String of Lorn, where a cairn is erected over his grave. The event occasioned continued feuds for a series of years between the houses of Lochow and Lorn, which terminated at last by the marriage of the first Earl of Argyll with the heiress of Lorn. Sir Colin m. a lady of the name of St. Clair, and had,

Neil, his successor.
Donald, ancestor of Campbell, Earl of Loudoun (see that title).
Dugald (Sir), who swore fealty to Edward I. in 1296, but afterwards joined Robert Bruce.
Arthur, who, having sworn fidelity with his brother to King Edward, like him, afterwards joined Robert Bruce, from whom he obtained two charters of the constabulary of Dunstaffnage, with the mains thereof.
Duncan, likewise a supporter of the Bruce.

Sir Colin was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Neil Campbell, who was knighted by Alex. III. towards the close of that monarch's reign. He swore fealty, with his brothers, in 1296, to King Edward, but afterwards joining Robert Bruce, adhered to him in prosperity and adversity, and fought by his side in almost every field, from the battle of Methven to that of Bannockburn. The king had so high a sense of Campbell's services that he gave him his sister, Lady Mary Bruce, in marriage, and granted to him and his said wife, and John their son, all the lands which belonged to David de Strathbogie, Earl of Atholl, When the triumph of Bannockburn had decided the independence of Scotland, Sir Niel Campbell was one of the great barons in the parliament which met at Ayr, 26 April, 1315, and fixed the succession to the crown. By the Lady Mary Bruce (who m. 2ndly, Sir Alexander Fraser) he had three sons, viz.,

Colin.
John (Sir), of Moulin, who, upon the forfeiture of David de Strathbogie, 11th Earl of Atholl, was advanced to that earldom. He fell at the battle of Halidon Hill, 1333; and dying without issue, the Earldom of Atholl reverted to the crown.
Duncan, of Menstrie.

Sir Niel d. in 1316, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Colin Campbell, of Lochow, who accompanied the king into Ireland, in 1316, to assist in placing his brother, Edward Bruce, upon the throne of that kingdom. Sir Colin, in 1334, assisted the Steward of Scotland in the recovery of the Castle of Dunoon from the English, which gave the first turn of fortune in favour of King David Bruce, and he was in consequence appointed heritable governor of that fortress. He m. a lady of the house of Lennox, and had three sons and a dau., viz.,

Archibald.
John, ancestor of the Campbells of Barbreck, Succoth, and others. This John Campbell appears to have held Ardskeodnish, as well as Barbreck. His descendants continued possessed of the latter estate until the male heirs having failed in the 16th generation, the heiress conveyed Barbreck to her husband, Colin Campbell, who in right of his marriage assumed the designation of "Barbreck," and as he was descended from Sir Colin Campbell, father of John, the first Campbell of Barbreck, the link of the male line was thus restored. Frederick-William Campbell, 17th of Barbreck, disposed of his estate in Argyllshire.
Dugald, joined Baliol, and forfeited his estates.
Alicia, m. Allan Lauder, of Hatton.

He d. in 1340, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Archibald Campbell, of Lochow, m. Mary, dau. of Sir John Lamont, and had a son, Colin (Sir), his heir.

Sir Archibald adhered faithfully to David II., during his captivity in England, and had a grant, 1357, of his brother's forfeited estates in Cowal. He was s. by his son,

Sir Colin Campbell, of Lochow, who m. Margaret, 2nd dau. of Sir John Drummond, of Stobhall, and sister of Annabella, Queen Consort of Robert III., by whom he had issue,

i. Duncan (Sir).
ii. Colin, of Ardkinglas, whose son,
John, had a charter of Auchingown from his uncle Sir Duncan Campbell, 6 May, 1428, and was ancestor of Campbell, of Ardkinglas, represented by Callander, of Craigforth; Campbell, of Ardentinny, Dunoon, Carrick, Skipnish, Blythswood, Shawfield, Rachan, Auchwillin, and Dergachie.
iii. Donald.
i. Christian, m. to Duncan Macfarlane, of Arrochar.

Sir Colin was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

Sir Duncan Campbell, of Lochow, who was raised to the dignity of a lord of parliament by James II., in 1445, by the title of Lord Campbell, having in the previous reign been of the privy council, and been appointed the king's justiciary, and lord-lieutenant of the co. Argyll. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Marjory Stewart, dau. of Robert, Duke of Albany, Regent of Scotland, and had three sons, viz.,

Celestine, who d. young.
Archibald, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Somerville, of Carnwath; and dying before his father, left a son, Colin, who s. his grandfather.
Colin (Sir), ancestor of the Campbells of Glenorchy and Glenfalloch, Earls and Marquesses of Breadalbane.

Lord Campbell m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Sir John Stewart, of Blackhall, natural son of Robert III., and had three more sons, viz.,

Duncan, of Auchinbreck, ancestor of Campbell, Bart. of Auchinbreck and the cadets of Glencardell, Glensaddell, &c.
Neil, ancestor of Campbell of Ellengreig, and of Armadale.
Arthur (or Archibald), ancestor of Campbell of Otter, now extinct.

Lord Campbell was one of the hostages for the redemption of James I., in 1424, and his annual revenue at that time was stated to be fifteen hundred marks, a larger income than that of any other of the hostages. He d. at the close of the year 1453, and was s. by his grandson,

Colin, 2nd Lord Campbell, who was created Earl of Argyll 1457. His lordship was appointed master of the king's household in 1464; and after filling several most important public situations, as ambassador to the courts of England and France, justiciary, &c., he was eventually made Lord High Chancellor of Scotland. He m. Isabel, eldest dau. and co-heir of John Stewart, Lord Lorn, and on 17 April, 1470, became Lord Lorne by a charter of that date, conveying to him the lands and lordship of Lorne on the resignation of his wife's uncle, Walter Stewart, Lord Lorne and Invermeath. The galley of Lorne has ever since formed part of the family achievement. Of this marriage there were two sons and seven daus.,

Archibald, his successor.
Thomas, ancestor of Campbell of Lundie.
Margaret, m. George, 3rd Lord Seton.
Isabel, m. William, Master of Drummond, son and heir apparent of John, 1st Lord Drummond.
Helen, m. Hugh, 1st Earl of Eglintoun.
Elizabeth, m. John, 2nd Lord Oliphant.
Mary, m. Angus MacDonald, natural son and heir of tailzie of John, 11th Earl of Ross, and Lord of the Isles.
Agnes, m. Alexander MacKenzie, of Kintail.
Katherine, m., 1498, Torquil MacLeod, of Lewis.

The earl d. 10 May, 1493, and was s. by his elder son,

Archibald, 2nd Earl of Argyll, who fell in the command of the vanguard at the Battle of Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, leaving (by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of John, Earl of Lennox),

COLIN, his successor.
Archibald, of Skippinch or Skipness, whose line ended with an heiress.
John (Sir), of Calder, ancestor of CAMPBELL, Earl of Cawdor (see that title).
Donald, Abbot of Cupar, ancestor of CAMPBELL of Keithock, co. Forfar.
Margaret, m. John, 5th Lord Erskine.
Isabel, m. Gilbert, 2nd Earl of Cassillis.
Mary, m. John, 2nd Earl of Atholl.
Jane, m. Sir John Lamont, Knt. of Lamont.
Anne, m. Simon Fraser, Master of Lovat.
Marion, m. 8 Dec. 1526, Sir Robert Menzies, of Weems.

He was s. by his son,

COLIN, 3rd Earl of Argyll. This nobleman was appointed, in 1528, lieutenant of the borders, warden of the marches, heritable sheriff of Argyllshire, justice-general of Scotland, and master of the king's household. His lordship m. Lady Jane Gordon, dau. of Alexander, 3rd Earl of Huntly, and had issue,

ARCHIBALD, 4th earl.
John, ancestor of CAMPBELL of Lochnell, Campbell now of Barbreck, Campbell of Balerno, and Stonefield.
Alexander, Dean of Moray.
Elizabeth, m. 1st, James, Earl of Moray, illegitimate son of JAMES IV. King of Scots, and by him (who d. 12 June, 1544) had a dau. She m. 2ndly, John, 10th Earl of Sutherland, s. p.

The earl d. in 1529, and was s. by his eldest son,

ARCHIBALD, 4th earl. This nobleman was the first person of importance in Scotland who embraced the Protestant religion, and he became subsequently a strenuous advocate for the Reformation. He m. 1st, Helen, dau of James, Earl of Arran, and had one son,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.

He m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of William Graham, Earl of Monteith, by whom he had,

COLIN, who s. as 6th earl.
Margaret, m. James, Lord Doune.
Janet, m. Hector Maclean, of Dowart.

His lordship d. in 1558, and was s. by his eldest son,

ARCHIBALD, 5th earl, who, at the breaking out of the civil wars in Scotland, espoused the cause of Queen MARY, and commanded her Majesty's forces at the battle of Langside, in 1568. After the assassination of the Regent MORAY, the Earl of Argyll, and other noblemen of the queen's party, assembled at Linlithgow, 10 April, 1570, and his lordship was then constituted, with the Duke of Chatelherault and the Earl of Huntly, her Majesty's lieutenant in Scotland. When the Regent LENNOX fell in 1571, by assassination too, he was candidate for the regency; but not succeeding, he was sworn of the privy council, and the next year constituted LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR. His lordship m. 1st, the Lady Jane Stuart, natural dau. of JAMES V. (This lady was at supper with her sister, Queen MARY, when Rizzio was murdered, 9 March, 1566; and she stood sponsor, as proxy for ELIZABETH of England, at the baptism of JAMES VI.) The earl m. 2ndly, Lady Janet Cunningham, 2nd dau. of Alexander, 5th earl of Glencairn, but by her (who m. 2ndly, 1583, Humphrey Colquhoun, of Luss, and d. 1584) had no issue. He d. in 1575, when the estates and honours devolved upon his half-brother,

SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Boquhan, as 6th earl, who was sworn of the privy council in 1577, and appointed lord high chancellor of Scotland two years afterwards. He m. 1st, circ. 1551, Johanna, dau. of Henry, 1st Lord Methven, s.p.; 2ndly, Agnes, dau. of William Keith, earl marischal, and widow of James, Earl of Moray (the Regent), by whom he had,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.
Colin, of Lundie, whose son Colin, of Lundie, was created a Baronet, 1627.

His lordship d. in 1584, and was s. by his elder son,

ARCHIBALD, 7th earl, a military officer of high reputation, who, after distinguishing himself in arms at home, entered the service of Philip III. of Spain, and obtained renown in the wars of that monarch against the States of Holland. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Agnes Douglas, dau. of William, 8th Earl of Morton, by whom he had,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.
Anne, m. 1607, George, 2nd Marquess of Huntly.
Annabella, m. Robert, 2nd Earl of Lothian.
Jean, m. 1st, Robert, 1st Viscount Kenmure; 2ndly, 21 Sept. 1640, Sir Henry Montgomerie, of Giffen, son of Alexander, 6th Earl of Eglinton.
Mary, m. Sir Robert Montgomerie, of Skelmorie.

He m. 2ndly, 30 Nov. 1610, Anne, dau. of Sir William Cornwallis, of Brome, and by her (who d. 12 Jan. 1635) had,

James, created Earl of Irvine in 1642, who d. s. p., when the dignity expired.
Mary, m. James, 2nd Lord Rollo.

The earl d. in 1638, and was s. by his elder son.

ARCHIBALD, 8th earl, b. 1597, who was advanced to the Marquessate of Argyll, by letters patent, dated 15 Nov. 1641. This nobleman resigned into the hands of CHARLES I. the justiciaryship of all Scotland, which had been in his family for several ages, reserving only to himself and his heirs the jurisdiction of the Western Isles, and of Argyll, and wherever else he had lands in Scotland, which arrangements were ratified by act of parliament in 1633. His lordship, who was so deeply engaged in the Scottish affairs of his time, and generally so mysteriously, that to treat of his career would produce rather a series of conjectures than of facts, acted a prominent part during the civil war, was the first commissioner from Scotland to the parliament of England, and commander-in-chief of the Covenanters, when defeated by Montrose at Inverlochie and Kilsyth; but after the king's murder, when Scotland, as with one voice, demanded the acknowledgment of CHARLES II., Argyll asserted his majesty's cause, and at the king's coronation at Scone, 1 Jan. 1650-1, had the honour of placing the crown upon his majesty's head. Subsequently, however, he assisted in the ceremony of proclaiming CROMWELL, Protector, and signed an engagement to support the usurper's government. On the restoration of the monarchy, the marquess immediately repaired to London, for the purpose of congratulating the king; but his majesty, refusing to see him, ordered his committal to the Tower, where he remained until December following, when he was sent back to Scotland by sea, and narrowly escaped shipwreck. He was soon afterwards tried for high treason, and condemned to death, 25 May, 1661. In two days subsequently, he wrote a long letter to the king, vindicating his memory, and imploring protection for his poor wife and family, dined at noon with his friends with great cheerfulness, and was accompanied by several of the nobility to the scaffold, where, after an interval of devotion, his head was struck off by the maiden at the market-cross of Edinburgh. He m. his cousin, Margaret, second dau. of William, 9th Earl of Morton, by whom he had (with three daus., Anne, d. unm.; Jane, m. Robert, 1st Marquess of Lothian; and Mary, m. 1st, 1657, to George, Earl of Caithness, and 2ndly, 7 April, 1678, as 2nd wife of John, 1st Earl of Breadalbane) two sons,

I. ARCHIBALD, his successor.
II. Neil, of Ardmaddie, co. Argyle, governor of Dumbarton Castle, who m. 1st, 28 Jan. 1668, Lady Vere Ker, dau. of William, 3rd Earl of Lothian, and by her had issue, Charles; Archibald, D. D., a Bishop of the Scotch Episcopal Church, consecrated at Dundee 1711, d. at London 1744; and Anna, m. to Capt. James, 2nd son of Sir Alexander Menzies, 1st Bart. of Weem. Lord Neil m. 2ndly, Susanna, dau. of Sir Alexander Menzies, 1st Bart. of Weem, by whom he had two daus., Christian, m. to her cousin, Sir Robert Menzies, 2nd Bart.; and Susan, m. to J. Stewart, of Urrard. Lord Neil d. 1693, and was s. by his eldest son, Charles Campbell, who joined his uncle's invasion, and was tried and condemned, but had his sentence commuted. He made over Ardmaddie to the Earl of Breadalbane; he m. and left daus.

The Marquess was s. by the elder of his two sons,

ARCHIBALD, 9th earl, who, in 1663, was restored to the estates and honours of his family, as Earl of Argyll, Lord Campbell, Lorne, and Kintyre. This nobleman, for refusing to subscribe to the Test Act, was found guilty of high treason, 19 Dec. 1681, and sentenced to death, but effected his escape from the Castle of Edinburgh, under the disguise of a page, holding up the train of Lady Sophia Lindsay, his step-daughter, and departed the kingdom; he was subsequently taken, in an abortive attempt to invade Scotland in the beginning of the reign of JAMES II., and executed at the same place, and in the same manner, as his father, 30 June, 1685. He m., 1st, 13 May, 1650 Lady Mary, Stuart, dau. of James, 4th Earl of Moray, by whom he left,

I. ARCHIBALD, his successor.
II. John, of Mamore, capitally convicted in 1683 for participation in his father's expedition; but pardoned and his forfeiture annulled in 1689. He represented the county of Argyll in the Scottish parliament in 1700, and sat for Dumbarton in the parliament of Great Britain. He m. Elizabeth (who d. 13 April, 1758), dau. of John, 8th Lord Elphinstone, and dying in 1730 left issue,

JOHN, who became 4th Duke of Argyll.
Charles, of Auchnacrieve, M.P., d. unm. 1741.
William, of Lyston Hall, Suffolk, m. 1st, Susanna, dau. of Thomas Barnard, of Jamaica, and by her had two sons,

William-Henry, of Lyston Hall, d. unm. 30 Dec. 1802, and John, of Lyston Hall, Master in Chancery, M.P. for the Ayrshire burghs, who m. twice and had issue, but whose male line is extinct; William Campbell m. 2ndly, 7 April, 1762, Bridget (who d. 3 July, 1780), dau. of Philip Bacon, of Ipswich, and widow of Sir Cordell Firebrace, of Melford Hall, Bart., M.P. for Suffolk, s.p.

Mary, m. James, 2nd Earl of Rosebery; d. 7 May, 1756.

Anne, m. 1716, Archibald Edmonstone, of Duntreath (who d. 1768); d. 2 Nov. 1785.

Isabella, m. Capt. William Montgomery, of Rosemount; d. 3 Jan. 1786.

ASHBURNHAM.

ASHBURNHAM, EARL OF (Bertram Ashburnham), and Viscount St. Asaph, in Great Britain, and Baron Ashburnham, in England, D.L. co. Brecon; Knight Grand Cross of Malta and of the Pontifical Order of Pius; b. 28 Oct. 1840; s. his father in 1878 as 5th earl; m. 25 Feb. 1888, Emily, dau. of the late R. Chaplin, Esq., and has issue, Mary-Catherine-Charlotte, b. 3 Jan. 1890.

Lineage.

This family, which derives its name from Ashburnham, anciently Esburnham, a hamlet situated on the Ashburn (a small stream in Sussex mentioned in Drayton's Polyalbion), is described by Fuller in his Worthies as "a family of stupendous antiquity," and Nisbet adds, that "it is one of the ancientest families in England which can be instructed to have been of good account in England before the Conquest."

Francis Thyme, writing in the time of ELIZABETH, states that "Bertram Ashburnham, a baron of Kent, was Constable of Dover Castle in 1066, which Bertram was beheaded by William the Conqueror because he did so valiantly defend the same against the Duke of Normandy."

The first member of the family of whom any absolutely authentic record exists, and from whom the descent in a direct male line can be proved to its actual representative is,

REGINALD DE HESSEBURNEHAM, who gave to the church of St Martin, of Battle, all the land which they had in Hou, called Chehland. The original grant is in the possession of the present Earl of Ashburnham; it gives to Alred of St. Martin's "all the lands of Dudewell in fee, paying yearly half a mark, saving the rights to the King, the Church, and the Earl." Reginald was s. by his son,

STEPHEN DE ESBURNHAM, who confirmed to the church of St. Martin, of Battle, and to the monks there serving God, for the health of his soul and the souls of his ancestors and successors, the gift which his father, Reginald, gave for ever, in pure and free alms, viz., all that land which they had in Hou, called Cheliland, with the land which he gave them in Denne, with two saltworks in the marsh belonging to the said land, with all other appurtenances, in wood, in plain, and in marsh, to hold for ever in pure alms. There is also another deed in Lord Ashburnham's custody, being a confirmation by this Stephen to the Monks of Robertsbridge, of the lands of Dudewell, which the said monks held of Reginald, his father, and of him. Stephen was s. by his son,

Sir Richard de Esburnham, who confirmed to the monks of Robertsbridge, the gift that Stephen, his father, made to them of the whole lands of Dudewell. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Maltravers (who bore for arms sa., fretty or, Roll Henry III.), and had a son,

Sir Richard de Esburnham, who is certified in the reign of Henry III., as holding two knights' fees of Alice, dau. and heir of Henry, Earl of Ewe, and wife of Ralph de Ysondon, son of Geoffrey Luzignan, Earl of Aquitaine, as of the honor of Hastings. He m. Katherine, dau. of Sir Richard Peverell, and had two sons, Sir Hamond, his successor, and Sir Bartholomew, who held, anno 38 Henry III., 20*l.* per annum land of the king, and was summoned that year to attend the King at London, in Easter, with horse and arms, and to march to Portsmouth in order to proceed to Gascony to oppose the King of Castile. The elder son,

Sir Hamond de Esburnham, m. Maud, dau. of Thomas Elton, of Elton, co. Sussex, and was s. by his son,

Sir Richard Esburnham, who m. Isabel, dau. of Sir Thomas Morville, and had a son and heir,

Sir John Esburnham, who appears on a roll of arms, temp. Edward II., as "Sire Johan de Ascheborнham," bearing the family arms, viz., gu., a fess betw. six mullets ar. He was summoned, 25 Edward I., to attend the King at London, on the Sunday after the octave of St. John the Baptist, with horse and arms, to go beyond the seas for his own honor and the profit of the realm. Sir John m. Joan, dau. of Richard Covert, of Sullington, co. Sussex, and had a dau., Mabel, m. Simon Lunsford, and a son and heir,

John Esburnham, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, 19 Richard II., and in the two succeeding years one of the representatives in Parliament for that county. He m. Mary, dau. of Isley, of Sundridge, co. Kent, and was s. by his son,

John Ashburnham, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, anno 3 Henry IV., and one of the Commissioners of Array in the co. of Sussex, anno 3 Henry V. He m. Elizabeth Finch, and was s. by his only son,

Thomas Ashburnham, one of those of prime quality in the co. of Sussex, that made oath on behalf of himself and his retainers to observe the laws then made, anno 12 Henry VI. He m. Sarah, dau. and heir of Henry Waunsey, lineally descended from Sir Nicholas de Waunсy, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, anno 34 Henry III., and had issue,

I. John, his heir.
II. Richard, of Bromham, co. Sussex, m. the dau. and heir of Sir John Stoneling, and was ancestor of Ashburnham, Bart. of Bromham.
III. Thomas, of Gesling, co. Sussex, living 1523, who had by Elizabeth, his wife, one son, Thomas, and two daus., Ellen and Anne.

The eldest son,

John Ashburnham, Esq. of Ashburnham, s. his father, and m. Elizabeth Peckham. He d. 1491, and was buried in the chapel of St. James, of Ashburnham, leaving an only son his successor,

The Earl of Tullibardine d. 1613-14, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 2nd earl, who, with his cousin, David, Viscount Stormont, when a very young man, had the good fortune to be instrumental in the rescue of the king, at Perth, from the attempt of the Earl Gowrie and his brother, in 1600. For this signal service he obtained the hereditary sheriffship of Perthshire. He m. 1st, in 1602, Cecilia, eldest dau. of Sir John Wemyss, of Wemyss, s.p.; 2ndly, Lady Dorothea Stewart, eldest dau. of John, 5th Earl of Atholl (at whose decease, without male issue, the earldom of Atholl reverted to the crown), by whom he had issue, JOHN, who became Earl of Atholl; and Mary, m. to Sir John Moncrieff, of Moncrieff, 1st Bart. The earl, a short time before his decease, having petitioned CHARLES I., setting forth that his countess was the eldest dau. and heir of line of John, Earl of Atholl, and that the family of Stewart of Innermeath, which had obtained the title at that nobleman's decease, had become extinct, the king graciously promised to revive the dignity in her posterity; when his lordship, wishing to prevent the junction of the earldoms of Atholl and Tullibardine, and for the purpose of forming two noble families, resigned the latter dignity to the crown in favour of his brother, PATRICK MURRAY. William, 2nd Earl of Tullibardine, d. in 1626, and was s. by his son,

JOHN MURRAY, who, after serving heir to John Stewart, 1st Earl of Atholl, obtained a ratification, combined, for further security, with a new grant, of the Earldom of Atholl, 17 Feb. 1628-29, and thus became 1st Earl of Atholl of the house of Murray. He m. Jean, dau. of Sir Duncan Campbell, of Glenorchy, by whom he had (with two daus. who d. young), I. John, 2nd Earl of Atholl; II. Sir Mungo, who represented Perth in Parliament at the Restoration, d. unm.; I. Jean, who d. 1688; II. Anne, m. James, 4th Earl of Tullibardine. Dying in June, 1642, he was s. by his son,

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Atholl, K.T., to whom reverted the earldom of Tullibardine, in 1670, upon the demise of his cousin James, mentioned above. His lordship was created Marquess of Atholl, Earl of Tullibardine, Viscount Balquhidder, Lord Murray, Balveny, and Gask, 7 Feb. 1676, to him and the heirs male of his body; he m. 1659, Lady Amelia-Sophia Stanley, only dau. of James, 7th Earl of Derby, and had issue by this marriage,

His lordship d. 7 May, 1703, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 6th Earl of Tullibardine, 3rd Earl of Atholl, and 2nd Marquess of Atholl, was b. 24 Feb. 1659. He was created 30 June, 1703, DUKE OF ATHOLL, Marquis of Tullibardine,

Earl of Strathtay and Strathardle, Viscount Balquhidder, Glenalmond, and Glenlyon, and Lord Murray, Balvenie, and Gask, with remainder, in default of male issue, to the sons of his deceased father. His grace m. 1st, Catherine, dau. of William and Anne, Duke and Duchess of Hamilton, by whom (who was b. Oct. 1662, and d. 17 Jan. 1707) he had issue, seven sons and six daus.; of which,

I. John, Marquess of Tullibardine, col. in the service of Holland; fell at Malplaquet, 1709, unm.

II. William, Marquess of Tullibardine, served in the navy. He was one of the first that joined the Earl of Mar, in 1715, and proclaimed the Chevalier, for which act of high treason he was attainted by parliament. In consequence of this attainder the family honours were settled, by two Acts of Parliament, on the remoter heirs, to his exclusion. Escaping abroad, the marquess returned to Scotland, 1719, with the Spanish forces, joined the insurgents at Kintail, and was at the battle of Glenshiel. After the defeat there, his lordship escaped a second time to the Continent, where he lived in exile twenty-six years. In 1745, he landed with Prince CHARLES-EDWARD, at Borodale, in Scotland, and continued with him until after Culloden, when he fled to the westward, intending to embark for the isle of Mull; but his horse falling, he surrendered, 27 April, 1746, in a bad state of health, to Mr. Buchanan of Drummakill. He was eventually conveyed to London, and committed to the Tower, where he d. unm. 9 July, 1746.

III. JAMES, who s. to the dukedom.

IV. Charles, a cornet of horse, joined the Chevalier in 1715, and had the command of a regiment. After the surrender of Preston, his lordship, being amongst the prisoners, was tried by a court-martial as a deserter, and sentenced to be shot; but he was reprieved, and d. s. p. in 1720.

V. George, was appointed ensign royal Scots, 1712. He joined the Earl of Mar in 1715, and afterwards escaped abroad. He was with his brother, the Marquess of Tullibardine, at Kintail, 1719, and was said to have been wounded at the battle of Glenshiel. He again escaped, but returning in 1724, he obtained a pardon. He joined Prince CHARLES-EDWARD in 1745, and served as lieut.-gen. throughout that campaign. After Culloden, he was attainted by parliament, but made his escape, and was most graciously received by the Chevalier at Rome. His lordship m. 1726, Amelia, only surviving child and heiress of James Murray, of Glencarse and Strowan, and d. in exile at Medemblick, in Holland, 1766, having had four sons and three daus., viz.,

BACON.

BACON, SIR HICKMAN-BECKETT, of Redgrave, and of Mildenhall, both co. Suffolk, late lieut. gren. guards, D.L. for Lincoln and High Sheriff, 1887, b. 14 April, 1855; s. his father as 11th bart. of Redgrave (PREMIER BARONET), and 12th bart. of Mildenhall, 14 Nov. 1872.

Lineage.

Various conjectures have been hazarded as to the origin of the surname of BACON, but to little purpose. It matters not, however; the antiquity of the family is beyond dispute; and there are few houses in the kingdom more distinguished by the production of great and eminent men. Besides Friar Bacon, the marvel of his day, Sir Nicholas Bacon, and Sir Francis Bacon, the famous Lord Verulam and Viscount St. Albans, there were five other extraordinary personages of the same family.

SIR NICHOLAS BACON, Knt., b. at Chiselhurst, Kent, in 1510, succeeded at the accession of ELIZABETH, in the custody of the Great Seal, and was sworn of her majesty's privy council. Sir Nicholas m. 1st, Jane, dau. of William Fernley, Esq. of West Creting, co. Suffolk, by whom he had issue,

I. NICHOLAS (Sir), his successor.
II. Nathaniel (Sir), of Stiffkey, co. Norfolk, K.B., who became eminent as a painter, and some of his works are preserved at Culford, where he lived. He m. 1st, Anne, natural dau. of Sir Thomas Gresham, Knt., the celebrated founder of the ROYAL EXCHANGE; and 2ndly, Dorothy, dau. of Sir George Hopton, Knt. By the former he left three daus. at his decease, his co-heirs, viz.,
1 Anne, m. to Sir John Townshend, of Rainham, co. Norfolk, ancestor of the Lords Townshend, to whom she brought the Stiffkey estate.
2 Elizabeth, m. to Sir Thomas Knyvet, of Ashwelthorp, co. Norfolk.
3 Winifred, m. to Sir Robt. Gawdy, of Claxton, co. Norfolk.
III. Edward, who m. Helen, dau. and heiress of Thomas Littel, Esq. of Shrubland Hall, co. Suffolk, and acquiring that estate, was designated therefrom. He was ancestor of the Baconsof Shrubland Hall, of Ipswich, and Earlham.
I. Elizabeth, m. 1st, to Sir Robert Doyle; 2ndly, to Sir Henry Nevil; and 3rdly, to Sir William Periown, Chief Baron of Exchequer.
II. Anne, m. to Sir Henry Woodhouse, Knt., of Waxham, co. Norfolk.

Sir Nicholas m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke, of Gidea Hall, co. Essex, and had two other sons, viz.,

IV. Anthony, a man of very distinguished parts, and esteemed for his political knowledge, d. unm.
V. FRANCIS, b. at York House, Strand, 22 Jan. 1560, LORD KEEPER OF THE GREAT SEAL, 1617; and LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR OF ENGLAND, 1618; created, 11 July, 1618, Baron Verulam; and VISCOUNT ST. ALBANS, 27 Jan. 1621. He m. Alice, dau. and co-heir of Benedict Barnham, Esq., an alderman of London, but d. 9 April, 1626, without issue, when his honours became EXTINCT. (See BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.)

The Lord Keeper Bacon d. 20 Feb. 1579, and was s. by his eldest son.

I. SIR NICHOLAS BACON, Knt., who, at the demise of his father, held several manors and advowsons in the cos. of Norfolk and Suffolk, from the crown. He was knighted by ELIZABETH, in 1578, and was the first person advanced to the dignity of Baronet, 22 May, 1611, upon the institution of that order. Sir Nicholas had, by his wife, Anne, dau. and heiress of Edmund Butts, Esq., to whom (who d. in 1616) he was married fifty-two years, twelve children; of whom were (with three daus., ANNE, wife of Sir Robert Drury, Knt.; DOROTHY, the wife, 1st of Sir Bassingbourn Gawdy, Knt., and 2ndly, of Philip Colby, Esq.; and JEMIMA, who m. 1st, Sir William Waldegrave, Knt., and 2ndly, Henry Killigrew, Esq.),

I. EDMUND, his successor.
II. ROBERT, successor to his brother.

Sir Edmund, who m. 1st, Philippa, dau. of Sir Edmund Bacon, of Redgrave, and had three sons, Edmund, Henry, and Richard, 6th, 7th, and 8th baronets. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of John Castell, Esq. of Raveningham, by whom he had, with a dau., Mary, wife of Philip Bedingfield, Esq., a son,

Castell, b. in 1713, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Dashwood, Esq. of Cley, Norfolk, and had two sons,

Dashwood, b. in 1752; m. Anne-Barbara, dau. of Ogilvie, of St. Christopher's, and d. in 1812, leaving issue.

Sir Edmund d. 10 July, 1721, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Edmund, M.P., who m. Susan, dau. of Sir Isaac Rebow, Knt. of Colchester, and had, with a dau., Susan, wife of Francis Schutz, Esq., an only son, his successor in 1738,

Sir Richard, of whom presently, as inheritor of the Redgrave baronetcy.

iv. Nicholas, m. 1st, Anne, dau. of Sir James Weston, one of the barons of the Exchequer, and had an only dau., Anne, who m. Sir John Rous, Bart. Mr. Nicholas Bacon m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Eustace D'Arcy, Esq., and had a son, Nicholas, of Gillingham, created a Baronet, 7 Feb. 1616, and dying in 1666, left two sons, Edward and Richard, successive baronets; at the decease of the latter, s. p. in 1685, this title became extinct.

v. Nathaniel (Sir), of Culford, K.B., m. Jane, dau. of Hercules Meautys, Esq., and widow of Sir William Cornwallis, Knt., and had (with two daus., Anne, m. 1st, to Sir Thomas Meautys, and 2ndly, to Sir Harbottle Grimston, ancestor of the Earl of Verulam; and Jane, who d. unm.) a son, Nicholas, who d. without male issue.

Sir Nicholas d. in 1624 and was s. by his eldest son,

II. Sir Edmund, who m. the Hon. Philippa Wotton, dau. and co-heir of Edward, Lord Wotton of Marley, but dying s. p. 10 April, 1649, was s. by his brother,

III. Sir Robert. This gentleman m. Anne, dau. of Sir John Peyton, Bart., and had nine sons and three daus., of whom,

i. Robert, m. Catherine, dau. of Grave Violet, Esq. of Pynkney House, co. Norfolk, and d. in the lifetime of his father, 15 Aug. 1652, leaving,

BAGOT.

Bagot, Baron (Sir William Bagot), of Bagot's Bromley, co. Stafford, and a Baronet, J.P. and D.L., a lord-in-waiting to the Queen, A.D.C. to Marquess of Lorne, Gov. Gen. of Canada 1879–84, and gentleman usher of the privy chamber to the Queen 1885-87, late capt. 3rd batt. South Staffordshire regt., now major Staffordshire yeomanry, b. 19 Jan. 1857; s. his father in 1887 as 4th baron.

Lineage.

The ancestors of this family are recorded in Domesday Book, as holders of Bagot's Bromley, co. Stafford, under Robert de Stafford, founder of the old feudal house of Stafford, which terminated some time in the reign of Richard I. in an heir female, Milicent de Stafford, who conveyed the feudal barony to her husband, Henry de Bagot (a younger branch of the family of which we are about to treat). Their son, Hervey, assumed the surname of Stafford, and was progenitor of the succeeding Barons and Earls of Stafford, and Dukes of Buckingham.

The pedigree of the family, in the possession of the family, attested by Sir William Dugdale and Gregory King, of the College of Arms, "and supported by a most extraordinary mass of original deeds and other family muniments," deduces the lineal descent from Bagod, Lord of Bromley, who held the lands from Robert de Stafford, as mentioned in Domesday Book, to

Sir Ralph Bagot, Knt., who, in the time of Edw. II., m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Richard de Blithfield, of a very ancient family seated on a manor of that name, within two miles of his residence at Bagot's Bromley. With this heiress, Sir Ralph became possessed of the estates at Blithfield and Littlehay, in Colton, which had been in the lady's family from the Conquest; and he removed, most probably, from his own seat to that of Blithfield, where his descendants continue to reside. From this Sir Ralph the pedigree carries on the line to

HERVEY BAGOT, Esq. (eldest surviving son and heir of Walter Bagot, Esq. of Blithfield and Bagot's Bromley, co. Stafford, and Elizabeth his wife, dau. of Roger Cave, Esq.), b. 8 Feb. 1590, and created a Baronet 30 May, 1627, the year after that in which he had served the office of sheriff for the co. Stafford. This gentleman suffered much during the usurpation, for his attachment to the royal cause. He m. twice, and was s. at his decease, in Dec. 1660, by his eldest son (by Katherine, dau. of Humphrey Adderley, Esq. of Weddington, co. Warwick),

SIR EDWARD, M.P. for the co. Stafford, in the Restoration parliament, who m. Mary, dau. of William Lambard, Esq., and relict of John Crawley, Esq. (son and heir of Sir John Crawley, Knt., one of the justices of the court of Common Pleas), by whom he had twelve sons and five daus. He d. 30 May, 1673, and was s. by his 3rd and eldest surviving son,

SIR WALTER, who represented the co. Stafford in seven parliaments. He m. Jane, dau. and sole heir of Charles Salusbury, Esq. of Bachymbydd, co. Denbigh; and dying 15 Feb. 1704, was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR EDWARD, b. 21 Jan. 1673, M.P. for the co. Stafford, who m. Frances, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Wagstaffe, Knt. of Tachbrooke, co. Warwick, and dying in 1712, was s. by his only surviving son,

Lineage.

The surname of Bard or Baird appears in Aberdeenshire in the 14th century. The lands of Duncan Bard are mentioned in the Exchequer Rolls of 1331, and a line of Bairds of Ordinhivas can be traced in the 15th and 16th centuries.

George Baird, of Auchmedden, m. 1550, Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Keith, of Troup, of the family of the Earl Marischal, and was father of

Gilbert Baird, of Auchmedden, m. in 1570, Lilias, dau. and heir of Walter Baird, of Ordinhivas, and had a numerous issue, of which the eldest son, George, of Auchmedden, was ancestor of the Bairds of that place, now represented as heir of line by Fraser of Findrack (see Burke's Landed Gentry); and the 4th son, James, founded the houses of Newbyth and Saughton Hall. This

James Baird was a commissary of the Ecclesiastical Court in the time of Charles I., and m. Bethia, dau. of Sir John Dempster, of Pitliver. He had (with daus., Bethia, m. Sir James Ramsay, 1st Bart., of Whitehill, and Eupheme, m. Sir Patrick Murray, of Deuchar) two sons,

John (Sir), a lord of session, under the title of Lord Newbyth, father of William, created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1695, with remainder to heirs male of his body. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir William Hay, of Linplum, brother of John, 1st Earl of Tweeddale, and d. 1737, having had two sons, John, his successor in the baronetcy, M.P. for the county of Edinburgh 1715, m. Janet, dau. of Sir David Dalrymple, of Hailes, s. p. at whose death in Sept. 1745, the baronetcy expired; and Alexander, who d. 1743, twice married (to Anne, dau. of Wauchope of Niddrie, and Margaret, dau. of Lord Belhaven), but left no issue. His estates passed by entail to his cousin, William Baird.
Robert (Sir), of Saughton Hall.

The younger son of James Baird,

Sir Robert Baird, of Saughton Hall, in Mid-Lothian, created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1695-6, had, with other issue, James, his successor, and William Baird, a merchant, and one of the baillies of Edinburgh, who was father of William Baird, Esq., heir to his cousin, Sir John Baird, Bart. of Newbyth. He m. Alicia, 4th dau. of Johnston, of Hiltown, co. Berwick, by whom he had, with other issue (there were in all six sons and eight daus.),

The second in the above list, but the 5th son,

I. The Right Hon. Sir David Baird, K.C.B., P.C., b. at Newbyth, 6 Dec. 1757, entered the British service at fifteen years of age, and achieved high military fame. He repeatedly distinguished himself in India, and pre-eminently at the taking of Seringapatam, 4 May, 1799, when he headed the storming-party, and led them on to victory. Sir David Baird was commander-in-chief at the capture of the Cape of Good Hope; and his achievements in Egypt procured him the Order of the Bath from his own sovereign, and the insignia of the Crescent from the Sultan. At the bombardment of Copenhagen, he was wounded in the shoulder; and in the battle of Corunna lost an arm, soon after the fall of the gallant Sir John Moore. Sir David, who also held command in Ireland, attained the rank of general in the army, and was col. of the 24th foot. He was created a Baronet, 13 April, 1809, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his eldest brother, Robert Baird, Esq. of Newbyth, co. Haddington, and his heirs male. He m. 4 Aug. 1810, Anne Preston-Menzies-Campbell, of Fernton and Lochlane, elder dau. and heiress of Major Patrick-Preston, younger, of Valleyfield; but d. without issue, at his seat, Fernton, Scotland (his widow survived till 28 May, 1847), 18 Aug. 1829, when the baronetcy devolved, according to the limitation, upon his nephew,

II. Sir David, b. in 1795, who m. 10 Aug. 1821, Lady Anne Kennedy, eldest dau. of Archibald, 1st Marquess of Ailsa, and by her (who d. 2 Nov. 1877) had issue,

Lineage.

The family of Baker is ancient and much respected in the West of England, where it has been seated for many hundred years. It is believed that this family and that of Baker, of Loventor, co. Devon, are branches of the same parent stem,

James Baker, Esq. of Buckland House, near Taunton, co. Somerset, lord of the manors of Cogload and Sampford-Arundel, co. Somerset, and of Nicholas-Hayne and Hale, in the parish of Culmstock, co. Devon, had four sons, viz.:

I. Christopher, who d. without issue, and of whom an inscription on a monument in Sampford-Arundel church thus speaks: "Sacred to the memory of Christopher Baker, who was high sheriff for the county of Somerset in the year of our Lord, 1724. He was the eldest son and heir of James Baker, of Culmstock, in the county of Devon, Esqre., and of Buckland-Sowrum, in this county, deceased, by Sarah, his wife: a worthy descendant, for his father was of candour and generosity, and of inviolable integrity of life, and his mother deservedly esteemed for her constancy, piety, and faith. Decessit XV. Decbri. A.D. 1729, æt. suæ XLIV. H.M.M. pie posuit Joannes Baker frater amantissimus."

II. James, who d. without issue, 31 July, 1747.

III. George, of Brockenhurst House, Hants, barrister-at-law, and a bencher of the honourable society of the Inner Temple, m. Mrs. Vansittart, and d. without issue, 1770.

IV. John, of Richmond, Surrey, M.D., a disciple of the celebrated Boerhaave, and deservedly respected for his professional ability, as also for his benevolence, and sterling integrity, m. Sarah, dau. and co-heiress of Robert Wood, brother of Thomas Wood, Esq. of Littleton, co. BALFOUR.

BALFOUR OF BURLEIGH, LORD (Alexander-Hugh Bruce, P.C.), in Scotland, and a Representative Peer, Secretary of State for Scotland from 1895, Lord-in-waiting to the Queen, 1887-88, and Parliamentary Secretary to Board of Trade, 1888-92, V.P. and D.L., formerly capt. Stirlingshire militia, b. 3 Jan. 1849, educated at Eton and Oriel College, Oxford, where he graduated 2nd class, 1871; m. 21 Nov. 1876, Lady Katherine-Eliza Gordon, youngest dau. of George, 5th Earl of Aberdeen, and has issue,

I. ROBERT, Master of Burleigh, b. 25 Sept. 1880.
II. George-John-Gordon, b. 18 Oct. 1883.
I. Mary, b. 24 Aug. 1877.
II. Jane-Hamilton, b. 18 March, 1879.

His lordship inherits the title of Baron Balfour of Burleigh, being heir of the body of Sir Michael Balfour. The Committee for Privileges resolved, 21 July, 1868, that Mr. Robert Bruce, of Kennet, father of the present Lord Balfour, would be entitled to the dignity of Baron Balfour of Burleigh, were it not for the attainder of Robert, Lord Balfour. A subsequent act, dated 19 March, 1869, was passed, removing the attainder.

Lineage.

SIR JOHN BALFOUR, Knt. of Balgarvie, had a grant of the lands of Burleigh, which were erected into a free barony, from King JAMES II., in the 9th year of His Majesty's reign, anno 1445-46. From him lineally descended

MICHAEL BALFOUR, of Burleigh, who m. Christina, dau. of John Bethune, of Creich, and had an only child, his sole heir,

MARGARET BALFOUR, who m. Sir James Balfour,* Knt. of Pittendreich and Monquhany, co. Fife; a gentleman who enacted an important part during the turbulent reigns of the unfortunate MARY and her son, JAMES VI., and was at one time president of the Court of Session. He d. in 1584. By Margaret his wife (who m. 2ndly, Sir Robert Melville, and d. 1590) he had, with three daus., six sons, I. MICHAEL, of whom presently; II. James (Sir), created in 1619, by JAMES VI., Lord Balfour, Baron of Glenawley co. Fermanagh; III. Alexander, of Balgarvie, from whom several families of that name are descended; IV. Henry, general in the army of the States of Holland, served with reputation under the Prince of Orange; V. William, m. Hamilton, heiress of Glenawley, assumed her name, and one of their descendants was created Lord Glenawley; VI. David, captain in his brother, Sir Henry's regiment, perished at sea, going over to Holland. The eldest son,

SIR MICHAEL BALFOUR, of Burleigh, ambassador to the Duke of Tuscany and Lorraine, in 1606, was created, by letters patent, 16 July, 1607, LORD BALFOUR, of Burleigh. He was subsequently sworn of the privy council. He m. 1st, Mariot Adamson; and 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Lundie, of Lundie; and by the latter left at his decease, 1619, a dau., his sole heiress,

MARGARET BALFOUR, who m. Robert, son of Robert Arnot, of Newton, chamberlain of Fife, which Robert assumed, on his marriage, the surname of BALFOUR, and enjoyed the title of Lord Balfour, of Burleigh, sitting in parliament as a baron. At the meeting of parliament in 1640, he was chosen president thereof for the session, and continued in the office till 1641. He was one of the commissioners for the treaty of peace with England, 1640 and 1641, and was one of the privy councillors constituted "ad vitam aut culpam" by the parliament of Scotland, 13 Nov. 1641. His lordship was much engaged in the subsequent public transactions, and was one of the peers who opposed "the engagement" to march into England for the rescue of the king. He d. at Burleigh, 18 Aug. 1663, having had, by Margaret, his wife (who d. at Edinburgh in June, 1639), one son and four daus. The son and heir,

Lineage.

DONALD BANYRMAN was in the reign of DAVID II., prior to his revocation of 1367, in possession of the Thanage of Aberdeen. As physician to that king, he had a yearly payment of £20, and in 1366 he had a charter of Waterton, and other lands near Aberdeen, which continued with his descendants till 1611, when they were sold to John Johnston, of that ilk.

ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, probably a younger son of the physician, had, in 1387, a charter of Elsick, in the barony of Cowie, in the Mearns, from Sir Alexander Fraser. From 1427 to 1473 there appear on record a succession of Bannermans of Elsick, who are quite distinct from the Bannermans of Waterton, with whom they have been confounded.

SIR HENRY (who resumed the original surname of his ancestors) VANE, of Raby Castle, co. Durham, his chief place of abode, and which continues to be used by his descendants. This gentleman (b. 18 Feb. 1586, knighted 28 Mar. 1611) was a distinguished politician, and stood high in the favour of JAMES I. and CHARLES I.; in the former reign he was appointed cofferer to the Prince of Wales; and in the latter, after enjoying many elevated offices (amongst others, that of Ambassador in Sweden to Gustavus Adolphus, and one of the commissioners of the Admiralty), was constituted principal secretary of state for life, and sworn of the privy council. His subsequent dismissal from office was attributed to his having offended the king by the active part he took in the prosecution of the Earl of Strafford, against whom, it is said, he was influenced, that nobleman having, when elevated to the peerage, taken the title of Baron Raby of Raby Castle, which Sir Henry Vane deemed more properly to belong to himself as owner of the castle, an act designated by Clarendon as "the most unnecessary provocation I have known." Sir Henry Vane m. Frances, dau. and co-heir of Thomas D'Arcy, Esq. of Tolleshunt Darcy, co. Essex (descended from Guicciardini, the noble Florentine historian), and by her (who d. 2 Aug. 1663, and whose sister m. Sir Christopher Nevill, ancestor of George, 11th Earl of Abergavenny) had, besides daus., two surviving sons,

HENRY (3rd son), his successor.
George (Sir), of Long Newton, co. Durham, whose great-grandson, Rev. HENRY VANE, D.D., created a Baronet 1782; d. 1794, and was s. by his son, SIR HENRY, who, in right of his mother, assumed the additional surname of TEMPEST. Sir Henry Vane-Tempest m. in 1799, ANNE-CATHERINE, COUNTESS OF ANTRIM; and dying in 1813, left an only dau. and heiress, LADY FRANCES-ANNE-EMILY VANE-TEMPEST, who m. 1819, Charles, 3rd Marquess of Londonderry, K.G., G.C.B. Sir George was also ancestor of the Vanes, Barts. of Hutton Hall, co. Cumberland.

Sir Henry Vane d. in 1654 (will dated 12 Jan. 1654), and was s. by his elder surviving son, the famous

SIR HENRY VANE, Knt. of Raby Castle, co. Durham, and of Fairlawn, co. Kent, b. about 1612, knighted 23 June, 1640—whom Clarendon characterizes as a person of "great natural parts, a quick conception and very ready, sharp, and weighty expression," and Milton celebrates in verse as "Vane, young in years, but in sage counsel old." Subsequently he aided in procuring the condemnation of Strafford, and led the impeachment against Laud. He was twice a parliamentary commissioner, and opposed the terms of peace. After the King's death, in which he had no share, he became one of the supreme governing council. He was a strenuous adversary to CROMWELL throughout the Protectorate, and endeavoured to establish a republican constitution after the Protector's death. At the Restoration, Vane was arrested, but a promise was given to parliament that his life should be spared; in violation of this he was, 2 June, 1662, arraigned for high treason, was found guilty, and receiving sentence of death, was beheaded on Tower Hill, 14 June, 1662. Sir Henry m. 1 July, 1640, Frances, dau. of Sir Christopher Wray, Bart. of Glentworth and Ashby, co. Lincoln, and had issue (with five daus., of whom, Katherine d. 24 March, 1678, and Albinia, b. 1644, m. 1668, John Forth, alderman of London),

I. Henry d. 2 Nov. 1660, aged 18.
II. Edward, d. 1648.
III. Cecil, d. 1646.
IV. Cecil, d. 1647.
V. Thomas, of Raby Castle, M.P. for Durham, m. Frances, dau. of Sir Thomas Liddell, of Ravensworth, co. Durham, and d. s. p. 1675. His widow m. 2ndly, Sir John Bright, Bart. of Badsworth, co. York, and d. s. p.
VI. Ralph, d. 1656.
VII. CHRISTOPHER (Sir), of whom we treat.

The youngest son,

SIR CHRISTOPHER VANE, b. 21 May, 1653, knighted by King Charles II. 25 July, 1688, was elevated to the peerage as Baron Barnard, of Barnard Castle, in the Bishopric of Durham, by letters-patent, dated 25 July, 1699. BARNEWALL.

BARNEWALL, SIR REGINALD-AYLMER-JOHN-DE-BARNEVAL, Bart. of Crickstown Castle, co. Meath, b. 16 Feb. 1838; s. his father in 1838 as 10th bart.

Lineage.

This family, whose surname was anciently written "De Barneval," "Bernevale," and "Barnewall," is the parent stock from which the noble houses of Trimlestown and Kingsland branched. It was established in Ireland in 1172, under Strongbow, Earl of Pembroke.

SIR MICHAEL DE BERNEVAL, or BARNEVAL, the first settler in Ireland, landed at Berehaven, co. Cork, before Strongbow landed in Leinster. He is mentioned in the records of the Tower of London, as one of the chief captains of the expedition in 1172. He was s. by his son,

ALANUS DE BERNEVAL, who left two sons, HUGO and REGINALD, and was s. by the eldest,

HUGO DE BERNEVAL, who received two marks as the King's gift for his expenses on going into Ireland, 23 Aug. 1212. The King's mandate, sent to Geoffry de Marisco, directed that Hugh de Berneval should have seisin of his land at Drumenagh and Terenure in the vale of Dublin, 12 Dec. 1216. He d. s. p. before 24 Jan. 1220-21, when a mandate for seisin of his lands was granted to his brother and heir,

REGINALD DE BERNEVAL, who was restored to lands in Drumenagh and Terenure, 24 Jan. 1228-29. He had a grant 27 Nov. 1233, of £20 a-year for his maintenance on the King's service (mandate dated 28 Sept. 1234). He was s. by his son,

ULPHRAM (or WOLFRAM) DE BERNEVAL, of Drumenagh, who was constable of Dublin Castle in 1279, 1280, and 1281, sheriff of Dublin in 1284 and 1289. He was witness, in 1289, to a deed between Hugh Tyrrell and the Prior and

Lineage.

The family of Barrington is of undoubted Norman origin that of Shute of Dutch or Danish extraction. The branch now represented by Lord Barrington was settled at Hockington, in Cambridgeshire. Papers at Beckett say that a member of the family was one of the twelve judges temp Queen Elizabeth, and the mother of Sir Christopher Hatton K.B., of Kirby, was Jane, dau. of Robert Shute, a Baron of the Exchequer.

John Shute, Esq., barrister-at-law (only surviving son of Benjamin Shute, Esq.), inherited by will, although unallied and but slightly known to the testator, the estate of John Wildman, Esq. of Becket, co. Berks, Mr. Wildman declaring that the only reason he had for making Mr. Shute his heir was, that he considered him the most worthy of all his acquaintance of adoption, after the manner of the Romans, a mode of settling property which he had alway )proved. In a few years afterwards, Mr. Shute obtained nother property by settlement—that of Francis Barrington, sq. of Tofts co. Essex, who had m. his cousin, Elizabeth, au. of Samuel Shute, sheriff of London, and d. without sue. In pursuance of this settlement, Mr. Shute assumed, r act of parliament, the surname and arms of BARRING-ON. He was returned twice to parliament for Berwick-pon-Tweed; but, on the last return, in 1722, the Commons king into consideration the Harborough lottery, came to resolution that the honourable member had promoted id carried on that undertaking, and therefore unjustly pelled him the House, 15 Feb. 1722. He had previously en elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 1 July, 1720, by e titles of Baron Barrington, of Newcastle, co. Dublin, and SCOUNT BARRINGTON, *of Ardglass, co. I. Alice-Kathleen-Violet, b. 27 March, 1891.

II. Emma-Margery, b. 5 July, 1893.

Lineage.

It appears, from documents in possession of this family, that its ancient surname was Botevile, and that under that name it enjoyed lands in the manor of Stretton, in Shropshire, for many generations, from the time of King JOHN, in whose reign, the brothers, Sir Geoffrey and Oliver Botevile, persons of great eminence and rank in Poitou, came over to England, according to Matthew Paris, in order to assist the king against his rebellious barons.

SIR GEOFFRY BOTEVILE, was the first that settled at Stretton on the lands given him by the Earl of Arundel (William d'Albini). This Sir Geoffry was, by King JOHN, constituted governor of Belvoir Castle, in Lincolnshire.

WILLIAM BOTEVILE, his son, departed this life A.D. 1256, leaving a son, JOHN, whose name is recorded, in an old roll, among the knights of Shropshire, who attended at the siege of Caerlaverock Castle. This Sir John had several sons; the youngest was THOMAS, of whose line we treat. This THOMAS BOTEVILE, who had livery and seisin of lands in Stretton, 30 EDWARD III., 1356, left, by Sibilla his wife, a son, RICHARD, who d. in 1416, leaving a son,

THOMAS BOTEVILE, who had two sons, WILLIAM and JOHN; from the latter came BOTEVYLE of Botevyle.

This John Botevile and two brothers, Thomas and William, are all severally described, in a deed of 1497, as "de le Inne," the meaning of which is, that some years before the property had been divided, and the copyhold being settled on one branch of Botevile, the freeholds and family residence, commonly in those days called "the Inn," upon another, those who continued at the family dwelling were distinguished from the rest as Boteviles "de le Inne" or "of the Inne."

RALPH, grandson of John de le Inne just mentioned, became Ralph Botevile, alias Thynne. He m. Anne, dau. of John Higgons, of Stretton, and had,

THOMAS, his successor.
William, master of the household to HENRY VIII., who collected and published the works of Chaucer, with notes, 1542. He was father of FRANCIS THYNNE, Lancaster Herald.

Ralph Thynne was s. by his elder son,

THOMAS THYNNE, of Stretton, who m. Margaret, dau., and at length heiress, of Thomas Eynes, Esq. of Stretton, (which lady was granddau., maternally, of Humphrey Gatacre, Esquire of the body to HENRY VI., who was descended, through females, from Sir Richard Pembruge, K.G. The eldest son,

SIR JOHN THYNNE, secretary to Earl of Hertford in his Scotch expedition, and knighted by him in 1547, after the battle of Pinkie. This gentleman laid the foundation, in Jan. 1567, of the magnificent mansion at Longleat, co. Wilts, from which time the building was carried on until 1579, so that twelve entire years were consumed in its erection. This is said to be the first well-built house in the kingdom. Sir John Thynne m. 1st, Christian, dau. of Sir Richard Gresham, Knt., lord mayor of London, and sister and heir of Sir Thomas Gresham, who founded and endowed Gresham College, and built the Royal Exchange, by whom he had issue,

SIR JOHN THYNNE, Knt. of Longleate, who m. Joan, youngest dau. of Sir Rowland Hayward, Knt., lord mayor of London (twice), and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR THOMAS THYNNE, who m. 1st, Maria, dau. of George Lord Audley, by whom he had three sons; the eldest d. s. p.; the second SIR JAMES THYNNE, s. his father, at Longleat, and m. Lady Isabella, dau. of Henry Rich, Earl of Holland, but d. s. p. 12 Oct. 1670. The youngest,

THOMAS (Sir), of Richmond, Surrey, m. Stuart, dau. and co-heir of Dr. Walter Balquanquill, Dean of Durham, and left a son,

THOMAS, known as "Tom of Ten Thousand," who succeeded to Longleat, and lived there in great magnificence. He was basely assassinated, while in his coach in Pall Mall, 12 Feb. 1682, by the connivance, it is thought, of Count Konigsmark, a Swedish nobleman.

Sir Thomas Thynne m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Charles Howard, and niece of Viscount Bindon. The eldest surviving son of this marriage,

SIR HENRY-FREDERICK THYNNE, of Kempsford, was created a Baronet, 15 June, 1641. Sir Henry m. Mary, dau. of Thomas, 1st Lord Coventry, and had, with other issue,

THOMAS, his successor.

BATHURST.

BATHURST, EARL (Seymour-Henry Bathurst), of Bathurst, co. Sussex, Baron Bathurst, of Battlesden, co. Bedford, and Baron Apsley, of Apsley, co. Sussex, D.L., major 4th batt. Gloucester regt.; b. 21 July, 1864; s. his father in 1892 as 7th earl; m. 15 Nov. 1893, Hon. Lilias-Margaret-Frances, only dau. of 1st Baron Glenesk, and has issue,

ALLEN ALGERNON, Lord Apsley, b. 3 Aug. 1895.

Meriel-Olivia, b. 3 Sept. 1894.

Lineage.

The Bathursts are stated to have come into England in the time of the Saxons, from a place called Batters, in the duchy of Luneburg. They gained a settlement near Battle, co. Sussex, which they called Batters-hurst, which name was eventually contracted to Bathurst.

LAWRENCE BATHURST was, it is asserted, attainted by EDWARD IV., and deprived of his Sussex property. He retired to Cranbrook, co. Kent, and had an only son, LAWRENCE BATHURST, of Canterbury and Cranbrook, who was father of another LAWRENCE BATHURST, of Canterbury, Cranbrook, and Staplehurst, co. Kent, who m. a dau. of Robert Chapman, Esq., and had, I. EDWARD, of Staplehurst, living 1558; II. Robert, of Horsmonden, co. Kent, ancestor of Bathursts, Barts., of Leachlade, co. Gloucester, now extinct or dormant (see BURKE'S Extinct Baronetage); and III. John, of Staplehurst. The eldest son,

EDWARD BATHURST, was father of

LAUNCELOT BATHURST, an alderman of London, b. 1529, who m. Judith, dau. of Barnard Randolph, Esq., of London, and of Wardis, Sussex, and had issue. Alderman Bathurst, in the beginning of ELIZABETH'S reign, was possessed of the manor of Franks, in Kent, which devolved on his eldest son, Randolph and his descendants. His 4th son,

GEORGE BATHURST, Esq., b. 1587; m. in 1610, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Edward Villiers, Esq. of Howthorpe, co. Northampton, and thus acquiring that estate, settled there. Mrs. Bathurst d. 1650. There were, of the marriage, thirteen sons and four daus.; six of the former died in the service of CHARLES I., during the civil wars. The 7th son, Dr. Ralph Bathurst, D.D., M.D., dean of Bath and Wells, chaplain to the king, president of Trinity College, Oxford, b. 1620, was a distinguished wit and Latin poet, and one of the founders of the Royal Society. Mr. George Bathurst's youngest son,

SIR BENJAMIN BATHURST, Knt., M.P., was elected, in the reign of CHARLES II., governor of the Royal African Company; and in the years 1688 and 1689, governor of the East India Company. He was afterwards treasurer o the household to the Princess Anne of Denmark, and, on her accession to the throne, Sir Benjamin was constituted her majesty's cofferer. He m. Frances, dau. of Sir Allen Apsley, of Apsley, in Sussex, and dying 27 April, 1704, left issue,

BEAUCHAMP.

Beauchamp, Earl (William Lygon), Viscount Elmley, and Baron Beauchamp, of Powyke, co. Worcester, D.L., Mayor of Worcester, 1895 and 1896, b. 20 Feb. 1872; s. his father in 1891 as 7th Earl.

Lineage.

Walter de Beauchamp, a younger son of William de Beauchamp, Lord of Elmley, and his wife, Isabel, sister and heiress of William Mauduit, Earl of Warwick, having purchased from Reginald Fitzherbert a moiety of the manor of Alcester, co. Warwick, made that one of his principal seats, calling it Beauchamp Court; the other being at Powyke, co. Worcester. This Walter, who was a very eminent person at the period in which he lived, being signed with the cross for a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, had a legacy of 200 marks bequeathed to him by his father, for his better performance of that voyage. He was steward of the household to King Edward I., and attended that monarch to Flanders, and into Scotland, where he shared in the honours of Falkirk, on 22 July, 1298. In the 29th of the same reign he was one of the lords in the Parliament of Lincoln, being then styled Dominus de Alcester, who signified to the pope, under their seals, the superiority of King Edward over the kingdom of Scotland. His lordship m. Alice de Tony, and had issue,

I. Walter, successor to his father.
II. William, a military man of celebrity, who succeeded to part of the estates of his elder brother.
III. Giles, who inherited the lordship of Alcester, by the settlement of his eldest brother.

The eldest son,

Walter de Beauchamp, succeeded his father in 1306, and was the next year in the expedition against the Scots. In 1317, soon after the death of Guy, Earl of Warwick, his kinsman, he had custody of all the lands belonging to Warwick Castle, together with the castle itself, during the minority of the young earl. In 1327 he had a special commission to execute the office of constable of England in a particular case; and dying in the following year s. p., was s. by his brother,

William de Beauchamp, a military officer of high reputation, who had attended Edward I. in several of his expeditions into Flanders and Scotland. In the 10th of that monarch he acted as sheriff of Worcestershire, which office was granted to him during the minority of the heir of his kinsman, Guy, Earl of Warwick. In the 14th of Edward II. he was appointed governor of St. Briavel Castle, co. Gloucester, and of the Forest of Dean, and was constituted, in the year following, one of the king's commissioners for the safe custody of the city of Worcester. As he d., however, without issue, his estates devolved upon his brother,

Giles de Beauchamp, who had already inherited, by the settlement of his eldest brother, the lordship of Alcester, the manor-house of which, called Beauchamp's Court, he had licence to fortify in the 14th of Edward III. with a wall of stone and lime, and to embattle it; and he obtained similar permission regarding his house at Fresh-Water, in the Isle of Wight, in the 16th year of the same reign, 1342-3. This Giles was s. by his son,

John de Beauchamp, of whom little is mentioned save his founding a chantry in the parish church of Alcester, temp. Edward III., for one priest to celebrate divine service daily at the altar of All Saints, and his being in the expedition against France in the 3rd of Richard II. This John de Beauchamp left two sons,

I. William (Sir), his successor.
II. Walter (Sir), from whom the Beauchamps, Barons of St. Amand derived (see that dignity), and was s. by the elder,

Sir William de Beauchamp, Knt., who in the 16th of Richard II. was made constable of the castle of Gloucester. In the 3rd of Henry IV. (1401-2), was appointed sheriff of Worcestershire, and upon the accession of Henry V., sheriff of Gloucestershire. He m. Catharine, dau. and eventually co-heir of Sir Gerard de Ufflete, and was s. by his son,

Sir John de Beauchamp, Knt., who purchased from Thomas de Botreaux the other moiety of the manor of Alcester, which had continued in that family for divers descents. In the 17th of Henry VI., this Sir John de Beauchamp (2 May, 1447) was elevated to the peerage, in consequence of the many good and acceptable services performed by him to that king, and to Henry V. his father, by the title of Baron Beauchamp, of Powyke. He was also constituted justice of South Wales, with power to exercise that office personally or by deputy; and ere long (28th Henry VI.) was raised to the office of lord treasurer of England, and honoured with the Garter. His lordship m. before 1448, Margaret, sister of Richard Ferrars, and d. in 1475 (says Sir H. Nicolas), and by his last testament, dated 9 April, 1475, bequeathed his body to sepulture in the church of the Dominican Friars, at Worcester, in a new chapel to be made on the north side of the choir. Lord Beauchamp was s. by his only son, then forty years of age,

Sir Richard Beauchamp, 2nd Lord Beauchamp, of Powyke, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Humphrey Stafford, Knt., and d. 1496, having had issue,

I. Elizabeth, m. Sir Robert Willoughby, Lord Willoughby de Broke, and had a son, from whom descend the Earl of Warwick, Lord Willoughby de Broke, Lord Greville, &c.
II. Anne, m. Thomas Lygon, Esq. of co. Worcester, as hereafter.
III. Margaret, m. Richard Rede, Esq. of co. Gloucester.

The 2nd dau.,

The Hon. Anne Beauchamp, m. Thomas Lygon, Esq. (grandson of Thomas Lygon, who acquired the estate of Madresfield with the heiress of Bracy), and had issue,

Sir Richard Lygon, Knt., of Madresfield, co. Worcester, who m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Mr. Justice Greville, of the court of Common Pleas, and was s. by his son,

William Lygon, Esq., who d. 8 Sept. 1567, leaving, by Eleanor his wife, dau. of Sir William Dennes, Knt., a son and successor,

Richard Lygon, Esq. of Madresfield. This gentleman m. Mary, dau. of Sir Thomas Russel, Knt. of Strensham, co. Worcester, and dying in 1584, left (with a dau. Margaret, who m. Ralph Hornyold, Esq. of Blackmore Park) a son,

Sir William Lygon, of Madresfield, whose grandson,

William Lygon, Esq. of Madresfield, m. 7 Aug. 1688, Margaret, dau. and heir of Thomas Corbyn, Esq. of Hall End, co. Warwick, and d. 16 March, 1720, having had three sons (I. William, b. 10 April, 1691, m. Margaret, dau. of Charles Cocks, Esq. of Worcester, M.P., and d. s. p., v. p. 4 Sept. 1716; II. Margaret Lygon, who m. 1st, 25 June, 1713, Reginald Pyndar, Esq. of Kempley, co. Gloucester; 2ndly, Francis

Biddulph, Esq. of Ledbury, co. Hereford, and d. 14 Sept. 1736, leaving by her first husband three sons, the eldest of whom,

REGINALD PYNDAR, Esq., becoming heir to the Madresfield property, assumed the surname of LYGON. He m. Susannah, dau. of William Hanmer, Esq. of Bettesfield, co. Flint, and had one dau., Elizabeth, who m. the Hon. John Yorke, 3rd son of Lord Chancellor Hardwicke, and one son, his successor in 1788,

WILLIAM LYGON, Esq., b. 25 July, 1747. This gentleman represented the co. Worcester for 30 years in parliament, and only retired upon being elevated to the peerage, 26 Feb. 1806, by the title of Baron Beauchamp of Powyke, co. Worcester. His lordship was advanced to the dignities of Viscount Elmley and EARL BEAUCHAMP, 1 Dec. 1815. He m. 1 Nov. 1780, Catherine, only dau. of James Denn, Esq., and by her (who d 2 March, 1844) had issue,

I. WILLIAM-BEAUCHAMP, his successor.

Lineage.

The surname of this very ancient family is derived from the city of Beaumont, in France, which formerly gave title to a succession of viscounts, whose heiress, Agnes de Beaumont, conveyed the seigneury to her husband, Louis, 2nd son of John, King of Jerusalem and Sicily, and nephew of Louis IX. of France. The 4th son of this lady,

Henry de Beaumont, came into England, according to general supposition, at the instance of Eleanor, wife of Edward I., and obtained high and confidential employment from the crown, with extensive territorial grants. This eminent person, who was brother of Isabel, wife of John, Lord Vesci of Alnewicke, is styled in our records, "consanguineus regis"; and, amongst his other offices, he was made King of the Isle of Man for life, by the same tenure that its lords usually held it under the Kings of Scotland. He was likewise summoned to parliament as a baron, 4 March, 1309, and sworn of the privy council. His lordship m. Alice, dau. and at length heir of Alexander Comin, Earl of Buchan, in whose right he became constable of Scotland, and obtained the manor of Whitwicke, in Leicestershire, where he was licensed to convert the manor-house into a castle. Lord Beaumont d. 1340 (for a more ample account of this nobleman, refer to Burke's Extinct and Dormant Peerage), and was s. by his son,

John de Beaumont, 2nd baron, summoned to parliament 25 Feb. 1342. His lordship m. the Lady Alianore Plantagenet, dau. of Henry, Earl of Lancaster, and great-grand-dau. of Henry III., by whom he had an only child, Henry, born in Brabant, during her ladyship's attendance upon Philippa, queen-consort of Edward III.; in consideration of which circumstance, Lord Beaumont procured the king's special letters-patent, declaring "that notwithstanding the said Henry was begotten and born in foreign parts, nevertheless, in regard it was by reason of his and his lady's attendance on the queen, he should be reputed a lawful heir, and inherit the lands in England, as if he had been born there." Lord Beaumont d. in 1342, and was s. by the said

Henry de Beaumont, 3rd lord, who m. the Lady Margaret de Vere, dau. of John, Earl of Oxford, and dying in 1368, was s. by his only child,

Bedford, Duke and Earl of (Herbrand-Arthur Russell), Marquess of Tavistock, Baron Russell, of Cheneys, co. Buckingham, Baron Russell, of Thornhaugh, co. Northampton, and Baron Howland, of Streatham, co. Surrey, D.L., late lieut. gren. guards, hon. col. 3rd vol. batt. Bedfordshire regt. and 19th Middlesex R.V. A.D.C., to Governor General of India 1884–88, b. 19 Feb. 1858; s. his brother in 1893 as 11th duke; m. 30 Jan. 1888, Mary, dau. of Ven. W. H. Tribe, Archdeacon of Lahore, and has issue,

Lineage.

In a record of the time of Edward I. the ancestors of the House of Russell* are stated to have held Kingston Russell, co. Dorset, from the time of the Conquest; but the first whose name is met with is

Richard Russell, who held a Knight's fee in Dorset, 12 Henry II., and who was living in the 31st of that reign. He was succeeded by John Russell, Constable of Corfe Castle 1221. He m. Rohesia, relict of Henry de la Pomeray, and dau. of Thomas Bardolph, by Sibella, his wife, dau. and co-heir of Sir Robert Corbet, and left a son and heir.

Sir Ralph Russell, Knt., who m. Isabel, one of the daus. and co-heirs of James Newmarsh, feudal Baron of Newmarsh and Derham, co. Dorset, and left, with other issue,

Sir William Russell, of Kingston-Russell, Dorsetshire M.P., 1st Edward II., for Hants., who m. 1st, Eleanor, only dau. and heir of Thomas de Aula, Lord of Yaverland, and had by her a son, from whom descended the Russells of Chippenham, extinct baronets. Sir William m. 2ndly, Jane, dau. and co-heir of Robert Peverel, and had by her a son, Theobald. He d. in 1311, and was s. by his son (by his 2nd wife),

Sir Theobald Russell, who m. 1st, Eleanor (dau. of Ralph de Gorges, Baron Gorges, and heir of her brother, Ralph Gorges), by whom he had a son, Ralph, who assumed his maternal surname and arms of Gorges (see Burke's Extinct Peerage). Sir Theobald m. 2ndly, Eleanor, dau. of John de la Tour, of Berwick, co. Dorset, by whom he was father of

William Russell, whose great-grandson,

John Russell, of Kingston-Russell, m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of John Herring, of Winterborn, Clenston, Dorset, grandson of Sir Walter Herring, of Herringston, co. Dorset, and was father of Sir John Russell, Knt., Speaker of the House of Commons in the 2nd and 10th of Henry VI. This gentleman m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of John Froxmere, and was s. by his eldest son,

James Russell, who m. Alice, dau. and heiress of John Wyse, Esq. of Sydenham, Devon, and dying in the 1st year of Henry VIII., left two sons, the elder of whom,

John Russell, b. circa, 1485, said to be one of the most accomplished gentlemen of his time, resided at Berwick, about four miles from Bridport, co. Dorset, and obtained a favourable introduction to court through one of those unexpected incidents which may be attributed solely to good fortune. In the 21st of Henry VII. (1506), the Archduke Philip of Austria, only son of the Emperor Maximilian I., and husband of Joanna, dau. of Ferdinand and Isabel, King and Queen of Castile and Aragon, having encountered a violent hurricane in his passage from Flanders to Spain, was driven into Weymouth, where he landed, and was hospitably received by Sir Thomas Trenchard, Knt., a gentleman of rank in the neighbourhood. Sir Thomas immediately apprised the court of the circumstance, and in the interim, while waiting for instructions what course to adopt, requested his first cousin,* Mr. Russell, then recently returned from his travels, to wait upon the prince. His imperial highness, fascinated by Mr. Russell's companionable qualities, desired that he should accompany him to Windsor, whither the king had invited his highness to repair. On the journey we are informed that the archduke became still more pleased with his attendant's "learned discourse and generous deportment," and recommended him strongly to the king. Mr. Russell was, in consequence, taken immediately into royal favour, and appointed one of the gentlemen of the privy chamber. Becoming subsequently a favourite of Henry VIII., and an attendant on that monarch in his French wars, Mr. Russell was appointed to several high and confidential offices, and finally elevated to the peerage, 9 March, 1539, in the dignity of Lord Russell, Baron Russell, of Cheneys, co. Buckingham. (See Dugdale's Baronage and Burke's Reminiscences, Ancestral and Anecdotal.) In the next year, 1540, when the great monasteries were dissolved, his lordship obtained a grant to himself, and his wife and their heirs, of the site of the Abbey of Tavistock, and of extensive possessions belonging thereto. After the accession of Edward VI., Lord Russell had a grant of the Monastery of Woburn, and was created Earl of Bedford, 19 Jan. 1550. In Mary's time the same courtly sunshine continuing, his lordship obtained a new patent, dated 3 Nov. 1553, for the office of lord privy seal, and was appointed ambassador to Spain, to conduct her majesty's royal consort, Philip II., into England. He was also a Knight of the Garter. The earl m. 1526, Anne, dau. and heiress of Sir Guy Sapcote, widow of Sir Richard Jerningham, and relict of John Broughton; and dying 15 March, 1555, was s. by his only son,

* For the early history of the Russells, and their presumed descent from the Du Rozels of Normandy, refer to Wiffins' Memoir of the House of Russell.

* The nephew of his mother, Alice Russell.

Francis, 2nd earl, K.G., b. in 1527. This nobleman, in the 1st of Elizabeth, was sworn of the privy council, and was subsequently a person of great eminence during her reign, lord-lieut. of Devon, Dorset, and Cornwall. He m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Sir John St. John, and sister of Oliver, Lord St. John of Bletshoe, and by her (who d. 27 Aug. 1562) had,

i. Edward, Lord Russell, who m. circa 1571, Jane-Sibella, dau. of Sir Richard Morrison of Cashiobury, Herts, and d. v. p. without issue.

ii. John, summoned to Parliament, after the decease of his brother, as Lord Russell. His lordship m. 12 Dec. 1574, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke, of Gidea Hall, co. Essex, and widow of Sir Thomas Hoby, of Bisham, co. Berks, and d. 1584, leaving two daus., Elizabeth, who d. unm.; and Anne, the wife of Henry, Marquess of Worcester.

iii. Francis (Sir), summoned to parliament as Lord Russell, m. Julian, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Foster, Knt., by whom he had an only son, Edward, who s. as 3rd Earl of Bedford.

iv. William (Sir), distinguished by his eminent service in Ireland, temp. Elizabeth. In 1580, Mr. Russell first commanded 150 horse there, which the clergy of England had raised, for the reduction of the queen's rebellious subjects; and, for his gallantry, received the honour of knighthood. Soon after this we find him in the Low Countries, under Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester. In 1594, Sir William was constituted lord-deputy of Ireland, and for the next two years he was engaged against the rebel O'Madden. On the accession of James I., he was elevated to the peerage, 21 July, 1603, as Baron Russell of Thornhaugh, co. Northampton. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Long, Esq. of Shengay, co. Cambridge, and left at his decease, 9 Aug. 1613, a son, Francis, 2nd Lord Russell of Thornhaugh, who inherited as 4th Earl of Bedford.

i. Anne, m. to Ambrose Dudley, Earl of Warwick.

ii. Elizabeth, m. to William Bouchier, Earl of Bath.

iii. Margaret, m. to George Clifford, Earl of Cumberland.

Francis, 2nd Earl of Bedford, m. 2ndly, 1566, Bridget, Dowager Countess of Rutland, dau. of John, Lord Hussey, and widow of Sir Richard Morison, Knt., but by that lady (who d. 12 Jan. 1600) had no issue. His lordship d. at Bedford House, in the Strand, 28 June, 1585, and was s. by his grandson,

Edward, 3rd earl, b. Oct. 1574; m. 12 Dec. 1594, Lucy, dau. of John, Lord Harrington, and sister and heir of John, 2nd Lord Harrington; but by her (who d. 26 May, 1627) he had no issue; he d. 3 May, 1627, was s. by his cousin (refer to William, 4th son of the 2nd earl),

Francis, 2nd Lord Russell of Thornhaugh, as 4th Earl of Bedford. His lordship was b. 1593, and m. 1608, Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Giles, 3rd Lord Chandos, by whom who d. 29 Jan. (1656-7) he had, with four daus., four sons, viz.,

John, col. in the civil wars, on the side of the king, and after the Restoration, col. of the 1st regt. of foot-guards, d. unm.

Edward, m. Penelope, dau. of Sir Moyses Hill, of Hillsborough, in Ireland, and widow of Sir William Brook K.B., and was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

William, standard-bearer to Charles II., who d. unm., and was s. by his brother,

Edward Russell, "who," says Burnet, "had been bred at sea, and was bedchamber-man to the king (James II.) when Duke of York; but upon Lord Russell's death, retired from court. He was a man of much honour and great courage. He had good principles, and was firm to them." Strenuously supporting the Revolution, he obtained high naval commands from the new king, and distinguished himself as one of the most eminent naval heroes of the period, particularly by his victory over the French fleet at La Hogue, in 1692. He was rewarded with a peerage, 7 May, 1697, as Baron Shingay, Viscount Barfleur, and Earl of Orford. His lordship m Lady Margaret Russell, youngest dau. of his father's brother, William, 1st Duke of Bedford, but d. in 1727, s. p., when the peerage became extinct.

His lordship (Francis, 4th Earl of Bedford) d. 9 May, 1641, and was s. by his eldest son,

William, 5th earl, b. 1613, who, at the Restoration of King Charles II., carried St. Edward's sceptre, was elected a knight of the Garter, 1672; and created, 11 May, 1694, Marquess of Tavistock, and Duke of Bedford, His grace m. 11 July, 1637, Anne, dau. and sole heiress of Robert Carr, Earl of Somerset, by his too celebrated countess, Frances Howard, the divorced wife of Essex. "Francis Earl of Bedford," says Pennant, "was so adverse to the alliance, that he gave his son leave to chose a wife out of any family but that. Opposition usually stimulates desire: the young couple's affections were only increased. At length, the king interposed, and sending the Duke of Lennox to urge the earl to consent, the match was brought about. Somerset, now reduced to poverty, acted a generous part, selling his house at Chiswick, plate, jewels, and furniture, to raise a fortune for his daughter of £12,900, which the Earl of Bedford demanded, saying, that since her affections were settled, he chose rather to undo himself, than make her unhappy. The lady proved worthy of the alliance. It is said that she was ignorant of her mother's dishonour till informed of it by a pamphlet, which she accidentally found; and it is added, that her grace was so struck with this detection of her parent's guilt, that she fell down in a fit, and was found senseless with the book open before her. The duke had issue by this admirable woman (who d. 10 May, 1684) seven sons and three daus., of whom the eldest surviving son was the celebrated

William, Lord Russell, b. 29 Sept. 1639. This distinguished patriot was first returned to parliament for the co Bedford, in 1678-9. His lordship, who took an active part against the court, appeared publicly in the King's Bench, at Westminster Hall, 16 June, 1680, and presented the Duke of York as a recusant; he subsequently carried up the bill of exclusion of his royal highness, at the head of more than 200 members of the Commons, to the House of Lords. He was afterwards indicted for high treason as a participator in the Rye-house conspiracy, and was tried at the Old Bailey, 13 June, 1683, and convicted. He was executed, by decapitation, at Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, 21 July following. Between his condemnation and death, Lord Cavendish offered to change clothes with him in the prison, and thus enable him to effect his escape; but Lord Russell had too much magnanimity to expose his friend to so much danger. The attainder of his lordship was annulled after the Revolution. He m. 1669, Lady Rachel Wriothesley, 2nd dau. and eventual heir of Thomas, Earl of Southampton, lord high treasurer, and widow of Francis, Lord Vaughan, by whom (who d. 29 Sept. 1723, aged 87) he left,

1 Wriothesley, who s. as 2nd Duke of Bedford.

1 Rachael, m. to William, Duke of Devonshire.

2 Catherine, m. to John, 2nd Duke of Rutland.

His grace dying 7 Sept. 1700, was s. by his grandson,

Wriothesley, 2nd duke, K.G., b. 1 Nov. 1680. This nobleman m. 23 May, 1695, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of John Howland, Esq. of Streatham, by Elizabeth his wife, dau. of Sir Josiah Child, Bart. of Wanstead, co. Essex. By this lady, who d. 29 July, 1724, the duke acquired a very considerable fortune, and, 13 June, 1695, was created Baron Howland, of Streatham, co. Surrey. His grace had issue to survive infancy,

Lineage.

The BEDINGFELDS were seated at Bedingfeld, in Suffolk, at or soon after the Conquest. Blomefield's History of Norfolk sets forth their descent from that period, and the public records and family papers fully establish the pedigree therein given.

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, Knt. (son of Sir Thomas Bedingfeld, Knt., temp. HENRY V., and great grandson of Peter de Bedingfeld, temp. EDWARD III., who was in direct lineal descent from the Norman founder of the family), m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Tuddenham, Knt., and sister and co-heiress of Robert de Tuddenham, and acquired with her extensive estates, including the lordship of OXBURGH, co. Norfolk, which has continued ever since the chief seat of the family.* Sir Robert Tuddenham was grandson of Sir Robert Tuddenham, of Oxburgh, by Katherine, his wife, dau. of Sir John Pateshull, by Mabella, his wife, dau. of William Lord Grandison, summoned to Parliament 27 EDWARD I. Sir Edmund d. 1446, and was s. by his only son,

THOMAS BEDINGFELD, Esq. of Oxburgh, m. Anne, dau. and heir of John de Waldegrave, and was father of

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, K.B., of Oxburgh, whose son, by Margaret, his wife, dau. of Sir John Scot,

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, m. Grace, dau. of Henry, Lord Marney, and was father of

SIR HENRY BEDINGFELD, Knt., one of the first who declared for MARY on the death of EDWARD VI., and came to her majesty's assistance with one hundred and forty men armed cap-à-pie, while at Framlingham Castle, in Suffolk. After the accession of the queen, Sir Henry was made knight-marshal of her army, captain of the guards, and governor of the Tower of London; he was also sworn of the privy council. He m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Roger Townshend, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas; and dying in 1583, was s. by his eldest son,

Lineage.

John Hamilton, of Broomhill, natural brother of James, 1st Earl of Arran, had a letter of legitimation under the great seal of Scotland, 20 Jan. 1513. He m. Janet, dau. of Robert Hamilton, of Preston, and had, besides younger issue, two sons, David and John. He d. 1526, and his eldest son, David, of Broomhill, who m. Margaret, dau. of Robert Master, of Sempill, fell at Pinkie 1547, leaving daughters only. John, of Broomhill, who s. his brother, m. Elizabeth Hamilton, heiress of Udston, widow of John Hamilton, of Neilsland. He was s., in 1594, by his eldest son, Claud, of Broomhill, who d. 1605, having m. Margaret, dau. of James Hamilton, of Kilbrackmont, Claud's eldest son and successor, Sir James Hamilton, of Broomhill, Sheriff of Perth, had, by Margaret, his wife, dau. of William Hamilton, of Udston,* four sons: i. John, of whom as 1st Lord Belhaven; ii. James, Bishop of Galloway, in whose favour Lord Belhaven resigned Broomhill in 1669; iii. Gavin, Dean of Raphoe, who m. and had issue; iv. Claud. By a second marriage with Jean Hamilton, heiress, of Parkhead, he had five daughters. His eldest son,

Sir John Hamilton, of Broomhill, afterwards of Beil, was created, 15 Dec. 1647, for his loyalty to Charles I.,

* The pedigree of the family of Udston, is as follows:—

Thomas Hamilton, of Darngaber, 3rd son of Sir John Hamilton, of Cadzow (see Abercorn, D.), had issue by two marriages. James, his eldest son by his first wife (Helen, dau. of Sir Henry Douglas, of Lochleven), acquired Raploch in 1440. William, of Raploch, son of James, was father of James, of Raploch, who m. Isabel, dau. of Weir, of Blackwood, and had five sons, of whom the youngest, John, of Neilsland, m. circa 1530, Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Patrick Hamilton, of Udston (grandson of Andrew, fourth son of Sir David Hamilton, of Cadzow, and Jonetta Keith), from which lady's second marriage with John Hamilton, of Broomhill, the 1st Lord Belhaven descended, as in the text.

John Hamilton, of Udston, eldest son of John of Neilsland and Elizabeth, of Udston, fell at Langside on Queen Mary's side, 1568, leaving, by Margaret his wife, dau. of Sir Robert Dalzell, of that ilk, a son,

William, of Udston. m. Margaret, dau. of Hamilton, of Longhermiston, and had, with four daus., of whom the eldest, Margaret, was mother of the first Lord Belhaven, a son,

LORD BELHAVEN AND STENTON, co. Haddington. with remainder to the heirs male of his body, whom failing to his heirs male whatsoever. Having no issue male, he obtained, on his resignation on 10 Feb. 1675, a new patent with remainder, after his decease, to John Hamilton, husband of one of his grand-daus., and the heirs male of his body, whom failing to that gentleman's nearest heirs male whatsoever. Lord Belhaven m. Margaret, natural dau. of James, 2nd Marquess of Hamilton, and had issue,

I. Margaret, m. to Sir Samuel Baillie, younger, of Lamington.
II. ANNE, m. to Sir Robert Hamilton, Bart. of Silverton Hill, and had, with two sons and three other daus.,

MARGARET, m. to John Hamilton, eldest son of Robert Hamilton, of Presmennan, a lord of Session, of whom presently, as LORD BELHAVEN AND STENTON.

III. Elizabeth, m. to Alexander, 1st Viscount Kingston, s. p.

Lord Belhaven and Stenton d. 17 June, 1679, when the titles devolved, according to the limitation, upon the husband of the deceased lord's granddau., Margaret,

JOHN HAMILTON, of Beil, as 2nd lord. This nobleman was a lord of the Treasury in 1704, and was a zealous and eloquent opponent of the Union, 1706. He had two sons, JOHN, his successor; and James, a member of the faculty of advocates, and solicitor of the boards of Customs and Excise in Scotland, d. s. p. 28 June, 1732. His lordship was committed to the Tower of London, as an ally of the Chevalier St. George, in 1708, and d. of an inflammation of the brain almost immediately after his release, 21 June, in that year. He was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 3rd lord, a representative peer 1715, who having been appointed governor of Barbadoes in 1721, was drowned in his passage to that island. He m. Anne, dau. of Andrew Bruce, merchant in Edinburgh, and had issue, I. JOHN, his successor; II. Andrew, an officer in the army, d. unm. 1736; III. JAMES, who s. as 5th lord; IV. Robert, a major in the army, d. unm. 1743; and I. Margaret, m. to Alexander, and son of Sir William Baird, of Newbyth, bart. His lordship was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 4th lord, who d. unm. 28 Aug. 1764, and was s. by his brother, JAMES, 5th lord, who also d. unm. 25 Jan. 1777, and the peerage remained some years subsequently dormant.

By virtue of an entail of the 2nd Lord Belhaven, in 1701, confirmed by the 5th lord in 1765, the family estates were settled, failing the male issue of the 2nd lord's father, Lord Pressmenan, on heirs female, and that contingency having occurred on the death of the 5th lord, they passed to Mrs. Mary Hamilton (granddau. of James Hamilton, a lord of session, as Lord Pencartland, younger brother of the 2nd lord), who m. William Nisbet, of Dirleton, and are now possessed by her great-granddau. (see ELGIN, E. OF). The family honours, however, were limited to the heirs male of the 2nd lord, and as the 5th lord was the last male descendant of James Hamilton, of Barncleuth, grandfather of the 2nd earl, they devolved, according to the Scottish law of succession by conquest, on the descendants of the younger in preference to those of the elder brother of this James. The common ancestor, John Hamilton, of Udston, had three sons, viz.,

JOHN HAMILTON, of Coltness.
JAMES HAMILTON, of Barncleuth, whose descendant inherited, as 2nd Lord Belhaven.
WILLIAM HAMILTON, of Wishaw, m. 1621, Beatrix, dau. of James Douglas, of Morton, and d. 1642. He had issue,

1 James, d. s. p. before 1654.
2 John, d. s. p. at Gartness, 1666.
3 WILLIAM, his successor. 4 Quintin, d. s. p.
1 Margaret, m. George Cleland, of Gartness.

JOHN, of Udston, b. 1567; m. Margaret, dau. of James Muirhead, of Lauchope, and had,

I. John, of Coltness, father of John, of Udston, who m. Janet, dau. of Archibald Stewart, of Castlemilk, and had, John, of Udston, sheriff of Lanark, whose son, John, of Udston, was father of John, of Udston, father of Alexander, of Udston, whose son, Capt. William Hamilton, 44th regt. voted as Lord Belhaven in 1790, and d. s. p. 1796.
II. James, m. Margaret Hamilton, heiress of Barncleuth, by whom he had,

1 Quentin, of Barncleuth, whose only son, John, of Barncleuth, d. s. p.
2 Robert, a lord of session, as Lord Pressmenan, 1689, d. 10 Nov. 1695, having m. Marion, dau. of John Denholm, of Muirhouse, and had issue,

JOHN, 2nd Lord Belhaven.
James, a lord of session, as Lord Pencaitland, 1712—1729. His grand-dau., who m. William Nisbet, of Dirleton, became heir of entail to the Belhaven estates.

III. William, of Wishaw, for whose posterity see text

WILLIAM HAMILTON, of Wishaw, m. 1st, Anne, dau. of John Hamilton, of Udston, and had, with other children,

I. Archibald, m. Miss Hamilton, heiress of Dalserf, and d. 1732, leaving an only son, William, of Dalserf, who m. a dau. of Sir George Weir, of Blackwood, and d. 1747, leaving a son, Archibald, of Dalserf (who d. s. p. 1769), and a dau., Margaret, m. to James Birnie Hamilton, of Broomhill, who s. her brother in Dalserf.
II. ROBERT HAMILTON, younger, of Wishaw, b. 6 July, 1664; m. 1686, Jean, eldest dau. and heiress of Robert Hamilton, of Brownmuir, and d. before 21 Dec. 1726, leaving four sons,

1 WILLIAM, of Wishaw, of whom below.

William Hamilton of Wishaw d. 1724, and was s. by his grandson,

WILLIAM HAMILTON, of Wishaw, m. Bethia, dau. of his uncle, Charles Hamilton, of Wetherley, and d. 16 April, 1756, s. by his eldest surviving son,

ROBERT HAMILTON, of Wishaw, who, upon the demise of James, 5th Lord Belhaven and Stenton, in 1777, should have succeeded as 6th lord; but he never assumed the honour. He m. 1 Feb. 1764, Susan, 2nd dau. of Sir Michael Balfour, Bart. of Denmiln, in Fife; and dying 27 March, 1784, left issue,

WILLIAM, who had his claim confirmed, as 7th LORD.
Robert, an officer of rank in the army, d. s. p.
Peter-Douglas, d. s. p.
Jean, m. to George Ramsay, Esq. of Barnton, and d. in 1841.
Bethia, m. to William Ramsay, Esq., and d. in 1809.

The title of Lord Belhaven was assumed on the death of the 5th lord, by William Hamilton, capt. 44th regt., lineal descendant and heir male of John Hamilton, of Coltness, the eldest of the three sons of John Hamilton, of Udston; and he voted at the general election in 1790, as Lord Belhaven. An objection was taken, however, to his vote, and his right coming to be discussed by the House of Lords, was held not to be good (6 June, 1793), in consequence of the existence of issue male of the 3rd son of the common ancestor. In 1795 William Hamilton, descendant of the youngest of the three sons of John Hamilton, of Udston, claimed by petition to the king, an after reference to the House of Lords, his claim was admitted (25 April, 1799). He accordingly was,

WILLIAM, 7th Baron of Belhaven and Stenton (his father, Robert Hamilton, being counted the 6th lord, although he had never assumed the dignity). His lordship, who was b. 13 Jan. 1765, m. 2 March, 1789, Penelope, youngest dau. of Ronald Macdonald, of Clanranald, and by her (who d. 5 May, 1816) had issue, Penelope.

Susan-Mary, m. in 1820, to Peter Ramsay, Esq., banker, of Edinburgh, who d. 31 Aug. 1855. She d. 30 Dec. 1856, leaving issue.
Flora, d. 1810.
Jean, m. in 1819, to Rear-Adm. Charles Sotheby, R.N., eldest son of Wm. Sotheby, Esq., F.R.S., of Fairmead Lodge, co. Essex, and d. in 1820.
Bethia.

His lordship d. 29 Oct. 1814, and was s. by his son,

ROBERT-MONTGOMERY, 8th Baron Belhaven and Stenton, K.T., b. 1793, Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, and Lord-Lieutenant of Lanarkshire, who was created a Peer of the United Kingdom, as BARON HAMILTON of Wishaw, 10 Sept. 1831. He m. 16 Dec. 1815, Hamilton, dau. of Walter-Frederick Campbell, Esq. of Shawfield and Islay, but by her (who d. 8 Sept. 1873) he had no issue. His lordship d. 22 Dec. 1868, when the peerage of the United Kingdom became extinct. The Scottish honours were claimed both by James Hamilton (afterwards 9th Lord Belhaven and Stenton) and by the late Lieut.-Col. Robert William Hamilton, who respectively petitioned Her Majesty in 1872 and 1874; and on the report of the House of Lords, 3 Aug. 1875, they were adjudged to the former.

JAMES, 9th Baron, b. 29 Aug. 1822, m. 30 Oct. 1877, Georgina, 4th dau. of Sir John Watson, Bart., of Earnock and Neilsland, co. Lanark, and had issue,

I. Leonore-Agnes-Watson-Nisbet, b. 27 Aug, 1878.

He d. in 1170-71, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

Maurice de Berkeley, b. c. 1120, who m. Alice, dau. of Roger de Berkeley, the former and ousted possessor of Berkeley and Dursley, and had six sons. He d. in 1190, and was s. by the eldest.

Robert de Berkeley, of Berkeley Castle, who espoused the baronial cause, and thus incurred the displeasure of John, but was restored to royal favour; falling again from his allegiance, the castle and lands of Berkeley were seized by the crown, and their profits assigned for the maintenance of the castle of Bristol. He was subsequently, however, put into possession of all his lands except Berkeley Castle. He m. twice, but d. 13 May, 1219, without issue, and was s. by his brother,

Thomas de Berkeley, b. c. 1170, to whom Berkeley Castle was granted in 1223. This feudal lord m. Joan, dau. of Ralph de Somery, Lord of Campden, co. Gloucester, and dying in 1243, was s. by his eldest son,

Maurice de Berkeley. This eminent person had military summonses to march against the Welsh, in the 42nd, 43rd, and 44th Henry III., and the next year he had command to attend the king in London, well appointed with horse and arms, to take part against the barons, then in open hostility; but he appears to have adopted an opposite course, and to have joined the insurrectionary lords, for which his lands were seized by the crown. This Maurice m. Isabel, dau. of Maurice de Creoun, a great baron in Lincolnshire, by Isabel his wife, sister to William de Valence, Earl of Pembroke (uterine sister and brother of Henry III.), and dying 4 April, 1281, was s. by his eldest son,

Thomas de Berkeley, b. 1245, who was with the king at the siege of Kenilworth Castle, Oct. 1266, and afterwards in the Welsh wars; for which eminent services he had a special grant, temp. Edward I., of liberty to hunt the fox, hare, badger, and wild cat, with his own dogs, within the king's forests of Mendip and chase of Kingswood; after this we find him engaged in Scotland, and participating in the victory of Falkirk, gained 22 July, 1298. He was subsequently at the celebrated siege of Caerlaverock, and was summoned to parliament as a Baron from 24 June, 1295, to 15 May, 1321. His lordship m. 1267, Joan, dau. of William de Ferrers, Earl of Derby, and was s. in 1321, by his eldest son,

* For the first Berkeleys, see Burke's Extinct Peerage.

Maurice de Berkeley, 2nd lord, who had summons to Parliament, as Lord Berkeley of Berkeley Castle, from 6 Aug. 1308, to 15 May, 1321. In 1312, his lordship was nominated governor of Gloucester; and in 1314, governor of the town and castle of Berwick-upon-Tweed. In 1315, he was constituted justice of South Wales, and had the custody of all the castles there. In 1319, by the title of the king's beloved kinsman, he was made steward of the duchy of Aquitaine; but in 1321, joining Thomas Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, he was committed prisoner to Wallingford Castle, where he d. 31 May, 1326. He m. 1st, 1289, Eva, dau. of Eudo la Zouche, and by her (who d. 5 Dec. 1314) had, with others,

Maurice (Sir), from whom descended the Lords Bottetourt, the Lords Berkeley of Stratton, and the Berkeleys of Pylle, represented by Viscount Portman.

His lordship m. 2ndly, circa 1316, Isabel, dau. of Gilbert, Earl of Gloucester, who d. s. p. 1333. His eldest son,

Thomas, succeeded as 3rd lord, and was summoned to Parliament from 14 June, 1329, to 20 Nov. 1360. To this nobleman the custody of the unhappy Edward II. was committed at Berkeley Castle; but, owing to the humanity with which his lordship treated the captive monarch, he was soon after obliged to deliver the castle and his prisoner to Lord Maltravers and Sir Thomas Gournay. After the murder of the unfortunate prince, Lord Berkeley was arraigned as a participator in the foul deed, but honourably acquitted. He m. 1st, 1320, Margaret, dau. of Roger de Mortimer, Earl of March, and widow of Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford. She d. 1337, and he m. 2ndly, 30 May, 1347, Katharine, widow of Sir Peter Le Veel, of Portworth, co. Gloucester, and dau. of Sir John Clivedon, of Charfield. She d. 13 March, 1385. His lordship d. 27 Oct. 1361, and was s. by his eldest son by his first wife,

Maurice, 4th lord, summoned to parliament, 14 Aug. 1362. This nobleman attended the Black Prince into Gascony, and was wounded in the celebrated battle of Poictiers. His lordship m. 1338, Elizabeth, dau. of Hugh, Lord le Despencer, and had, with other issue,

Thomas, his successor.
James (Sir), who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir John Bluet, Knt., with whom he had the manor of Ragland, and a fair estate in Gloucestershire. He d. 1404, leaving a son,

James, who s. his uncle as 6th lord.

His lordship was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

Thomas, 5th lord, b. 5 Jan. 1352-3, summoned to Parliament from 1381 to 1415, P.C.; m. 1367, Margaret, dau. and heir of Gerard Warren, Lord De L'Isle, and d. 13 July, 1417, leaving an only child, Elizabeth, m. to Richard Beauchamp, 12th Earl of Warwick.

Thomas, 5th Lord Berkeley, thus dying without male issue, was s. by his nephew,

James Berkeley, who was summoned by writ as Baron Berkeley, 20 Oct. 1421. This nobleman m. 1st, a dau. of Humphrey Stafford, of Hooke, co. Dorset, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Isabel, widow of Henry, son and heir of William, Lord Ferrers of Groby, and eldest dau. of Thomas Mowbray, 1st Duke of Norfolk,* and earl marshal of England, and had, with three daus., four sons,

I. William, his heir.
II. Maurice, successor to his brother.
III. James, killed in France.
IV. Thomas, seated at Dursley, co. Gloucester. He m. Margaret, dau. of Richard Guy, Esq. of Minsterworth, in the same shire, and dying in 1484, was ancestor of Robert Berkeley, Esq., now of Spetchley Park (see Burke's Landed Gentry).

Lord Berkeley m. 3rdly, 1457, Joan, dau. of John, 1st Earl of Shrewsbury (who re-m. 1487, Edmund Hungerford), and d. in 1463, and was s. by his eldest son,

William, 2nd lord, who was created, 21 April, 1481, Viscount Berkeley; advanced to the dignity of Earl of Nottingham, 1483, and created Marquess of Berkeley 28 Jan. 1488-9. The marquess, who was b. 1426, m. 1st, 1466, Elizabeth, dau. of Reginald-Lord de la Warr; 2ndly, 1468, Joan, widow of Sir William Willoughby, and dau. of Sir Thomas Strangways, she d. 24 Feb. 1484; and he m. 3rdly, c. 1486, Anne, dau. of Sir Hugh Fiennes, son of Richard, Lord Dacre (she afterwards m. Sir Thomas Brandon, and d. 10 Sept. 1497); the marquess d. 14 Feb. 1491-2, and, as he left no issue, his own honours ceased; but the barony of Berkeley should have passed to his brother Maurice, had not the marquess, in anger with his kinsman, settled the castle of Berkeley, and those lands and lordships which composed the ancient barony, upon Henry VII., and his majesty's heirs male, in failure of which to descend to his own right heirs. In consequence of this conveyance,

Maurice (3rd baron by right) enjoyed none of the estates. His brother's displeasure was attributed to his having married (in 1465) a person of mean blood, namely, Isabel, dau. of Philip Meade, Esq., an alderman of Bristol. This Maurice obtained, however, his share of an estate which devolved upon him in right of his mother, Isabel. He d. in 1506, and was s. by his son,

Maurice (by right 4th lord), b. 1467, who was made a knight of the Bath at the coronation of Henry VIII. He m. 1484, Catherine, dau. of Sir William Berkeley, Knight, of Stoke Gifford, co. Gloucester, but having no issue, was s. at his decease, 12 Sept. 1523, by his brother,

Thomas (5th lord), b. 1472, who had a command in the celebrated battle of Flodden, fought 9 Sept. 1513, and for his signal services there received the honour of knighthood from Thomas Howard, Earl of Surrey. He was summoned to Parliament, 9 Aug. 1529. He m. 1st, 1504-5, Eleanor, widow of William Ingleby, and dau. of Sir Marmaduke Constable, of Flamborough, co. York, she d. 1525, leaving a son, Thomas; and he m. 2ndly, 1526, Cicely, widow of Richard Rowdon, of Gloucester, and d. 22 Jan. 1532-3, when he was s. by his son,

Thomas (by right 6th baron), b. 1505, summoned to Parliament as a baron, 5 Jan., 25 Henry VIII.; m. 1st, Mary, dau. of George Hastings, 1st Earl of Huntingdon, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir John Savage, of Frodsham, co. Chester; and dying 22 Sept. 1534, was s. by a posthumous son,

Henry, 7th lord, b. 26 Nov. 1534, who on the death of Edward VI., the last male heir of Henry VII., s. as heir to James, Marquess of Berkeley, to Berkeley Castle and Lands. His lordship was made a Knight of the Bath at the coronation of Queen Mary; was summoned to Parliament 1558 to 1606; lord-lieut. of co. Gloucester. He m. 1st, 1554, Catherine, 3rd dau. of Henry Howard, Earl of Surrey, who d. 1596; 2ndly, 1597-8, Jane, widow of Sir Roger Townshend, and dau. of Sir Michael Stanhope, of Shelford, Notts, and dying 26 Nov. 1613, was s. by his grandson,

George, 8th baron, K.B., b. 11 July, 1575, son of Sir Thomas Berkeley, by Elizabeth Cary, his wife, dau. and heir of George, Lord Hunsden. He m. 13 April, 1614, Elizabeth, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Sir Michael Stanhope, of Sudbury, co. Suffolk, and dying 10 Aug. 1658, was s. by his only surviving son,

George, 9th lord, created 11 Sept. 1679, Viscount Dursley, and Earl of Berkeley. His lordship m. 11 Aug. 1646, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Massingberd, Esq., treasurer of the East India Company, and had, with several other daus.,

I. Charles, his successor.
II. George, m. 26 June, 1735, Henrietta, widow of Charles, 9th Earl of Suffolk, and d. 29 Oct. 1746.
I. Mary, m. 1st, to Forde, Lord Grey of Werke and Earl of Tankerville, who d. 24 June, 1701; and 2ndly, to — Booth, Esq. of Epsom, and d. 19 May, 1719.
II. Arethusa, 2nd wife of Charles, Lord Clifford, eldest son of Richard, Earl of Burlington and Cork.
III. Henrietta, d. unm.

His lordship d. 14 Oct. 1698, and was s. by his elder son,

Charles, 2nd Earl, K.B., b. 8 April, 1649, who had been previously summoned to parliament (11 July, 1689) as Baron Berkeley of Berkeley; was lord-lieut. and high steward of co. Gloucester. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Baptist Noel Viscount Campden, and by her (who d. 30 July, 1719) had four sons and three daus. He d. 24 Sept. 1710, and was s. by his 2nd, but eldest surviving son,

James, 3rd earl, K.G., a distinguished naval officer, who had summons to parliament, 5 March, 1704, as Lord Dursley; lord-lieut. of co. Gloucester (1710) and co. Lincoln (1727); Vice-Admiral of Great Britain, &c. His lordship m. Lady Louisa Lennox, eldest dau. of Charles, 1st Duke of Richmond, and was s. at his decease in 1736, by his only son,

Augustus, 4th earl, K.T.; b. 18 Feb. 1715-16. This nobleman distinguished himself as a military officer, and obtained the command of one of the regiments embodied to march against the Scotch and English rebels, in 1745. He m. 7 May, 1744, Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Drax, Esq. of Charborough, co Dorset, by whom (who m. 2 Jan. 1757, Robert, Earl Nugent, and d. 29 June, 1792) he had surviving issue,

I. Frederick-Augustus, his successor.
II. George-Cranfield (Sir), G.C.B., an admiral in the royal navy, and sometime lord high admiral of Portugal; b. in 1753; m. in 1784, Emily-Charlotte, dau. of Lord George Lennox, and dying in 1818, left issue, BIDDULPH.

BIDDULPH, SIR THEOPHILUS-GEORGE, of Westcombe, co. Kent, b. 3 April, 1874; s. his father in 1883 as 8th bart.

Lineage.

The Saxon words—Bidde, or Bida, "prayer, entreaty," &c., and Ulph, "assistance, protection," &c.—of which the surname Biddulph is said to be composed, would indicate that he who first adopted it had been employed in some embassy or mission, to seek aid, and thence acquired the designation. The family is certainly of remote antiquity; and Erdeswick, in his Survey of Staffordshire, says "The Biddulphs derive themselves from one Ormus le Guidon, Lord of Darlaveston, Buckinghall, Biddulph, &c., in Staffordshire, who lived in the time of Doomsday." (For a more detailed account of the Biddulph family, in all its branches, the BIDDULPHS of Burton, Chirk Castle, Ledbury, and Amroth Castle, see BURKE'S Landed Gentry.) A pedigree extant deduces the line from ORMUS to

RICHARD BIDDULPH, of Biddulph, living in 1598, from whom descended

SIMON BIDDULPH, Esq. of Elmhurst, Stafford, whose great-great-grandson, BLAKISTON.

Blakiston, Sir Horace-Nevile, Bart. of London, b. 2 Aug. 1861; s. his uncle as 5th bart. 3 Dec. 1883.

Lineage.

This is a branch of the family of Blakiston, of Blakiston, in the palatinate of Durham, in which there has been previously two baronetcies: one conferred by James I. in 1615; the other by Charles I. in 1642; those honours, however, appear to have expired in 1619 and in 1713.

The immediate ancestry of the present baronet is as follwos:—

George Blakiston, Esq. of Houghall, co. Durham, and Stapleton-on-Tees, co. York, m. 1654, Mary, dau. of Sir John Bourchier, Knt. of Benningborough, and had issue (with two other sons, who d. s. p., and two daus., the younger of whom was m. to James Maria, of London) a third son, BOLINGBROKE.

BOLINGBROKE AND ST. JOHN, VISCOUNT (Sir Henry St. John), Baron St. John, of Lydiard Tregoze, co. Wilts; Baron St. John, of Battersea, co. Surrey; and a Baronet, D.L.; b. in 1820; s. his father in 1851 as 5th viscount.

Lineage.

This family springing in the male line from the PORTS, Lords of Basing co. Southampton at the Conquest, derives, through the female line, from

WILLIAM DE ST. JOHN,* who came into England with the CONQUEROR, as grand master of the artillery, and supervisor of the wagons and carriages; whence the horses' hames or collar, was borne for his cognizance. (Brydges's Collins, Vol. 6, p. 42.) He m. Olivia, dau. of Ralph de Filgiers, of Normandy, and had by her, Thomas, who d. without issue, and

JOHN DE ST. JOHN, who inherited, at the decease of his brother, all the lands in England, and principally the lordship of STANTON, co. Oxon (for distinction from the other towns of the same name, called STANTON ST. JOHN). This John was a person of great eminence in the reign of WILLIAM RUFUS, being one of the twelve knights that accompanied Robert Fitz-Hamon, Earl of Gloucester, in a warlike expedition against the Welsh, and received, "in reward for his great services, and helps in many victories," the castle of Faumont, co. Glamorgan. He had issue, a dau.

* The arms, without the chief (which is the coat of BOEVEY), belong to the other members of the CRAWLEY family.

* The name was taken from the territory of St. John, near Rouen.

Avoris, m. to Sir Bernard de St. Valery, and two sons,

I. ROGER, of whom presently.
II. Thomas, Lord of Stanton St. John, living 13 HENRY II., whose son,

ROGER, was assessed £133 6*s.* 8*d.* for trespassing in the king's forests, 22 HENRY II. The grandson of this Roger,

JOHN ST. JOHN, was killed at the battle of Evesham, 43 HENRY III. He had been in the holy wars with RICHARD I., who, at the siege of Acon, in Palestine, adopted the device of tying a leathern thong, or garter, round the left leg of a certain number of knights (one of whom was this John St. John), that they might be impelled to higher deeds of valour. This is supposed by some to have given the idea of the Order of the Garter.

The elder son,

ROGER DE ST. JOHN, m. Ciceley, dau. and heiress of Robert de Haya, lord of the manor of Halnac, co. Suffolk, a kinsman of HENRY I., and had, with two sons, a dau., MURIAL, who m. Reginald de Aurea Valle, or Orvyle, and had a dau.,

MABIL ORVYLE, who m. ADAM DE PORT, a powerful feudal baron (having the head of his barony at Basing, co. Southampton), and had a son and heir, who, assuming the surname of his maternal ancestors, became

WILLIAM DE ST. JOHN, Lord of Basing, in which lordship and his other territorial possessions he was s. by his son,

ROBERT DE ST. JOHN, Lord of Basing, who, in the 42nd of HENRY III., had summons to be at Chester upon Monday next after the feast of St. John the Baptist, well accoutred with horse and arms to oppose the incursions of the Welsh. From the eldest son of this feudal lord, by Agnes, dau. of William de Cantelupe, JOHN, descended the Lords St. John, of Basing, represented by the Marquess of Winchester.

WILLIAM DE ST. JOHN, of the castle of Faumont, co. Glamorgan, sprang

SIR OLIVER ST. JOHN, who acquired the lordship of Bletshoe, in the reign of HENRY VI., with his wife, Margaret, dau. of Sir John Beauchamp, and sister and sole heiress of John, Lord Beauchamp of Bletshoe, co. Northampton; by which marriage, Lydiard Tregoze came also into the family of St. John. Sir Oliver St. John d. in 1437, and his widow m. 2ndly, John Beaufort, Duke of Somerset, K.G., by whom she had a dau., Margaret, who m. Edmund Tudor, Earl of Richmond, and by him was mother of HENRY VII. From the elder son of Sir Oliver, Sir John St. John, Knt., descended the Lords St. John, of Bletshoe. The 2nd son,

OLIVER ST. JOHN, had the lordship of Lydiard Tregoze, and was, as Leland writes in his Itinerary, a stout black man, and d. at Fontarabia, in Spain. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Lord Scroope, and left, with three daus., an only son,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, chamberlain to Margaret, Countess of Richmond,† mother of HENRY VII., and one of the executors of her will. Sir John d. in 1512, and was s. by his son,

JOHN ST. JOHN, whose son and heir,

NICHOLAS ST. JOHN, Esq. of Lydiard Tregoze, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Blount, of Maple Durham, co. Oxford, and had issue, JOHN (Sir), who inherited Lydiard; OLIVER, of whom presently; and Richard. The second son,

OLIVER ST. JOHN, having the misfortune to kill, in a duel, one Best, captain of the guard to Queen ELIZABETH, was obliged to relinquish the study of the law, and fly the kingdom. Adopting a military life, he obtained considerable renown in the wars of ELIZABETH and JAMES in Ireland, and was eventually advanced to the peerage of that kingdom, as Viscount Grandison, with limitation to the issue of his nephew, Sir Edward Villiers (which Viscounty now merges in the earldom of Jersey), and to the peerage of England, by the title of Baron Tregoze. In the next year, his lordship obtained a grant of the manors of Battersea and Wandsworth; but d. without issue, 30 Dec. 1630, when the English barony expired. The manors of Battersea and Wandsworth he bequeathed to John, the only surviving son of his brother; and upon that brother himself,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, had devolved, as stated above, the estate at Lydiard. Sir John had m. Lucy, dau. and heiress of Sir Walter Hungerford, of Farley, co. Wilts, and had surviving issue,

I. JOHN.
I. Barbara, m. to Sir Edward Villiers, Knt., by whom she had
1 WILLIAM, 2nd Viscount Grandison, whose dau. and heiress BARBARA, m. Roger Palmer, Earl of Castlemaine, in Ireland. She was afterwards created Duchess of Cleveland by CHARLES II., and was mistress of that monarch.
2 JOHN, who s. as 3rd Viscount Grandison.
3 GEORGE, 4th Viscount Grandison.
4 EDWARD (Sir), ancestor of the Earls of Jersey.

Sir John was s. at his decease by his only surviving son,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, Knt. of Battersea and Wandsworth (by the bequest of his deceased uncle, Lord Grandison), who was created a Baronet, 22 May, 1611. This gentleman was zealously attached to the royal cause, and had three sons slain fighting under the royal standard. He was succeeded at his decease, by (the son of his eldest son, Oliver, by Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Horatio, Lord Vere, Baron of Tilbury, which lady m. after his decease, John, Lord Poulet) his grandson,

SIR JOHN, at whose decease, unm., the title reverted to his uncle,

SIR WALTER, M.P. for the co. Wilts. This gentleman, who resided principally at Battersea, m. Johanna, dau. of the Lord Chief Justice St. John; and dying 3 July, 1708 was s. by his only son,

SIR HENRY (bapt. 17 Oct. 1652) who was elevated to the Peerage as Baron St. John of Battersea and VISCOUNT ST. JOHN, 2 July, 1716, with remainder to his eldest son by his 2nd wife, his only son by his 1st wife having already (in 1712) been created Viscount Bolingbroke. His lordship m. 1st, 11 Dec. 1673, Lady Mary Rich, 2nd dau. and co-heiress of Robert Rich, Earl of Warwick, by whom he had an only son,

I. HENRY, b. 1678; the celebrated statesman and writer in the reigns of ANNE, GEORGE I, and GEORGE II, who was created during his father's lifetime, Baron St. John of Lydiard Tregoze, and VISCOUNT BOLINGBROKE, co. Lincoln, 7 July, 1712, with remainder, failing his own male issue, to his father and half-brothers (the children of his father's second wife). His lordship, however, was attainted, 10 Sept. 1715, but, in May, 1725, was restored to his estates though not to his honours. He was twice m., 1st, in 1700, to Frances, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Henry Winchcombe, bart. of Bucklebury, co. Berks, which lady d. issueless; and 2ndly, in 1718, to Marie Claire de Marésilley, widow of the Marquis de Vilette, and niece of the celebrated Madame de Maintenon, which lady also d. without issue, 18 March, 1750. He thus d. childless, 15 Dec. 1751, when, as the second limitation in the patent creating the Viscounty of Bolingbroke prevented the interests therein of his heirs from being affected by the attainder, his forfeited Viscounty revived at his death and devolved on his deceased half-brother's (i.e. the 2nd Viscount St. John's) eldest surviving son, FREDERICK, of whom presently, as 2nd Viscount Bolingbroke and 3rd Viscount St. John. The ancient baronetcy of the St. John's, however (created by JAMES I in 1611), having been inherited by the attainted peer on the decease of his father in 1742, and being unprotected by any such special remainder as preserved the Viscounty of Bolingbroke, was forfeited under the attainder of 1715.
